NAVY ON THE MOVE

Battleships of the Czar Are Still Being Reinforced in the Far East.

CONFERENCE HAS BEEN FUTILE

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

London, Oct. 16.—Following upon a meeting of Japanese naval officers comes the news from the Daily Mail's Hakodate correspondent that unusual military activity prevails in that town; that 100,000 men are concentrated above it. Hakodate is the port which would be used in the event of an expedition being directed against Vladivostock, which is one of the Russian bases in the far east. The fact that such a concentration has been accomplished shows that part of the Japanese army has been quietly mobilized.

A telegram from Chefoo states that grave doubts are felt by the Russians as to the capacity of Port Arthur to resist an attack from land. Russian naval reinforcements are still moving east. The warships aZyan and Czarevitch should be in the neighborhood of Aden.

The British government is sending to the far east the first-class cruiser Europa and a battleship from the Mediterranean, perhaps the Russell, which is one of the best shooting ships in the service. Purchase of Welsh coal is being made for Japan who does not in peace time use that fuel for her fleet, but her own native coal.

Cabling from Weihaiwei this morning the Post correspondent tells of the arrival there of trustworthy news that Japan has landed troops at Ping Yang outlet. It is currently reported that a conference between Russian and Japanese authorities has been futile.

The situation in the far east continues critical. The Japanese government is known to have formulated certain demands, from which it will not recede. Everything now depends on whether Russia will grant them.

Vague assurances in which Russian government deals so lavishly will not be accepted. There will have to be tangible results. What, exactly, is the nature of Japan's demands is not known here, but the points has been reached, in which Russia will have to give way or face the probabilities of Japanese action.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Rear Admiral von Prittwitz, after having been received in audience by Emperor William, returned to Kiel and sailed today on a passenger steamer for Shanghai, where he will take command of the German East Asiatic squadron, succeeding Rear Admiral Geissler. The announcement of this change of command was accompanied by intimation from the navy department that the change would not have been made if war between Russia and Japan was probable. There are 10 German ships in South China waters and three off the Japanese coast.

SHERIFF BUYS RIFLES TO GUARD AGAINST MOB

Greensburg People Think Attempt Will Be Made to Release Kruger.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—Is the Westmoreland county jail in danger of being attacked by a desperate mob and an attempt made to deliver Charles Kruger?

This was the all-absorbing topic of conversation on the streets here today after it was learned that Sheriff John H. Treacher had made a purchase of mob rifles and buckshot cartridges. The first intimation that there was any danger in this line reached the county commissioners' office this morning when a bill for firearms and cartridges was received from a dealer in firearms of Pittsburgh. The bill called for 200 buckshot cartridges and six riot guns at $18 each.

The commissioners were not aware that such an order had been placed and promptly enclosed the bill in an envelope and mailed it to the sheriff.

BISHOP IS UNYIELDING.

Refuses Recognization to a Preacher Who Married a Divorced Woman.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Rev. George F. Kettell, a young clergyman of Baltimore, temporarily residing here, called by a unanimous vote of the vestry to Christ Protestant Episcopal church of Palmyra, is refused recognition by Bishop Scarborough because his bride of a few months was a divorced woman, the former wife of a clergyman, from whom she obtained a decree of separation on the grounds of infidelity.

The bishop says he, himself, will resign, if the vestry does not recede from its position, it having tendered Kettell a call, which he accepted.

Recites His Reluctance to Accept Duty—Obeys Imperative Summons With Humility.

RELIGIOUS ZEAL IS APPARENT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.

The text of the first encyclical of Pope Pius X. reached Washington today. It is dated at Rome, October 4.

Leading Catholics here say the document reveals the personality of the new pope as a written composition seldom pictures the mind of its author. Many will find in it justification for the Malachian motto of the pope, "Ignis Ardens," or Burning Fire. It breathes in every line an intense religious zeal and intimates that the new pontiff is a reactionary from the scientific politics of Leo XIII.

The encyclical is more than 6,000 words in length. After detailing his sense of grief and reluctance to take the papacy, Pope Pius X. utters an eloquent tribute to his predecessor and then proclaims his own policy as follows:

"Since, however, it has been pleasing to the Divine will to raise our lowliness to such sublimity of power we take courage in Him who strengthens us and setting ourselves to work, relying on the power of God, we proclaim that we have no other program in the supreme pontificate but that of restoring all things in Christ, so that Christ may be 'all in all.' Some will certainly be found who, measuring Divine things by human standards, will seek to discover secret aims of ours, distorting them to an earthly scope and to partisan designs. To eliminate all vain delusion for such, we say to them, with emphasis, that we do not wish to be, and with the Divine assistance, never shall be, aught before human society but the minister of God of whose authority we are the depository. Hence should any one ask of us a symbol as the expression of our will, we will give this and no other: 'To renew all things in Christ.'"

The pontiff then deplores what he terms "apostasy from God," and says: "When all this is considered there is good reason to fear lest this great perversity may be, as it were, a foretaste and perhaps the beginning of those evils which are reserved for the last days and that there may be already in the world the son of perdition of whom the apostle speaks."

Continuing, the pontiff discusses conditions and then says: "The desire for peace is certainly harbored in every breast, but to want peace without God is an absurdity, seeing that when God is absent, thence, too, justice flies, and when justice is taken away it is vain to cherish the hope of peace, for 'peace is the work of justice.' There are many, we are well aware, who in their yearning for peace, that is for the tranquility of order, band themselves into societies and parties, which they style 'parties of order.' Hope and labor lost; for this is but one party of order capable of restoring peace in the midst of all this turmoil and that is the party of God."

The pope exhorts the bishops to regard their seminaries for the training of their priests as "the delight of their hearts, and to be careful of the selecting of candidates."

A feature of the encyclical is that it is not sealed with the fisherman's sign, from which it is argued that this relic of the papacy has not been discovered since the death of Pope Leo XIII.

INSURGENT LEADER'S DEATH IS CONFIRMED

Boris Sarafoff, Bitter Enemy of the Turk, Slain October 12 in Skirmish.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SALONICA, EUROPEAN TURKEY, Oct. 15.—The report of the death of Boris Sarafoff, the famous Macedonian leader, is confirmed. An imperial irade has been received here ordering severe punishment to be meted out to soldiers guilty of brutality.

A dispatch from Salonica yesterday said that it was reported that Boris Sarafoff was killed October 12 in a skirmish at Pruva, near Florina.

Boris Sarafoff was the life and soul of the insurgent operations in Macedonia. All his life Sarafoff was an active enemy of the Turk. When he was a boy of 14 he saw his father and grandfather tortured and dragged in chains to a dungeon. He has been described as "the most romantic figure in the Balkans." He was popularly believed and stated to be the real instigator of the abduction of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary in September, 1901, in order to procure through her ransom funds to enable the Macedonian revolutionary committee to organize the insurrection.

In 1895 Sarafoff, after serving as an officer in the Bulgarian army, formed a band to raid Turkish territory. Since then he headed nearly 400 daring raids into Turkey. Once he captured the Turkish town of Melnik with 40 men, putting the garrison to flight. He was only 30 years old.

GIRL STRIKERS STABBED IN RIOT ON THE BOWERY

In Fight Between Union and Non-Union Rag Pickers Stilettos Are Used With Deadly Effect—One Girl May Die—Eleven Others Wounded.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A bloody strike riot occurred on the Bowery at Houston street tonight between union and non-union girl ragpickers from the factory of Steinberg Bros. A dozen girls were stabbed, one perhaps fatally. Many were kicked and pounded and one man was tramped into unconsciousness by a mob of 500 men and boys and carried on their shoulders to police headquarters, where he was presented to the police.

Lena Schwartz, leader of the strikers, was stabbed twice in the throat by a man and may die. Mary Dieps, a strike picket, was stabbed under the right shoulder blade by a woman wearing a white shawl, who escaped. Madeline Barralio was wounded on the hand. The other injured girls were taken away before the police arrived. Four arrests were made.

Fifty girls have been on strike at the factory for a month. Today a committee tried for a settlement with Steinburg Bros., but they refused to recognize the union. One girl threatened to kill them, the members of the firm say.

Tonight half a dozen non-union girls, led by an Italian "strike breaker," coming from West Broadway on a Houston street car to take the strikers' places, were met at the corner of the Bowery by the girl pickets led by Lena Schwartz, and about a dozen non-union girls who had just come from the shop.

"Kill the strike breaker!" a girl shouted. Instantly a dozen stilettos flashed in the electric light and the car was mobbed. There was stabbing right and left.

LARGE FOREIGN ORDER FOR STEEL CORPORATION

Harlan & Wolff Are Said to Have Decided to Buy Material Here.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—On the exchange this afternoon many stocks shot upward with considerable violence. In fact the market fairly boiled. Such sharp advances have not been seen in many a long day. United States Steel preferred made a gain of more than 3 points and common was also strong. A favorable impression was created by a report that the Harlan & Wolf shipbuilding yards would place orders for needed material with the United States Steel Corporation.

None of the Steel Corporation officials now in the city know anything about such an order, but Col. Hunsiker, the foreign agent, was instructed some time ago to go out after just such business. A member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. said this evening that he believed there was good foundation for the rumor. Col. Hunsiker is expected from Europe in about a week and will doubtless be able to throw more light on the report.

Harlan & Wolf have at times been heavy buyers of American products. The Westinghouse company secured the contract of installing the electrical equipment of their shipyards some time ago. The plates of the liner Oceanic, built by Harlan & Wolf, were furnished by the Carnegie Company. It is, therefore, reasonable to suppose that if Harlan & Wolf are buying steel plates outside of Great Britain this order will come to the United States Steel Corporation.

NO ACTION ON CANAL TILL CONGRESS MEETS

President Will Withhold His Decision on Isthmian Ditch for Some Time.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—It has been semi-officially announced that the president will take no action regarding the Isthmian canal and will make no announcement of his intention until after congress meets, when he will dispose of the subject in his annual message. The interim is being used by the advocates of the Panama route to arouse sentiment against turning to the Nicargua route. They argue that it is best to wait and give Colombia a chance to come to her senses.

It is pointed out that the United States should not deal with Colombia in its rejection of the canal treaty, just as it would in the case of any of the great and substantial powers. Had Great Britain, Germany, or France rejected a treaty such as the United States has proposed to Colombia, it would be looked upon as offensive to proceed in a way to indicate that the act was not conclusive or serious. But not so in the case of Colombia where the congress is composed of statesmen of mercurial temperament and revolutionary instincts. Public sentiment there may change over night.

MILLIONAIRE MISSING.

E. L. Wentz of Philadelphia Supposed to Have Been Murdered in Vermont.

BIG STONE GAP, VT., Oct. 16.—E. L. Lentz of Philadelphia, 28 years old, general manager of the Virginia Coal and Iron Company, and himself a millionaire, left here on horseback for Kelleyview, 25 miles west of here, Wednesday, and has not been heard of since. All circumstances point to the conclusion that he has been murdered in the mountain regions.

The horse ridden by Wentz was found Wednesday afternoon and to the saddle was attached the coat worn by the missing man.

SCHWAB'S SECRETARY DENIES NEED OF MONEY

Says Stoppage of Work on Children's Resort is According to Program.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—It was reported today that Charles M. Schwab had stopped all work on the expensive seaside resort on Staten Island that he is building for the poor children. The weekly payroll of workmen is said to be over $2,000. The charity resort was to have been opened this summer. The land for this project cost $1,000,000.

The report of the stoppage of work carried with it a hint that Mr. Schwab needed the money which yet remained to be expended. This was positively denied tonight by Clarence E. Spayd, Mr. Schwab's representative. Mr. Spayd said the resort is practically completed, and that, as it could not be opened for use this winter, it was only reasonable to leave the finishing touches until spring.

"Mr. Schwab intended opening the resort in August," declared Mr. Spayd, "but the labor troubles prevented this. We had two strikes on the place and work was stopped twice. It is foolish to imagine that Mr. Schwab would save money by stopping the work now. The appropriation for the resort was made long ago and has been paid out. The work is by contract. No payrolls come to Mr. Schwab. He has also paid for the steamer to be used in connection with this resort. I haven't been to Staten Island for a week, but if work has been stopped it is entirely within the province of the architect and contractor to so order. Mr. Schwab announced a month ago that the resort, on account of the labor strikes, could not be opened until next summer."

DELAWARE GOVERNOR THINKS HE'S INSULTED

Pennypacker's Refusal to Honor Riley Requisition Papers Is the Cause.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

DOVER, DEL., Oct. 16.—Gov. Hunn of Delaware is in high dudgeon with Gov. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania over what he regards as an insult to him and to the sovereign state of which he is chief magistrate. In dishonoring the Delaware governor's requisition papers for Edward Riley, charged with assault, Gov. Pennypacker returned the papers to Gov. Hunn, with a letter. What this epistle contained is a mystery. There was a hurried conference with the secretry of state, and this letter of instructions was sent to the attorney general:

H. H. Ward,
Attorney General.

Sir—The governor has had returned to him by the governor of Pennsylvania the requisition papers in the case of Edward Riley, with demands that other affidavits be attached thereto—affidavits tending to show the guilt of the accused. "I am instructed by the governor to say that he leaves the matter to your discretion, but with the understanding that he refuses in any way, by implication or otherwise, to give any assurance to the governor of Pennsylvania (which in his letter he seems to demand) that the prisoner will be granted proper protection and a fair trial. The governor considers this very justly a reflection on this state. Yours very truly,

G. R. LAYTON,
Secretary of State.

STEEL DIRECTORS NOW IN THE COPPER COUNTRY

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Oct. 16.—Directors of the United States Steel Corporation passed through Milwaukee on their way to the copper country today, not stopping to make the expected inspection of the Bay View plant. Ore docks and transportation facilities in the peninsula will be examined, it is said, with a view to extensive improvements at lake and mining points.

DOWIE BEGINS HARD BATTLE

Arrives in New York and Announces Determination to Save It.

THIEVES GREET HIM

Barely Arrives at Depot When Daughter Is Relieved of $1,500 Brooch by Pickpocket.

HE ISSUES PROCLAMATION

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

New York, Oct. 16.—The Philistines were ready and waiting when the "Prophet Elijah II." reached New York today on his self-imposed mission of redemption.

Mrs. Carl F. Stern, daughter of John Alexander Dowie and wife of the chief of police of Zion City, was one of the prophet's party in his private car Arcadia. Hardly had the party reached the platform at the Grand Central station and mingled with the throng there when Mrs. Stern discovered that some one had stolen a diamond and pearl brooch valued at $1,500.

The prophet was notified. He received the news with equanimity. It was only an added proof of the wickedness of New York and of its need of redemption. But he showed annoyance when some one suggested that clever crooks from all parts of the country had come to New York and had marked the Dowieites for their own. He did not wish to think that the "restoration host" was confronted with the host of darkness.

JOHN ALEXANDER DOWIE.
Who Calls Himself Prophet Elijah II.

Backed by the "restoration host," which Dowie says is to redeem New York from its wickedness, restore it to Zion and make of it a model for all the cities of the earth, the "prophet" made his first proclamation to the people today through the newspaper reporters. He declared, among other things, that he came solely

TWO FALL DEAD IN HOT BATTLE

Unruly Glassport Negroes the Cause of a Double Tragedy.

CONSTABLE IS KILLED

His Slayer Is Shot to Death by an Officer in a Hailstorm of Bullets.

FUSILLADE IN A BARROOM

In a duel in a restaurant in Glassport last night between two negroes and three police officers, all armed, one member of each party was killed in the hailstorm of bullets. The dead are:

CONSTABLE WILLIAM SHIELDS of Glassport, 44 years old; leaves a widow and three children.

JOHN HOUSTON, a negro, about 20 years old.

The battle began in a room filled with people, and when the fusillade began wild attempts were made to seek cover. No one else was hurt.

During the afternoon William Davidson, a railroader, while walking along the railroad tracks, heard a man sending a dog after him and then felt the dog snapping at his heels. Davidson turned and saw a negro. The dog made a vicious attempt to bite him, and Davidson threw his lantern at the animal. The negro called him a vile name, drew a revolver and fired at him. Davidson was unhurt, but hastily left the scene.

Pursuit of the Negroes.

Davidson reported the matter to Justice of the Peace Pastre of Glassport, who in turn notified Constable Shields. The latter secured Officer Morris and swore in Peter Kelly, a citizen of the place, as a special officer. The three then went to the scene of the trouble searching for the unruly negro. They discovered the negro, who was known about the town as John Houston, inside the Hotel Glassport, in Allegheny avenue. With him was another negro, James Melvin.

The officers approached the negroes and ordered Houston to surrender. Morris caught Houston by the arm and the latter attempted to resist. Shields went to Morris' assistance. Melvin, who was standing nearby, like a flash drew a revolver and fired at Shields. The constable fell to the ground with a bullet through his heart. His companions drew their weapons and opened fire on the negroes just as Houston drew a revolver and fired.

Fought Over Dead Body.

The bar room, which had contained several persons, hastily cleared and the remaining officers and the negroes exchanged shots over the dead constable's body. The room filled with smoke, and it was impossible for any member of either party to discern the figure of an opponent. Protected by the smoke Houston and Melvin left the place and disappeared.

When the smoke had lifted Shields was carried into the store of J. W. Hitchens in Allegheny avenue, where he died a few minutes afterward. The remaining officers made a search of Glassport for the

FIRE CAUSED FOUR DEATHS AND A MILLION DOLLAR LOSS

Main Business Street of Aberdeen, Wash., Wiped Out by Fierce Flames—Dynamite Used to Get Fire Under Control.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ABERDEEN, WASH., Oct. 16.—Fire in this town today caused four deaths and destroyed property valued at approximately $1,000,000. It practically wiped out the main business street of the town, which is built mostly of wood. The dead:

CHARLES RALFO.
DANIEL WEBSTER.
CALVIN M'KENZIE.
UNKNOWN MAN.

Six persons are more or less injured.

Not more than one-half of the loss is covered by insurance, the insurance companies having refused to carry any greater risk on account of the inflammable material of which all the buildings in Aberdeen are constructed. Every business man in the city is a loser either by fire, water, removal, breakage or loss by the fire.

Not anticipating that the flames would get beyond the fire department's control, many waited until the fire was close upon them before starting to move out. The streets were soon strewn and littered with all kinds of material, and the rush and haste of teams and people in every direction caused great confusion.

The fire started in the old Mack building on Hume street, which had been regarded as a fire trap. It was three stories high and was occupied by numerous single men, who cooked their own meals, chiefly on oil stoves. It was in a room in the third story where the flames started, and the interior of the building was a mass of flames when an alarm was sent in.

From the Mack block the fire spread to the fine new hose house and headquarters of the fire department. Great volumes of flames shot into the air and the heat became unbearable a block distant. In a short time the flames had spread across the alley to Walker's saloon, and every building in the block bounded by Heron and F and H streets, including Kaufman's brick building, was destroyed.

Word went along every business street to prepare for the worst, and as far up as the Commercial block there were hurried preparations to get out of danger. On the north side of Heron street the fire jumped from the Anderson block to the State bank and every store from that corner to Hays' bank and all the buildings in the block bounded by Heron, G, Wishkah and H streets were burned, including the Central school building, Pfund's jewelry store, Fuller's store, Brecker's grocery, the city council chamber, Wheler Bros.' store and the express office. George Wolfe's drygoods store in the Weatherwax block went next and then came the destruction of the finely equipped Crescent hotel.

The flames then went across H street to Patterson street and to the Pacific hotel, and this newly constructed hotel was also destroyed. The opera house and all the material and buildings of the new hospital association next burned. In order to stop the further progress of the flames dynamite was used on several of the buildings upon which the flames were advancing. Telephone messages brought the fire departments of Hoquiam and Montesano to the scene, and they did effective work.

All sorts of reports concerning the death or injury of well-known business men were current. Only four deaths, however, are known to have resulted from the fire. The fire started at 9 o'clock in the morning, and it was 2 p. m. before the flames were brought under control.

Aberdeen has a population of about 7,000, and the chief industry is lumbering. Several large fanalies are located in the town, but the fire did not reach them.

HERRICK GREETED BY OLD FRIENDS

Gubernatorial Candidate Overcome by Generous Reception at His Birthplace.

SOUNDS WARNING TO VOTERS

Reminds the People of Ohio That the Result of This Year's Election Will Have Influence on the Next Presidential Contest.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WELLINGTON, O., Oct. 16.—Wellington is the birthplace of Myron T. Herrick, and tonight for the first time since he became a gubernatorial nominee and national figure, he came among his old friends and neighbors, and, therefore, there was a sentiment beyond the mere discussion of political questions in the meeting which he addressed. The kindliness and generosity of the reception so affected him that when an attempt was made to express thanks, Mr. Herrick was overcome with emotion and could not proceed.

With the departure of Senator Hanna as his speaking companion, Mr. Herrick took up the discussion of national questions. "This is a year of deep significance," he said, "and means more than state campaigns usually do. While we have sufficient to attract our attention at home, in keeping Mr. Johnson from fastening his Socialistic teachings upon our body politic, we must not forget that this is the opening battle of the great fight of next year. It has been said that Ohio is the political barometer of the country, and that as this state goes, so goes the nation. If this be so, it is a great compliment to our people, but it also adds to our responsibility. If the result of the election here this fall is to, in any way, affect the result of the presidential election in 1904, then, indeed, should we be careful to see that no mistake is made.

"There can be no denying the fact that under Republican rule, prosperity has always come to the country while under Democratic rule, the reverse has been true. If, therefore, you desire good times, if you do not want to go back to the conditions which prevailed from 1893 to 1897, your course is clear. The Republican party today stands for what it has always stood, equal rights to all the citizens of our country, protection to American industries and American workmen and honest money.

"The Democratic party in Ohio this year stands for nothing which the old and honest Democracy represented. It has drifted away and is following new teachings. Thomas Jefferson and Tom Johnson are as far separated as the poles. One was for Americanism, the teachings of the other are un-American and Socialistic. They strike at the very foundations of our government."

RIVAL GLASSWORKERS TRY TO GET TOGETHER

Burns Prominent in Conference at Cleveland, but Denny Men Here Not Enthusiastic.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—In a fight to a finish, with a determination to stick it out till an agreement is reached, glass workers from rival organizations are still in session here. They hope to heal all differences by mutual concessions. The conference continued today and will be reopened tomorrow. The healing of the breach, Simon Burns says, will mean an advance in the price of window glass, even if the two organizations do not reunite. Burns said tonight that the two would certainly agree on a wage scale, which is the most important thing. There are 10 Pittsburgh men here.

Members of the Denny faction of the window glass workers met last night at No. 1507 Carson street to decide whether their executive officers should be allowed to agree to a merger with the Burns faction. The executive officials of both unions are in Cleveland discussing this proposition.

The debate was heated and President John Phillips, Jr., of the Denny people, was criticised. The executive committee requested that action be deferred until after the Cleveland meeting, but they were overruled. It was decided that the executive board would not be sustained if it agreed to consolidate unless the plan of merging be approved by referendum.

PARIS CHEERED KING.

Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena Royally Entertained by Frenchmen.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena of Italy, escorted by President and Madame Loubet, today visited the mint where medals in commemoration of their visit were struck off. Subsequently the party proceeded to the Hotel de Ville through dense crowds of people, who loudly acclaimed the Italian king.

The dinner given by Foreign Minister Delcasse tonight in honor of the Italian sovereigns was a brilliant function. The guests included President and Madame Loubet, Count Camerini, Russian ambassador to the United States, and Countess Cassini.

PARTIES TO DIVORCE SUIT ARE DEAF AND DUMB

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Unparalleled in the history of Connecticut courts will be the suit of Isaac P. Beach against Grace P. Beach for divorce, if the case is tried. Both are deaf mutes. It is said that the witnesses also are deaf. The plaintiff complains of intolerable cruelty. Mr. and Mrs. Beach were married September 24, 1899, and live in Branford. They are in good circumstances.

SAYS ROOSEVELT IS TRUE FRIEND OF CUBA

HAVANA, Oct. 16.—Sixteen United States artillery officers were entertained here today at a farewell breakfast by Gen. Rodriguez, commander of the Cuban forces, and 50 Cuban artillery and rural guard officers. A number of speeches were made. Gen. Rodriguez referred to what American soldiers had done for Cuba and proposed a toast to the American army and President Roosevelt, "the true and generous friend of Cuba."

REPORTED APPOINTMENT OF HUNTINGDON LAWYER

HUNTINGDON, PA., Oct. 16.—It is reported here tonight that W. H. Woods, one of the oldest and leading members of the Huntingdon bar, has been appointed president judge of the Twentieth district, made vacant by the death of John M. Bailey.

Twins Whipped Slanderer.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—George and William Richardson, twin sons of Dr. Emma Richardson of Camden, today whipped Joseph Taylor, a healthy grocer, for alleged slander. Taylor is in the hospital. His wife is suing him for a divorce and his foreman has had the Richardsons arrested for assault and battery. The twins, who are athletes, had to also whip five of Taylor's clerks.

Employes' Demands Refused.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Negotiations which have been pending for three months between trainmen on the Pennsylvania railroad and General Manager Atterbury have been broken off. Mr. Atterbury refuses to make any concession which might increase the expenses of the company. The grand lodge of Railroad Trainmen has been asked to lend its assistance.

Student Rioters Let Off.

The dental students who were arrested on Thursday for indulging in a class riot were discharged yesterday by Police Magistrate Thomas M. Stewart without being fined. The magistrate told them that class riots might go in small towns, but Pittsburgh was entirely too large for that kind of amusement. If it happened again, he said, he would fine them severely.

Another Graft Case Exposed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A summons has been issued for retired Inspector of Police Walter S. Thompson, who is charged with having extorted $2,500 from Sergeant Thomas F. Gilhooly, who was killed by Jefferson Sanders. The matter came to light by the cashing of a life insurance policy taken out by Gilhooly in Thompson's favor to secure the sum he was to pay for his sergeantcy.

Dr. McClelland Reports to Synod.

DUBOIS, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The sessions of the Presbyterian synod of Pennsylvania were resumed here this morning. Dr. Robert Hunter of Philadelphia was re-elected stated clerk. The Rev. Dr. H. T. McClelland of Pittsburgh read a report on the state of the religion within the confines of the synod.

ALL OPINIONS FAVOR AN AMERICAN DECISION

Canadians in London Give Up Hope in Alaskan Boundary Dispute.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Alaskan boundary commission adjourned today until tomorrow without making any announcement. It is quite true that the general trend of opinion among those connected with the tribunal, aside from the commissioners, is that the ultimate decision will be in favor of America.

Confirming the statement that no decision in the Alaskan boundary arbitration has been reached, the St. James Gazette this afternoon adds:

"There is, however, increasing pessimism in Canadian circles."

Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada, tonight entertained the counsel engaged in the Alaskan boundary case and their wives at dinner in his house. No speeches were made.

SUES THE STRIKERS.

Cleveland Tailor Claims They Have Damaged Business to Extent of $10,000.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16.—A suit was filed today by E. A. Kamerer, a merchant tailor, against the Journeymen Tailors' Union No. 162, and also a number of individual members of the organization for $10,000 damages as a result of the strike of the journeymen tailors in this city.

Kamerer avers he had many contracts September 3, when the tailors went on strike. By picketing his shop and intimidating and beating his employes, the strikers caused him a loss of $5,000, Kamerer said, and he will have a further loss of the same amount.

DIME NOVEL READING CAUSED DONORA TRAGEDY

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—It developed at the coroner's inquest here today that the double tragedy in Donora last night was not the result of a love affair, but was enacted after a peculiar quarrel between the principals, William Swedes, aged 20, or William Frith, and Charles Urban, aged 23. It was ascertained that the fatal quarrel started in a contention as to whether a vapory substance in the room occupied by the men was fog or smoke. Testimony showed that Swedes, who murdered his companion and killed himself, had been a dime novel fiend, and it is thought he was mentally unbalanced as a result of his constant reading of adventurous literature.

PETER ELLIOTT IS SENT TO AN INSANE ASYLUM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Peter Elliott of Minnesota, who was arrested at the White House on the 5th instant, and who made a violent attack upon the officers who had him in custody, today was officially adjudged insane and recommitted to St. Elizabeth's insane asylum. Drs. Vale and Marbury, prison surgeons, testified that Elliott is a paranoiac and is apt to be violent at any time. Elliott was entirely calm during the hearing and did not ask to be heard.

CLASS FIGHT CAUSES ARREST OF FOUR BOYS

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—As a result of a class fight between freshmen and sophomores at the Washington high school this evening, four students, Jesse Irwin, Olin Chamberlain, Ralph Jamison and Earl Bell, were placed under arrest by the local police. When school was dismissed this evening the classes came together. The boys were placed in the borough lockup, but released on forfeits.

RESULT DISPLEASED WOMEN MISSIONARIES

DETROIT, MICH., Oct. 16.—The international missionary convention of the Christian church opened here this afternoon in charge of the Christian women's board of missions. According to the reports, read at the meeting, receipts for the year amounted to $147,086 and while the general work shows expansion the financial results were declared inadequate for the needs of the work already started.

AMERICAN WOMAN INJURED BY FALL IN PARIS HOTEL

PARIS, Oct. 16.—(Special Cable.)—Mrs. Frank Jones of Cincinnati, who is stopping at the Hotel Castiglione with her husband, fell down stairs, breaking the left femur. She will be confined in bed for six weeks. The family has been traveling in Europe since July and were booked to sail Wednesday. On account of the accident their departure has been postponed until the middle of December.

Country Speakeasy Raided.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—County Detective McBeth and three constables today raided a speakeasy near New Salem in Redstone township. The officers found 32 kegs and about 130 bottles of beer, kept cool in spring water. They arrested Dominee Gentillo and are in search of Frank Villella, both charged with selling liquor without a license and on Sunday.

Obershal's Victim Recovering.

Helen Ringl, the girl who was shot by Ladislaus Obershal near Hays Station, has so far recovered that she is able to leave her bed. Obershal, who also shot himself, is better, but will not recover for a week or two. Both are at the South Side hospital.

in his capacity of prophet, and that his mission was the saving of the city.

Prophet's Official Statement.

"Elijah II." modestly proclaimed the purpose of his visit the moment his palatial private car at the head of a special train reached the Grand Central station. He stepped upon the platform and raising his arms until his attitude was that usually attributed to prophets, cried in a sonorous voice:

"New York, lift up thine eyes and behold the liberator who comes to break thy chains."

The prophet was denied the pleasure of riding from the Grand Central station to the Plaza hotel reclining on the luxurious cushions of his silver-mounted victoria and drawn by a span of sorrel thoroughbreds.

The turnout had gone to Weehawken and the inconsiderate railroad people had switched the special train at Albany, so that it came in over the tracks of the New York Central instead of the West Shore. Dowie made the best of it, however, and looked as imposing as he might in a New York Central hack on his way to the Plaza hotel. There sumptuous apartments had been engaged for him, his wife, Overseer Jane Dowie, and his son, A. J. Gladstone Dowie. While the 4,000 members of the restoration host were struggling against the lures of lodging house runners and trying to find hall bedrooms in cheap quarters of the city to which they had been assigned the prophet and his family were resting and partaking of breakfast at the Plaza.

Host Hustles for Food.

When Dowie reached the Madison Square garden, therefore, he had satisfied the inner "prophet" and the outer "prophet" was calm. Not so the members of the host. They had expected to be given breakfast at the garden, having each surrendered $5 for a meal ticket, entitling them to food. They were informed, however, that they would be given no breakfast and that no luncheon would be served. They would have to wait until 5 o'clock this afternoon for dinner. Hungry, they scattered for the nearest restaurants.

After Dowie had inspected the garden he called in the reporters and moved upstairs. He caused the reporters to be seated, but allowed the photographers to stand.

"Take as many pictures as you like," he said pleasantly. Then he ranged his family behind him, his deacons behind his family, and began an harangue. He declared that he had come to New York not as a minister of the gospel, not as an overseer of the Christian Catholic church, but as the Prophet Elijah II.

"I have long considered that this city, which is the metropolis of this great republic, was worthy of the most careful consideration and preparation at my hands," he said. "I have therefore never before sought to establish a branch of the Christian Catholic church of Zion here. I claim the right to speak freely and boldly within the limits of the law.

God the Only Healer.

"A man has a right to pray in his own home and the right to refuse medical treatment in accordance with the Covenant. There is no provision in the ancient dispensation for doctors or drugs. God was the healer.

"I have come to New York in my prophetic capacity. I care not for your smile. I am as indifferent to ridicule as to any other wrong.

"This and much more to the same effect the 'prophet' said.

Dowie then went with his family to his carriage and was driven to the Plaza hotel. The Restoration host was left to fare as best it might. When Dowie first appeared at the garden and ascended the half-finished platform he raised his hand and said:

"Peace be unto thee."

"Peace to thee be multiplied," was the response of his followers.

This was the greeting between them.

"Elijah II." reached the Grand Central station shortly after 9 o'clock. About 50 members of the Zion guard, in blue uniforms resembling those of the United States army, with navy caps, a brass eagle surmounting the vizors, preceded Dowie out of the station. The ordinary Zionists climbed aboard specially chartered street cars in front of the station and were taken to the Madison Square Garden.

Crooks Use Open Sesame.

"Peace be with thee." With this, the Dowie greeting, as the password, crooks from everywhere expect to do a thriving business in rubbing flats and apartment houses. The 3,000 or 4,000 followers of Elijah II. will in a day or two be scattered through flats, apartment houses and private homes all over the city. They will begin shortly, too, their work of house-to-house visitation.

This, the enterprising crooks have decided, gives them a golden opportunity. The second-story man, the sneak thief, the straightaway burglar, the panhandler and every other member of the great army of criminal graft is preparing for a campaign of plunder.

Various schemes have been devised. Some of the crooks will work as individuals. Others will act together. Nearly all, however, will work on one general principle—to pose as Dowieites and "graft" in the name of "Elijah the Restorer." The plan is simple. Armed with "Leaves of Healing," the "Message of Zion," and other Dowie literature, wearing the Zion uniform, and using the Zion speech, they hope to obtain easy access to New York homes.

The police are preparing to give the crooks a warm reception. Special instructions will be given to the headquarters detectives and every effort made to keep the thieves out of the city.

DOWIE PAYS $1,200 FOR PHOTOGRAPH OF ZION CITY

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Resting on a great easel in the George Lawrence Company's studio is the largest photograph on record. It presents every house, street and tree in the radius of two square miles in Zion City. It required a tower 161 feet high to take the view and the result is unusual. The largest picture taken previously was 44½ by 8 feet. This one is 8 feet high and 25 feet long. Dowie, who has bought the picture for $1,200, is going to use it at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Heroic American Hen Defies Fire and Water.

WINSTED, CONN., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A hen owned by John J. O'Brien, a liveryman in Norfolk, passed through fire, smoke and water to hatch a brood of chickens.

O'Brien's livery stable was burning as the hen was "setting" in a barrel inside the barn. The building filled with smoke and the upper part of the structure was soon a mass of flames, but "Biddy" refused to move. The upper part of the barrel next took fire and burned half way down, but the stubborn hen refused to get off her nest. A stream of water hit the blazing barrel, extinguished the fire in it and deluged the hen, but "Biddy" still continued to "set." Today the hen brought out eight chickens and then she left the barrel.

DEVERY HAS AN ENCOUNTER WITH A DOWIEITE DEACON

Bowery Chief and Zionite Exchange Wisdom and Separate Mutually Puzzled—Widely Divergent Views Incomprehensible to Both.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—William S. Devery walked over from the "pump" to Madison Square garden today to inspect the Dowieites. He has a suspicion that they are floaters brought to New York by Tammany hall.

The "Big Chief" was introduced to a deacon of the Dowie forces from Zion City bearing the inflexible name of Hiram Roberts. Devery was smoking a brunette cigar of pronounced obesity. He had just lit it.

"Peace to thee," said Deacon Hiram Roberts.

"Peace for yours," replied Devery, "but what I'm lookin' for mostly is votes."

"Kindly hand me that cigar, brother," demanded the deacon.

"Sure," said Devery, taking his perfecto from his mouth and passing it over. "Maybe you'd rather have a match?"

But Deacon Hiram Roberts didn't want a light. He threw the cigar into the gutter with such force that it exploded.

"Tobacco," announced Deacon Hiram Roberts, sonorously, "is one of the chief evils of the world. Avoid the filthy weed, brother."

Devery laughed and reached for another cigar, but checked himself.

"Say, sport," he said, "in talkin' over subjects such as them I like to have somethin' to dampen my pipes with. Let's go across the street and have a drink."

The deacon was horrified. He told Devery that he had heard of him, and that he had heard of his kind heart. He implored him not to drink liquor in any form.

"Our people," Deacon Hiram Roberts said, "never use tobacco or liquor."

"What do you do?" asked Devery. "Hit the pipe or chew snuff?"

"I know not what you mean," answered the deacon.

"Well, sport," said Devery, "you tell me you're a deacon. Now let me speak to you for a minute. Do you know anything about politics?"

The deacon replied that his knowledge of politics was limited.

"Comin' from where you do," said Devery, "I ain't much stunned, but I'll bet the head push of your organization knows his politics upside down. Now let me put you wise to somethin'. The first thing you know some plain clothes man from Tammany hall will be up here steering your people to vote. Don't you listen to 'em. If you wish to do any reformin' in this town you can start right down there at Fourteenth street and you'll have work enough to keep you busy long enough to make you a legal voter. So long, sport. Don't take no bad money."

The deacon gazed in perplexity at the vanishing form of Devery, stroked his whiskers, and then with extreme dignity stepped out into the gutter and put his heel on the remnants of the Devery cigar.

NEW TURBINE ENGINE

Allis-Chalmers Company Carefully Guards Secret of New Machine.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Despite the weight of 72 years, Edwin Reynolds, consulting engineer of the Allis-Chalmers company, is supervising a new model of turbine engine which is being built in the West Allis shops, carefully guarded from the inquisitive eye.

"No, I cannot tell you anything about it," said Reynolds. "I do not claim the invention of this turbine, and this is nothing new really. Turbines have been experimented with for years. We have a new model which we are working on."

Every effort to gain a glimpse of the new engine fails. The secret is being guarded with the utmost care.

"Turbines promise much," said Mr. Reynolds, "by way of revolutionizing the machinery world, and, of course, we all hope that the puzzle long sought will be solved by the engine we are building."

MINERS WILL UNITE.

Greatest Labor Combination Ever Effected Will Be Perfected in Colorado.

CRIPPLE CREEK, COL., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The greatest labor combination ever effected will be made in the course of a week when the Western Federation of Miners and the United Mine Workers of America will reach an agreement in regard to a basis of operation throughout mining districts wherever there is organized opposition to these two great unions.

This will bring into one great organization nearly 1,000,000 miners in the United States. What the terms are on which the unions have been brought together is not yet given out. President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers' union is coming to Colorado at once and, with President Moyer of the Western Federation, will confer in regard to the perfection of plans which both leaders have in view.

CHAUFFEUR IS HELD FOR KILLING SAMUEL COLLINS

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Joseph M. Curley, the chauffeur employed by Mrs. Phipps of Denver, who is stopping at the Holland house, was held in $1,500 bail today and then remanded for having run down and killed last night Samuel Collins. Mrs. Phipps offered bail, but showed no other interest in the case. She said that as she was not in the automobile it was clearly a matter in which she had no individual interest. Collins kept a tin shop.

VAGRANT WOLFHOUND IS RESTORED TO OWNER

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Czar, a Siberian wolfhound belonging to E. M. Lockwood, secretary of the National Register Company, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market police court this morning charged with being a vagrant. He was turned over to his owner, who had been advertising a reward of $50 for his return during the last two days.

83 PHILIPPINE HEROES BURIED IN ARLINGTON

Indians Ambush Horse Thieves.

GREAT FALLS, MONT., Oct. 16.—A gang of thieves who tried to run horses off the Fort Peck reservation today were ambushed and two of them killed. The Indians engaged in a running fight with the outlaws, driving them off the reservation. The dead men have not been identified.

Mutineers Were Found Guilty.

LEAVENWORTH, KAN., Oct. 16.—All five leaders of the Fort Leavenworth prison mutiny of November, 1901, charged with killing Guard Waldrupe, were found guilty of murder by a jury in the United States circuit court here today, without capital punishment, and will be given life sentences. The prisoners are Gilbert Mullins, Turner Barnes, Frank Thompson, Fred Robinson and Robert Clark, all desperate men.

Lamar Declared Not Guilty.

FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 16.—The jury before which David Lamar, Monk Eastman, Bernard Smith and Joseph Brown were tried, on a charge of assault with intent to kill James McMahon, returned a verdict of not guilty early today. The last named was formerly Lamar's coachman and had had trouble with his employer.

To Establish Recruiting Stations.

Instructions were received yesterday by Lieut. J. G. Muir, in charge of the local recruiting station of the United States Marine corps, to establish sub-stations in Homestead and Youngstown and Canton, O. A non-commissioned officer and a private will be stationed at each substation.

Italians Fought in a Saloon.

Peter Skumar, Louis Bello, Scarpino Carmen and Dominic Stumago, Italians, were arrested in a Brighton road saloon, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. It is alleged the Italians quarreled with three other men in the saloon and drew knives. Policeman Thomas Harlan handcuffed two of the Italians and after a chase captured the others.

Cleveland Back in Princeton.

"Al" Morrow is Indicted.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 16.—Former President Grover Cleveland returned from Chicago today. He said that his trip had been a most enjoyable one and that he was suffering no ill effects from the journey.

SAW ONLY PROSPERITY.

New England Business Man After Trip West Paints Glowing Picture.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—"In all my travels across the continent I never saw such prosperity as during the trip I have just finished," said Vice President Albert Pope of the Pope Manufacturing Company today. "The Pacific coast is loaded down with money. Loans are bringing a higher rate of interest than in the recollection of the oldest business man. Of course, first-class mercantile paper is on a 6 per cent basis, but 8 per cent seemed to be the prevailing rate. Everybody appeared prosperous. All classes of goods are in demand and selling well on the coast. I never saw so many commercial travelers in my life as I met in the hotels of San Francisco, Portland, Oregon and Los Angeles. I counted 50 salesmen in one dining room at a Portland hotel."

MONEY IS IN SIGHT.

English Syndicate Said to Be Ready to Give Funds to Lake Superior Co.

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—Senator Dundurand, who holds an option on the plants of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company in the interests of an English syndicate, arrived in the city today, accompanied by F. H. Clergue. The senator was in cable communication throughout the day with the parties he represents, and states tonight that he hoped to be able to pay the greater portion of the Speyer indebtedness on Monday.

Senator Dandurand also stated that three times during the past summer the Consolidated Company was on the point of securing the money it wanted, when it was blocked by New York interests.

SPECIAL JURY FOR PARKS

His Attorney Made a Claim of Prejudicial Proceedings and Was Rebuked.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—An order granting a motion by the district attorney for a special panel from which to select the jury that is to try Samuel Parks on the charge of extortion from the Tiffany studios was granted today by Justice Newburger in the court of general sessions.

James Osborne, counsel for Parks, in opposing the motion, asserted that the proceedings in this court "like all other proceedings in which Parks has been interested, are prejudical to the defendant." The court ordered Osborne to sit down.

STEAMSHIP BRINGS WHOLE MENAGERIE OVER

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—When the steamship Pretoria of the Hamburg-American line arrived here today, she had on board more than 25 wild animals destined for the Bronx zoo, to which they have been given by Robert S. Brewster. Among them were two giraffes, valued at $10,000, and 12 antelopes.

Smothered in a Freight Car.

While going through the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yards near Grant street early this morning a railroad watchman discovered smoke coming from a refrigerator car. He called for help and had the car broken open. Upon searching the interior an unknown man was found dead in a corner. He had a handkerchief stuffed into his mouth. The fire is thought to have been caused by a spark falling from a pipe which was found near the man's body. The man is thought to have been smothered by the smoke.

Hunchback's Burden Too Great.

CARKILL, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Brooding over his crippled condition Benjamin Brenn, aged 28 years, a hunchback through injuries resulting from a fall from a cherry tree about 15 years ago, drowned himself today in a cistern on his father's premises.

B. and L. Societies May Unite.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Plans to complete a union of the 500 building and loan associations of Illinois, whose combined capital exceeds $40,000,000, were discussed at today's session of the Building Association League of Illinois.

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Which thoroughly cleanse the blood, expelling all humors and building up the whole system. They cure

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are mere testimonials in favor of Hood's than can be published.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

TWO FALL DEAD IN HOT BATTLE

two negroes, but were unable to locate them.

While Kelley was in Hitchen's store, where Shields' body lay, Houston entered and coolly asked for 5 cents worth of tobies, probably thinking the officer would not recognize him.

Kelley, however, recognized the negro, and, catching hold of him, attempted to placed him under arrest. Houston reached for his revolver, but the weapon caught in his clothing and he could not draw it out.

The men swayed back and forth in the store, and finally Houston, drawing the weapon free from his clothing, pulled it out and fired at Kelley. Kelley relaxed his hold of the negro and, drawing his revolver, returned the fire. Both men emptied their revolvers and Houston was seen to stagger and then fall, fatally wounded. He was taken to a nearby store, where he died within a few minutes.

It is thought Melvin made his escape on a freight train, and Officer Morris started on his trail. Chief of Police E. S. McGew was notified and Detective Patrick Morrissey of McKeesport is assisting in the search for the negro.

The coroner was notified and Deputies R. J. Hazlett and J. P. Loughery were sent up to investigate the case. County Detectives John W. Reed and George Schad were sent up to assist the local officer in the search for the missing man.

Many who were nearby during the fight believe it was the outcome of bad feeling existing between the white men and the negroes of the vicinity. There are numerous negroes living about Glassport and of late they have shown a disposition to engage in a fight with white men whenever the opportunity was offered. Houston was seen about Glassport yesterday afternoon in a more or less intoxicated condition and making arrogant remarks to white people.

Shields was 44 years old and was married. He had three children. The constable was well known in Glassport and was a very popular and efficient officer.

When Melvin escaped from the scene of the battle he ran to the railroad a short distance away and escaped on a passing freight train. About midnight a report was received in Glassport that Melvin had been discovered hiding in a shanty at a railroad coal tipple about two and one-half miles north of Glassport, and was being held a prisoner till officers arrived. County Detective Reed and Glassport officers started for the coal tipple in the hope of identifying the man as Melvin.

After the battle it was reported in Glassport that during the evening the two negroes concerned in the murder had gone to the grocery store of P. H. Nicely at Otto, near Glassport, and at the point of a revolver had forced him to give them a dollar.

SEIGNOR DIES; GIRL MAY LIVE

Miss Garrett's Crazed Lover Succumbed to Self-Inflicted Wounds.

DIVORCED WIFE SPEAKS OUT

Mrs. Nellie Seignor Says Beautiful Girl Destroyed Their Happiness—Oliver McClintock and Victim's Mother Deny Shooter's Statement.

William F. Seignor, who shot Miss Amy Garrett, near Edgewood nation Thursday evening, died at the Homeopathic hospital at 6:20 o'clock yesterday morning of wounds he inflicted upon himself with a razor and revolver shortly after he had fired at the girl. Miss Garrett, although in a very serious condition, still lives and may recover.

Mrs. Susan Garrett, the girl's mother, yesterday strongly denied the insinuations against the girl's character contained in the letter left by Seignor. Mrs. Nellie Seignor, the man's divorced wife, however, claims the wounded girl was the cause of her estrangement from her husband and of her asking for a divorce.

Mrs. Seignor lives with her parents at No. 170 Mayflower street, East End. When she learned of her husband's wild crime and his tragic end she wept hysterically, murmuring his name again and again. The woman's maiden name was Cain and she lives under the name of Seignor because she believes the divorce granted her husband in South Dakota is illegal. She has applied for a divorce here, but the case had not come up for trial.

Miss Garrett Caused Trouble.

"I knew Will was crazy," said Mrs. Seignor. "He's been acting queerly for a long time, and now I know he must have been out of his mind to do such a thing as that. Miss Garrett deserved what she got. She's the one who caused all his trouble and all my trouble, and we always got along until she got running after him. I don't sympathize with her at all. She got what she deserved, and it's too bad Will had to kill himself. She broke up our home and worried him crazy. He was never the same man after she came between us.

"Will began to act queerly some years ago. He was running the East End paper, the Journal, then, and Miss Garrett was doing some work for him. I hear that she would go to the theaters with him and they ran around together all the time. And, I think, she did not get worse than she deserved, for a woman has no right to run around with a married man who has a family. Why, they went to the theater together when our baby was only two weeks old."

What Mr. McClintock Says.

Oliver McClintock, by whom Miss Garrett is employed as a stenographer at his place in Fifth avenue, said he though Mrs. Seignor had been misinformed. He went to the Garrett home in Edgewood yesterday morning and talked with members of the family. Mr. McClintock said the girl is not only beautiful and amiable, but also she is most refined and well educated. She is a member of a good family. Her father, who has been dead for 14 years, was a trainmaster on the Pennsylvania railroad. Mr. McClintock says Miss Garrett is not the kind of a girl one would infer she is from the letter which Seignor left. He says she always conducted herself in a perfectly womanly manner. Mr. McClintock is inclined to believe the letters found in Seignor's pockets and signed "Your loving wife," were either written by the man himself or by some other woman.

Mrs. Susan Garrett, the girl's mother, is prostrated with grief over the tragedy, at her home, No. 106 Ivy street, Edgewood. A break-down is being stayed by the hope her daughter will live. She characterizes Seignor's statements concerning Amy as lies, pure and simple, and she refutes them in no uncertain terms.

Seignor Maligned Miss Garrett.

"This man, Seignor," said Mrs. Garrett last night, "has been bothering my daughter a great deal for some time. He used to call on her at our home, but other members of the family were always in the parlor with them. When I learned, two years ago, he was married, I forbade him to come to the house. He came once after that to see my son, and I again told him never to come here again.

"My daughter was devoted to me and was very much attached to home life. She never went out in the evening unless other members of the family were with her, and never remained out over night. She was truthful, and I never found she had deceived me in anything. She never was in the man's employ, and his statements are the result of a crazed mind. He was disgruntled because my daughter did not return his undesirable affection."

Dr. J. H. McClelland and Dr. R. G. Herron are attending Miss Garrett. They refuse any information concerning her condition.

Seignor's body was identified at the morgue by his sister, Mrs. Anna Hains, of No. 2054 Monticello street. He will be buried from there. Seignor's effects are still in the possession of the Edgewood police and Burgess Charles Thorp of that place will turn them over to Coroner McGeary today.

THE AUTO CONTESTS ARE UNDECIDED

No Official Announcement to Be Made on Endurance Run Before November 4.

THE INSPECTORS ARE LENIENT

Machines Delayed by Impossible Roads Get Creditable Showing—Visitors Returned to Their Homes Last Night. Post's Car Starts East.

The name of the winner in the New York-Pittsburgh automobile endurance contest will not be officially announced until after November 4. On that date a meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers will be held in New York, and the records will be tabulated and scored from the road books of the observers and the reports of the inspectors, who will spend several days at Banker Bros.' garage in a critical examination of the various contesting machines. Five cars which had suffered mishaps in the storms in the Catskills reached Pittsburgh yesterday.

The committee will be lenient with those machines which managed to make the run but on account of the bad weather were delayed in reaching the garages on schedule time. It has been declared that practically all the cars under ordinary circumstances would have reached the garages on time. The storm which flooded the whole southeastern part of the state of New York and impeded railroad trains and washed away bridges made it impossible for the stoutest machines to force their way through the impassable roads.

Nine Cars Made Good Records.

Despite all these obstacles, nine cars reached all the garages on time, or within a few minutes of the closing hour. The records indicate that the number of points lost by the nine cars barely exceeded the total which it would have been possible for a single car to have lost on the journey. The cars which met all the requirements, stated in their apparent order of merit, follow:

No. 10, Toledo, operated by George Soules; No. 15, Pierce Stanhope, operated by Percy P. Pierce; No. 6, White steamer, operated by P. H. Deming; No. 14, Arrow, operated by Charles Shoppie; No. 5, White steamer, operated by Webb Jay; No. 18, Rambler, operated by Arthur Gardiner; No. 16, Packard, operated by E. T. Fetch; No. 2, Columbia, operated by B. B. Holcomb; No. 35, Stearns, operated by F. B. Stearns. It is a noteworthy fact that cars Nos. 10, 15 and 14 came through the ordeal without tire trouble.

The points lost range from 13 for the lowest to 378 for the highest. The total number of points lost by the nine cars was 3,558. Of these, 2,552 were due to the cars themselves, 907 to tire troubles and 129 to road conditions, due to no fault of either the operator or the car. An example of some of the unavoidable delays is found in the experience of one operator who spent 10 minutes at 11 o'clock at night in a pouring rain repairing a bridge before he could proceed. Others were compelled to make detours of from one to four miles over mountainous roads in order to avoid washouts.

Records That Were Not Tabulated.

No attempt has yet been made to tabulate the records of the 14 additional cars which for various causes failed to reach the garages before midnight. The report of the inspectors will be made to the management early next week.

The majority of the visitors, including manufacturers, drivers, mechanics, officials and newspaper representatives, left for their homes last night. Early yesterday morning Augustus Post, a New York banker, who came over from New York as a free lance, started back to the east via Bedford, York and Philadelphia. F. B. Stearns will try to make the run to New York via Buffalo in three days and will start back over the same route early Thursday morning, and expects to arrive in Weehawken, opposite New York, on Saturday night.

Five cars which had been lost since the trying plunge down the western slope of the Catskills arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday. At 9:41 a. m. Fredonia, No. 20, driven by F. L. Thomas, reached the garage after a thrilling night ride from Youngstown. Knox, No. 24, driven by J. E. Cowan, reached here at 11:31 a. m., and Knox, No. 25, driven by Frank H. Fowler, arrived 12 minutes later. At 3:20 p. m. Haynes-Apperson, No. 31, driven by H. W. Lanterman, drew into the garage. Columbia, No. 3, driven by Lawrence Duffie, made its way to the city at 5 p. m. His car was caught in the storm a few miles west of Pine Hill and had encountered bad luck throughout the trip.

ENTERTAINED NEW COUPLE.

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. F. Whiteley Make Things Pleasant.

The first few hours of married life of Dr. F. Whiteley, a veterinarian, and his bride, formerly Miss Eleanor Graham, were made lively by their friends and a crowd of sightseers attracted by the doings of the friends. The couple were married on Thursday night by the Rev. T. F. Brown of the Mt. Troy Zion church. When they started for their home, No. 12 Massachusetts avenue, Allegheny, the carriage doors were locked and the couple were bombarded with rice all the way to the house. The doctor entertained the crowd until 1 a. m., and after that the house was cannonaded with tin cans and other missiles.

Yesterday morning the doctor was aroused by a tramp, who obeyed the invitation conveyed by a large sign asking everybody to call. The sign was taken down by the doctor, and after another had been surreptitiously put up and removed the couple was left in peace.

This will be a memorable Saturday at the EXPO—Enormous crowds, overflowing enthusiasm and glorious music by the brilliant DAMROSCH and his magnificent orchestra.

than ever before, it is a matter of Pride to tell you what we think the cause of our success is.

First of all, our

One Price System

That necessarily means the LOWEST PRICE, because a "ONE PRICE" makes it impossible to cut the price one penny, hence we can't tempt you by the dishonest method of making "all kinds of reductions" to get you to buy. That's why prices at our store must be NOTICEABLY LOWER than elsewhere. Secondly—We never resort to trickery as an excuse for "Sacrifice and Bargain Sales." When we advertise a "Special Sale" there is a genuine reason for it. Consequently we don't have Special Sales every other day.

A GOOD PIANO SLIGHTLY USED FOR $90.

Would you hesitate to purchase a good piano if one were offered to you for $90? We think not. This is just what we are offering. And if you see the piano you will buy it. Of course, a new instrument right out of the factory could not be sold for $90, and we do not attempt to say that these instruments are brand new.

But we are selling some really fine pianos, shopworn somewhat and otherwise used for some little time, for $90 and upward, that are really worth several times the prices asked. We could get a great deal more money for them were we not anxious to make room for new goods. The prices do not indicate the high quality of these instruments.

These pianos include the following makes: Schumann, Smith & Barnes, Knabe, Sterling, Arion, New England, Schirmer, McPhail, Willard, Chickering, etc.

A few used Grand pianos are also going at very low prices.

Save Exposition Expenses.

Excursionists are advised that they can do so (most everybody wants to do a little shopping when they come to town) by making their purchases in this store. Many women will have to buy one or several of the following numbers: Dress Goods, Silks, Laces, Gloves, Hosiery, Neckwear—these are all on the main floor, and they are less in price than same quality can be purchased for elsewhere; then on the second floor are the ready-made Suits, the Wraps, the Silk and Cotton Waists, the Underwear, all inexpensive; and there's the Millinery, third floor—many a dollar can be saved by purchasing your hat there.

For men our Clothing Store, fourth floor, and the Furnishing Store, street floor, have many suggestions as to things that are stylish and inexpensive.

For everybody our Restaurant is of great importance—finest appointed public Restaurant in town. And this is a good place to notify everybody who likes oysters that we have the finest Baltimore Shell Oysters that ever came to this city.

Some Plain Words to Women About Their Shoes.

It is a trait of women to desire their feet to look as small as possible; it is the rule, in many cases, for women to call for smaller sizes than their feet can get into; it is the universal rule of some stores to have no size marks on the shoes, thus befooling the purchaser.

In fitting women with Queen Quality Shoes we tell them the exact size, or they can see for themselves by referring to the stencil marks. In no case whatsoever will we give a woman a pair of shoes that are either too short or too long, too wide or too narrow—in other words, we must have something to say about the fit. The reputation of Queen Quality has been made along the lines of gracefulness and comfortableness. Comfort is not allied with an ill-fitting shoe.

Being sticklers for perfect fit, regardless of size or width, we verily believe, has had much to do with the great business we have built up on this singularly perfect shoe.

As most women know, it is an inexpensive shoe possessing all the merits of shoes costing from a half to a dollar more. We are now ready to show some fifty different styles, each style selling for $3.00 a pair.

By way of description take the following:

Women's Queen Quality Shoes of either box calf, stout soles, splendid for long wear—button or lace—$3.00.

Women's Queen Quality Shoes of Dongola Kid, either patent or kid tips, either button or lace—either light, heavy or medium weight sole—$3.00 a pair.

Women's Queen Quality Shoes of Dongola Kid, stout soles—lined throughout with kid—a typical cold weather shoe, lace only, $3.00.

The Queen Quality people manufacture another line of shoes that are no better as to the leather, no more graceful as to fit, no more comfortable than the $3.00 shoe, but on which they put extra touches of workmanship, and for these special numbers the price is $3.50.

For women who insist upon having the finest grades of shoes we carry full lines of the best that can be turned out by fashionable shoemakers. Prices, either button or lace, are $5.00, $5.50 and $6.00.

Children's Shoes are a specialty here, or we might say one of our specialties—the other specialty is to see that growing feet are fitted correctly. In buying shoes for children here parents have unlimited variety from which to choose. Each and every pair of shoes built upon the common-sense principle. The range of prices begins at shoes for the tots, $1.00, and runs along to the shoe for big girls and boys at $3.00 a pair.

Women's New Neckwear.

In this department, where variety is of such constant change, it seems superfluous to speak of anything as new. As a matter of fact, come when you will, there is always something new to be seen.

By the way, the newest feature for trimming gowns this Fall and coming Winter will be ruchings of Crepe Lisse and Chiffon, or rather we should say this ruching will be used for neck and sleeves. Ready with full lines of narrow and wide—either white or black—25c a yard and up to 75c.

Large Lace Collars from $3.00 each up to $6.00.

Large Lace Collars with Stoles—a style that will be extensively used this season—$3.75 each and up to $75.00.

Hand-made Mull and Lace Sets—top collar with cuffs to match, $2.00 a set and up to $6.00.

French Hand-Embroidered Sets—collar and cuffs—$5.00 a set and up to $7.50.

Hand-Embroidered Top Collars, 50c each to $5.50.

Beautiful assortment of neckwear in silk and mull, embroidered effects, 25c and 50c. On special tables today, Fifth street cross aisle.

Black and White Chiffon and Liberty Silk Stoles, $4.50 each and up to $40.00.

New Washable Stocks—white and light blue—$1.00 each.

White Mull pleated Jabots and Stocks, embroidered in colors, $1.00 to $2.50 each.

Taffeta Stocks with Four-in-Hand Ties and Bows, $1.50 each and up to $2.25.

Ostrich Feather Stoles, $18.90 each and up to $125.00.

Marabout Feather Stoles, $8.00 each and up to $35.00.

Veilings in Broad Variety.

Nowhere else can you find such interesting choosing of this indispensable adjunct to woman's toilette. The beauty veil, the face veil, the drape veil are represented. The material by the yard or the ready-to-wear veil. Any favorite mesh and all the wanted designs, dots, stripes or colors. As an index to our moderate prices, look at the following:

50c to $3.00 a yard—a wide price range covering fancy meshes in all black with new designs and dots.

50c and 75c a yard for a new hairline mesh veiling with large velvet dots; also chenille dots in black, navy and brown.

25c and up to $1.00 a yard, as much variety as women could ask for in plain tuxedo veiling.

75c to $3.00 each for Chiffon Veils, 1½ yards long, all colors and styles. Something very fine, Chiffon Veils, 3 yards long, soft finished and hemstitched all around. $3.

$2.00 each and up to $4.00, very latest and best styles in Automobile and storm veils.

The Medium Prices on New Silk Waists.

Today we'll mention but three items in silk waists and those of in-between prices, or as some call it, popular prices. And judging by the lively selling in this department the demand for the separate silk waist is unabated. Our range of styles greater than ever before—color range seemingly unending. If you want a silk waist you're sure to find here just what you're looking for.

$5.00 is our price for a waist of Peau de Cygne in black and colors—tucked and trimmed with crochet ornaments—neat cuff and fancy stock.

$7.50 for a Peau de Sole waist in black or colors—Duchesse yoke and sleeves—a very pretty collar and the garment a perfect-fitting one.

$10.00 covers a wide range of waists of Louisine, either black or colors—small pinch tucks form the yoke—strapped shoulders and full sleeves—new pointed cuffs and neat collar.

Women's Kid Gloves.

Women, in the department devoted to women's gloves, will find every good kid glove that is at all worth having, and we may as well say here that there are a number of kid gloves with high-sounding names that have sought entrance into our glove department, and were denied because they were not worthy. They were not respectable enough to associate with our gloves. A glove sold here must be perfect—as much so regarding our $1.00 gloves as those which are known to be the finest gloves in the world.

And the same remarks hold good as to men's gloves—nothing but best written on each pair sold in the Men's Store.

Women's Kid Gloves.

Of course the finest gloves are those of Reynier and Jouvin & Cie, for both of which we have the exclusive agency for Greater Pittsburg.

Then there are other famous gloves—those of Dent, Fownes, Perrin—all here in their several varieties.

But the greatest pride we have is in our Kid Gloves at $1.00. They are the most perfect glove made for that price, indeed there are many gloves sold for $1.25 and $1.50 that are not nearly so meritorious. For $1.00 we have a two-clasp Glace Glove, two-clasp Mocha, one-clasp Glace, and the new "Slip-On," which is perfect-fitting, although it has neither button nor clasp. Each line comes in black and all colors.

Men's Gloves.

Best $1.00 walking glove for men that $1.00 will buy. We had it made especially for us. Something of a composite glove, the idea being taken from a number of best-known English Walking Gloves. Popular red and oak-tan shades.

Mayor Hays' present position appears to be that he is not opposed to council action on pending business, but he can do nothing to promote it. He has authority to call council meetings and lay any business before it he sees fit, but he shuns the exercise of his authority as if it was the hot end of a poker.

Yesterday's stock markets exhibited considerable strength, attributed to covering of shorts. Probably buying for short account was the immediate cause of the advance, but there were other causes preceding. The stocks have been bought off the market. The condition of the country is good. The liquidation had gone beyond the bounds of reason. Such conditions are unfavorable to continuance of a bear campaign and naturally inspire gentlemen to get to cover after selling what they have not to deliver. An advance due to urgent covering of shorts is an encouraging symptom.

Tonight will witness the first big meeting of the Republican campaign in Pittsburgh this year. It will be held at Old City hall, where able speakers will expound genuine Republican doctrine. Among the speakers will be Adjt.-Gen. Thomas J. Stewart and former Secretary of Internal Affairs Latta, assigned by the state committee. Both are veterans of the civil war and will be greeted by many of their comrades here, who are training with the Republican party for reasons that are well known. There will not be many meetings during the campaign, for the Republicans feel that the voters of Allegheny county are already fully informed of the reasons why the Democratic-Citizens party, with its unfulfilled platform pledges, should not be given an extension of power.

On another page we print an extract from the Wall Street Journal, discussing the slump in stocks in its relation to the policy of President Roosevelt and the natural conditions of finance. The Journal is not political and not much interested in the re-election of President Roosevelt, but it takes the common sense view of events as opposed to that propaganda led by the New York Sun, which assumes that the president has been the cause of the wholesale liquidation in stocks. In fact, the Journal asserts that the remedies are mistaken by that propaganda for the disease they are intended to cure, and there is much to support that view. At any rate the Journal's comparison of dates makes an interesting bit of reading when the stock market appears to have struck bottom.

The capture of Herrman in the mountains of Negros completes the failure of a strange criminal undertaking. Inspector Herrman and Supply Officer Johnson of the Philippine constabulary were Pennsylvanians and enlisted in the regular army in Philadelphia. They had good records in the regular service, but their opportunities as officers of the constabulary appear to have been too much for them. They embezzled funds of the Mindanao government, and seizing a native boat started out to be pirates. They were attacked by the native owners of the boat, Johnson was killed in the beginning of the fight, but Herrman fought ferociously, killing four of his assailants and driving them off. He was stabbed in the neck during the struggle and abandoning the boat he took to the mountains. A portion of the stolen money was found in the boat with a heap of dead bodies, and more of the money was found in Herrman's possession when he was captured. In the days before steam some successful piratical adventures used to start in this way, but now that every sea is patrolled by steam vessels, open piracy is about as crazy an undertaking as could occur to a criminal imagination.

President Lambie has issued a call for a special meeting of select council on Monday. The call is general, including all business pending before that body, and Monday afternoon will afford the crucial test of whether the Democratic-Citizens intend to redeem their pledges, as demanded by the Orphans, or whether they have merely been piling fresh promises upon those which went to seed in the past. The general call will admit of the adoption of the linear license tax—which is of uncertain legality and at best a poor bluff at fulfillment of pledges—and the recall and adoption of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances upon which great improvements and the employment of much labor depend. It has been announced that Chairman Murry Verner, for purposes of his own, will prevent the attendance of a quorum at the meeting to make sure that the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances are held up. If he does so he will give the exact measure of the Democratic-Citizens organization. If he permits the meeting and causes the continued hold-up of those measures the demonstration will not be less complete that his organization has no care for the public interest and that the Orphans are being fooled by a pretense at passing one ordinance out of the several demanded.

An intimate friend of Mr. Bryan, Prof. James W. Bradshaw of the Iowa Commercial college, is authority for the statement that Mr. Bryan, while unchanged in his own views, admits that free silver is a dead issue and that it is not likely to be considered by the Democratic convention. This tallies with Mr. Bryan's own editorial utterances in his paper. For some time past he has ceased to mention free silver and taken up the arguments of the old greenback party, instead of urging free coinage, Mr. Bryan now urges that the national bank note circulation should be superseded by government issues of greenbacks. Just how the government issues are to be put out and gotten into circulation he does not state, although that is such a vital point that he will have to attend to it. In starting this line of agitation Mr. Bryan derives considerable help from the present attitude of influential banking interests. In the October number of the North American Review, Mr. William A. Nash, president of the Corn Exchange bank of New York, argues that a national debt ought to be retained in permanency to supply a basis of bank note circulation. No proposition that could be advanced is so hopeless as that, and any serious effort to adhere to such a policy would give a new start to Bryanism, even if Bryan himself leaves the stage. Bryanism may be defined as sentimental treatment of practical issues, and there appears to be a good deal of that sort of thing in quarters from which the public might reasonably expect expert advice as to practical measures.

A Laughing Matter.

It adds somewhat to the gaiety of the rather quiet political campaign in Pennsylvania that its Democratic sons of thunder, who scare at the shadow of national issues in the Keystone state, go hunting in the jungles of New York along with the Tammany tiger with the purpose of convincing the unwary that the future of the Democracy of the United States depends upon the election of a Tammany Democrat to be mayor of the metropolis. If we were to take the word of the Pennsylvania member of the Democratic national committee for it, as expressed in platforms made and provided by him for passage by the Democratic state conventions of 1902 and 1903, national issues have no proper place in any except national campaigns. But if we take his word and deed in conference and cooperation with the Tammany boss of New York City even municipal campaigns involving the purely local issues of good police service, suppression of graft and gambling, abolition of red-light districts, clean streets, school houses equal to the demands of educating the children, etc., etc., should be invariably conducted with a view to strengthening the party for the presidential campaign, and should therefore be fought on national lines only, regardless of how local interests and morals may suffer.

There is apparent inconsistency in the attitudes in this state and in New York of the spokesman for the Democracy of Pennsylvania, but the seeming inconsistency and conflict are easily reconcilable on the hypothesis that he proceeds on the principle that the interests of the Democratic party are best served by fronting one way in Pennsylvania and another way in New York. The gusher prince of Texas and of the war-born state of West Virginia, whose grasp of political questions is as comprehensive as his business affiliations are widespread and various (this, by the way, is no jolly, but a cold truth), is aware that Pennsylvania is not a debatable state on party issues, but that New York is fighting ground for both parties, even if the advantage is with the Republicans. He knows that the state of William Penn and Samuel W. Pennypacker, which holds the Liberty bell in its eastern metropolis and the last relic of Fort Duquesne in the city at the forks of the Ohio, is over its whole expanse of territory and the majority of its people devoted to the promotion of progress and prosperity—only to be captured in whole or in part by the Democratic party, or its Republican majority so reduced as to encourage the Democracy of the nation, through processes of subtlety and guile. He knows that New York is different and that the bold dash may count for something there, where as here it would merely stir the Republican pulse, make the Republican heart beat faster, arouse the spirit of the people and make the Republican majority rise skyward until the man in the moon would be able to read and record and learn that things were going right in at least one part of the United States of America. Therefore, in Pennsylvania the Democrats move with catlike tread in the presence of national issues and nimbly side-step anything that seems to temp an expression on them, but in order that their pent-up feelings may be given the vent that may prevent an explosion, they are sent to New York to voice the thought they dare not make public at home. From which the voters of Pennsylvania who have not, however, been deceived, may once more gather that the wisdom of the Democratic serpent is not combined with the harmlessness of the dove.

Mr. Charles F. Murphy, who is the Tammany boss of New York, has a personally conducted candidate for mayor in George B. McClellan. The mayor of New York is Seth Low, who was elected on a reform ticket to cleanse the city from the filth of Tammany rule. He has been succeeding admirably and is a candidate for re-election. Tammany's malodorous record rises in the nostrils of the people of the metropolis as a warning to them to bar out the tiger and the tiger's cub, and Mr. Murphy is endeavoring to overcome the stench and sweeten the political breeze with the issues of a national campaign. He is endeavoring to give the man he has chosen to represent him in the mayor's chair a standing with the anti-Tammany Democrats as prospective nominee of the Democratic national convention for the presidency. It is an appeal to local party pride designed to quiet the public conscience and make it forget that proper pride which boasts itself of a clean city and well governed, and Pennsylvanians answer the summons to give the appeal effect and impart to it a national character to the end that the people of New York may be deceived. There is a loud beating of the presidential tom-toms and a blare of national convention trumpets and the red light of party enthusiasm, in the midst of which the Democratic statesmen of this commonwealth are paraded before the audience with party banners flying and shouting party slogans, which are really only noise, for the Democratic statesmen are not yet certain what principles they will advocate in 1904. They are first in the parade of statesmen from abroad, exhibited for the purpose of giving Tammany a fresh grip on New York and re-establishing graft and the gamblers, and they are fresh from their preachment of reform in Pennsylvania under their non-partisan auspices. The dispatches tell us that the colonel and J. K. P. were there, and with them Col. Fitzsimmons of Scranton, and that they met with Mr. Murphy and his campaign committee to arrange that there should be oratory in Gotham, in advocacy of the election of a Tammany red-light mayor on a platform of national issues by Robert E. Pattison, who tried to fool the people last year by running for governor on a platform that ignored national issues as wicked deceptions in a state campaign; by William U. Hensel, former attorney general of Pennsylvania, who showed in the last campaign how easy it would be to make perfectly constitutional senatorial apportionment of the state by leaving out one district, and by Robert E. Wright, who wrote the platform on which Mr. Pattison stood, and who agreed that it was really immoral to intrude national questions where no votes could be gained, but many lost by them. "Democrats everywhere," remarked Mr. Murphy, after his conference and arrangement with the Pennsylvanians, "are intensely interested in this campaign, and are hoping for a Democratic victory because of the bearing it will have upon the next presidential campaign."

But what's the odds? The people read the papers and they know what's what and who's who. They are up to snuff, and the statesman who sticks his head in the sand, leaving his tail feathers waving in the air, may convince himself that he is running the whole political show under ground, and that no one can make out just what he is at, doesn't deceive anyone. A man can't have his head under cover in Pennsylvania and scratch gravel in New York undetected. So far as the people are concerned it is all in the open and their sense of humor is equal to a proper appreciation of the whole entertaining display. It is to laugh and laughter is an aid to digestion.

The Business Situation.

The prominent features of the week have been a slight easing of the money market in the east and the turn in the stock market. Both will have a tendency to restore general confidence in the future and check the curtailment of business operations that has been going on for some time. There is an abundance of money in the country for the transaction of ordinary business, but owing to the inelasticity of the currency system a demand for speculative purposes, which draws heavily from the ordinary channels, leaves mercantile and commercial enterprise without adequate accommodation, or, on the other hand, an urgent demand from these sources creates parlous conditions for loan investors in securities. In addition, prosperity operates to lock up money in the United States treasury when it is most needed elsewhere. These factors have caused the stress from which the country has been suffering, especially since the demand began for currency to move the crops. The easier conditions may be partly due to the fact that crops are moving, though the movement is inordinately late and is unusually slow, the western producers being apparently financially strong enough to await their own time for marketing their product.

The financial strength of the agricultural regions is a good augury for trade. Those regions will not be compelled to abate their purchases of machinery or staples, as they usually are in periods of depression, or of financial panic. They can be counted upon for a healthy buying throughout the year and this should go far to restore wholesome industrial activity. Not merely the farmers, but the people generally are in such prosperous circumstances that retail trade is not likely to feel the pinch beyond the extent due to economizing when the skies are the least bit unpromising. There has been some contraction in wholesale lines and manufacturers have prepared for a smaller autumn trade than was enjoyed last year. It is only a halt, however, and with the good groundwork for continued prosperity it should be only temporary. When the crops are moving freely and the export movement is well under way money should become easier than it has been for more than a year, the liquidation in Wall street having enormously reduced the amount necessary there to carry the volume of new securities.

The approaching holiday buying season will assist in reopening the trade channels and putting hoards in circulation. In fact, every year the gift-giving season tends to put back into active circulation and to convey to the banks sums that have been abstracted during the year for holiday purposes, while the good cheer assists in clearing away doubt, which is the bane of business at all times. The effort of President Gompers of the Federation of Labor to settle the building trades troubles in New York is a recognition of one of the most powerful factors in bringing on the depression. It is not probable, however, that building activity can be restored on the old plane. Persons who have had their plans disarranged by labor troubles are now apt to wait for somewhat lower costs of both material and labor before proceeding again. This is probably the least favorable condition affecting general business that is in sight.

Railroad traffic continues heavy. There has been a slight abatement in the eastern section, but an actual increase in the west and south. Gross earnings keep pace with the volume of traffic and net earnings tend to show some increase out of proportion, the roads having shown some disposition to curtail expenses in advance of the necessity for so doing. A compilation of over 90 railroads throughout the country indicates average gains in net earnings for August, over the same month of last year, of more than 16 per cent. Missouri Pacific led the list with a gain of $295,000 for that month.

The report yesterday that a British shipbuilding company had contracted with the United States Steel Corporation for all the iron and steel it will need during next year was greeted as an indication of coming exports of manufactures. The lean years following 1893 taught American manufacturers the road to foreign markets. The growth of the trade was slow. Now the road is well known and the slackening of domestic demand is hardly felt until the foreign invasion is begun. The bars have been put higher to protect the German market, but Joseph Chamberlain has not been quick enough to keep American steel out of England, and the paths to Africa and Asia are pretty well worn.

The Democratic newspapers are out of temper because the congressional leaders talk of standing pat. The leaders, however, are studying to please the people and not the Democratic newspapers.

Of course, John Bull didn't want that strip of barren, desolate, ice-bound and mosquito-bitten coastland anyway. He just wanted to saddle the cost of the fences on Brother Jonathan.

The Wilkesbarre man who drew a royal flush at poker and dropped dead from excitement may be held up as a horrible example, but there are others who are willing to run the chances.

The Massachusetts Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution has accepted a design for a tablet to be placed in the Boston public library in commemoration of early composers of American patriotic music. The inscription states that the society, "in grateful recognition of the inspiration of patriotic verse and song, commemorates the following names: William Billings, Oliver Holden, John Howard Paine, Samuel Francis Smith, Francis Scott Key and George Frederick Root."

THE LITTLE COUNTRY PAPER.

When the eventu' shades is fallin' at the endin' o' the day,
An' a feller rests from labor smokin' at his pipe o' clay,
There's nothin' does him so much good be fortune up or down,
As the little country paper from his Ol'
Home
Town.

It ain't a thing o' beauty an' its print ain't always clean,
But it straightens out his temper when a feller's feelin' mean,
It takes the wrinkles off his face an' brushes off the frown,
That little country paper from his
Ol'
Home
Town.

It tells of all the parties an' the balls of Pumpkin Row,
'Bout who spent Sunday with who's girl an' how th' crops'll grow,
An' how it keeps a feller posted 'bout who's up an' who is down,
That little country paper from his
Ol'
Home
Town.

Now, I like to read the dailies an' the story papers, too,
An' at times the yaller novels an' some other trash—don't you?
But when I want some readin' that'll brush away a frown
I want that little paper from my Ol'
Home
Town.

Good sense, which only is the gift of heaven,
And though no science, fairly worth the seven.
—Pope.

If everybody had good sense—as good as you have—what a splendid world this would be.

And yet, were there none inferior to you how could you make your superiority apparent?

Maybe it is better as it is.

No doubt you sometimes wonder why there are so few sensible people, and as you wonder a feeling akin to lonesomeness comes over you.

Have you ever figured out how many besides yourself would be left in your community if all except the really sensible were taken away?

Of course you wouldn't think of giving out your figures for publication, but you can write them on the wall, where none may notice or understand save yourself.

* * * * *

Nature always has been most profligate in the reproduction of species. Of a thousand seeds that sprout in the field less than a hundred develop full grown stalks; one perfect tree to a hundred that started at the same time is a fair average; and so on through the vegetable kingdom.

Nor is she less wasteful of human life. Were all to live a full term of years that are born into life, the world would have been filled to overflowing long ago, or long ago that there would have been no room for you.

The next time you pass through a grove of fine trees, or a splendid bit of woodland, make a note of the number of perfect trees. Or note the number of perfect apples on a branch; or compare the number of perfect flowers on a stalk with the imperfect. You will be surprised to find so many imperfect, and so few perfect.

* * * * *

Where do you find the most perfect flowers, shrubs or trees?

Where they have been cultivated carefully and intelligently, of course.

Not only have the imperfect and undesirable been cultivated out, but others, which might have turned out to be sadly defective, have been cultivated into very attractive specimens.

You are very careful to remove all defective plants from your choice flower beds, only allowing them to grow in out-of-the-way places. There they grow, but being overcrowded and not cultivated, make but a poor showing alongside of your carefully selected and well cultivated plants. Yet, every now and then you discover one towering up above the mass that surrounds it which you cheerfully transfer to your choice collection.

The chrysanthemum of which you boast on account of its wonderful size and color has been developed from a tiny shrub bearing a flower seldom larger than a clover blossom.

* * * * *

Out of the great human mass there emanates a man or woman who is well worthy of being transferred to your set, and sometimes they go beyond it, much to your surprise.

Nature is just as profligate of human life as of vegetable life, and of the great mass the fittest survive—which not always the most attractive, good and useful. Fitness to survive means vigor, hardiness and persistence. These contain the elements necessary to the perpetuation of life, besides being subject to culture.

Now, there you are.

Among the hordes of those whom you call the unfit there are always a few who only need a little care and culture to develop them into your class, with now and then one that develops into a wonder.

Eye nature's walks, shoot folly as it flies,
And catch the manners living as they rise;
Laugh where we must, be candid where we can,
But vindicate the ways of God to man.
—Pope.

The human race will never be perfect. The world will ever be half filled, or more, with the imperfect, the improvident and the poor. At least it will be so as long as there are imperfect trees, plants and flowers, because the same general physical laws govern all. A writer in the Pacific Rural Press says concerning the poor and unemployed:

"They are men who have failed in the competitions of life, possibly from causes which they could not control, and for which they are not justly to be blamed, but usually from causes growing out of some inherent and essential inferiority as compared with men in general. There are, of course, exceptions, but in 19 cases out of 20 the man who is habitually unemployed is a man lacking either physical power diligence, practical intelligence, sobriety, reliability, the judgment to apply his forces wisely or to prudently take care of the results of his efforts. It is very commonly a proof of his want of prudence and of his lack of manly self-control that this chronically unemployed man is the husband of a spiritless and broken wife and the father of a disorderly and unthrifty brood of children."

Happiness is, or should be, the aim of every human being, for that is the food of the soul. Sadness and sorrow and envy and jealousy are its poisons. Therefore the proper, and the only really profitable thing to do is to study and strive to be happy.

And just here it is proper to observe that wealth does not bring happiness. It is always burdened with cares and sorrows, besides being surrounded with an atmosphere that stifles soulful impulses and benumbs the finer and more humane sensibilities.

Here follow a few lines taken from a sermon delivered by the Rev. N. D. Hollis:

"Next to the art of living justly and kindly with our fellows comes the art of maintaining a life of happiness and tranquility. For the soul was made for joy and good cheer. Life is a school, labor and sorrow, victory and defeat, toil together as teachers, but happiness is life's aim and graduating point.

"Next to the duty of self-denial comes the duty of delight. Depression and worry take the nerve out of man's arm, take the edge from his mind, rob life of its victory. For unhappiness wins no battles, gloom and wretchedness invent no tools, write no dramas. Earth's great achievements represent those whose hearts sang over the task.

"To meet storm with calm, defeat with faith, ingratitude with charity, is not an easy thing. Nothing requires so much wisdom, practice and skill as learning how to live habitually above the distemperatures of life. It is not by chance that the love of mirthfulness and good cheer is wrought into the very fiber of man's being.

"Ours is a joyful universe, and what God thinks of happiness is proclaimed by His carolling birds, His singing brooks, the happy beeves, the golden nuds, the smiling babe, the deep joy in its mother's eyes, the sweet, serene light that glows upon the face of the aged saint and seer. Happiness is the grace man says to his God."

Jingoism in Canada.

Why should Canada go to the trouble and expense of maintaining, as the Canadian ministry proposes, a militia force of 100,000 men? What nation but the United States could possibly invade Canada? The United States has not the remotest idea of making war on our northern neighbors, but if we should ever come to blows, 100,000 men would be utterly inadequate to defend the Dominion, which is peculiarly open to attack. Canada would have an immensely long line of defense which could be pierced at a score of places. Gen. Sherman once said that Canada was within our lines, meaning that the Dominion was indefensible against us. We fear that Canadian jingoes are getting the better of Laurier's judgment, and are inducing him to gratify their taste for militia glory. The Canadians are a brave and hardy people, and capable of excellent soldiership, but they have a consuming love of titles, and "colonels" are almost as common in Canada as they are in Kentucky.—Boston Transcript.

Praise for the Ball Players.

After a season of professional baseball, during which there have been altogether too many lapses from orderly and gentlemanly conduct on the part of players, the champion teams of the two big leagues have engaged in a series of games for the championship of the world, and fortunately there has been no suspicion of disorderly or rowdyish behavior. The rivalry has been keen and the outcome uncertain, but spectators and players alike have displayed a gratifying spirit of sportsmanship and good temper has prevailed. We should all be ready to give even the professional baseball player his due.—Providence Journal.

Plucky Autoists.

The hardy travelers in the endurance journey of automobiles to Pittsburgh have proved themselves men of mettle and pluck. Much buffeted by storms, sufferers from many accidents not caused by any fault of their own, most of them have adhered unflinchingly to their self-imposed task, and merit no small degree of praise; and they haven't run over anybody.—New York Tribune.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—It is characteristic of the American people that they enjoy being fooled when the trick is done smartly. New York is laughing over the neat way in which Senator Platt put everyone on the wrong scent with regard to his wedding. Up till noon yesterday it was confidently supposed that he would be married yesterday at the Marble Collegiate church, and at least 100 cameras were cocked and primed outside the Holland house waiting for him and his bride, the bridesmaids, the ushers, the servants, the bellboys, the carriage openers and everyone else connected in any way with the ceremony, however remotely. There would have been a great snapping of lenses and the senator would have been pictured from endless points of view. He knew that as well as anyone. While he is not the kind of man to object to publicity under ordinary circumstances, he determined that this was one occasion when it would be more convenient to keep the public out of his confidence. He is said to have enjoyed himself excessively yesterday afternoon as he watched the crowds in Fifth avenue from the window in his wife's boudoir in the Holland. As for the wailings and roars of disappointment in the street when it was learned that the wedding took place last Sunday, they are indescribable. The wonder is that the secret could be so well kept when at least a score of persons must have been privy to it. But it was done somehow and when the senator and Mrs. Platt left town for Lakewood yesterday no one seemed to know they had departed until they were half way to their destination. Now the first surprise is over everyone is complimenting Senator Platt on his shrewdness.

Stock Exchange Discipline.

It is a matter of some satisfaction to the public when the New York stock exchange gives an example of its jealousy of its good name by barring from its floor some member who is even slightly under suspicion of improper dealings. Three members of one brokerage firm have been ordered to keep off the floor pending an investigation. Regardless of the merits of the case, which will be passed on by the board of governors, the fact that extreme measures have been taken is a guarantee to the outside speculator which he cannot but appreciate.

Columbia University Hangs Her Head.

Columbia is in disgrace. Not on account of any general demerit in the class room or because it has shown a lack of appreciation of lectures by the faculty. It is worse than that. The football team has not been doing as good work as its coach, the astute Morley, believes it is capable of and he has given them a dressing down that made their ears tingle. He thought their showing against Swarthmore on Wednesday was disgraceful and he told them so. There has been better playing since, with Morley keenly watching every move. Columbia must be well up in the list of college teams at the end of the season or there will be all kinds of trouble on Morningside Heights.

Heroic Methods Needed in Gotham.

Tammany policemen this morning proved their superiority to "Zion guards," when the vanguard of Elijah II., Dowie's restoration host of Zionists, marched into Manhattan. The guards—good-looking fellows in neat uniforms—tried to make their way through the mob with their watchword, "Peace be to thee." The crowd appeared to be mystified, and jammed closer against the army, which, marching two and two, with a preponderance of women in the ranks, was trying to get away from the Grand Central station. It looked as if there would be a complete stoppage of the procession. Probably there would have been but for the New York police. A squad of burly gentlemen in the civic blue and brass, with clubs in their hands, buried themselves into the crowd, and there was a lane cleared at once. The policemen did not say "Peace be to thee." They had a more effective shibboleth in the shape of "g'wan now; take it on the run." The Zion guards looked on thoughtfully.

The Zion Fulding Baby Carriage.

One of the Dowie women brought a folding baby carriage with her from Chicago. She wheeled it along with a baby in it until she got to a street car. Then she folded the carriage, so that it was no more cumbersome than a camp stool, and took it into the car. The incident proved that the Dowieites are not blind to the value of portability in traveling.

"Mississippi Ed" Told to Move On.

"Mississippi Ed," who was arrested south of the "dead line" in this city yesterday, was set free in the Tombs police court this morning on his promise to get out of town at once. He said he would go to New Mexico, where he has friends. "Mississippi Ed" was at one time a pal of "Hungry Joe," and the police know him as one of the slickest confidence men in the business. He ventured into Maiden lane, the wholesale jewelry district, yesterday, and was picked up by two detectives forthwith. Superintendent Byrnes arrested him several times when Byrnes was the head of the New York police, but could never prove a case against him. He made a fortune as a gambler on the Mississippi steamers years ago, but spent all his money. It was his career on the river that gave him his nickname.

Meat Takes Another Aerial Jaunt.

Meat has gone up in price within the last few weeks—about 3 cents a pound all around. It is charged that the beef packers are responsible. All meats and poultry have risen and boarding house keepers and restaurant managers are talking about raising the price of meals. It is remembered by the unhappy New Yorker who has to depend on such sources for his daily food that prices were talked when the talk about the operations of the beef packers was heard a year ago and that few of them dropped their rates when the butchers let down their prices. In the homes of the poor the tension in the meat market has been felt as severely as usual. Even fish has gone up in sympathy with meat.

Belmont Holds Key to the Situation.

Motormen on the "L" protest against the physical examination recently ordered by the company, but there is little talk of striking. It is hoped that an interview of their representatives with August Belmont will adjust the difficulty. The men are not eager for a tie-up, with winter almost here.

Rejoicing on Cherry Hill.

"Monk" Eastman has been receiving the congratulations of his friends on Cherry Hill today. Few of them expected their leader to escape conviction at Freehold in the McMahon case, so that when he appeared on the "hill" this morning in high feather there were multitudinous felicitations, with appropriate liquid accompaniments. Eastman feels that he has been illused, but Police Inspector McClusky will keep an eye on him, nevertheless.

Miss Anthony to the Rescue.

Women are taking an active part in the municipal election. Miss Susan B. Anthony has always been personally interested in the welfare of New York city and she thinks its interests would be subserved if women were allowed to vote. She will address a mammoth meeting—at least it is intended to be mammoth—on election day in a hall in this city, when she will give some peppery advice to all who may be present. She does not like Tammony and is always for reform, but woman suffrage is first with her now, as it has been any time this last half-century.

The Jillman Verdict.

The acquittal of James H. Tillman is equivalent to a declaration that hereafter a free press is impossible in South Carolina, and that an editor who criticises a public official may with impunity be slain in cold blood. The jury which set free the cowardly politician who shot down Editor Gonzales must be taken as the authoritative exponent of South Carolina justice and morals.

It is hard to imagine a more atrocious act than was this homicide. Tillman was lieutenant governor of South Carolina, a man identified with the most evil elements of ruffian politics. Gonzales was the editor of the State, published in the capital of South Carolina, a citizen of high standing and an uncompromising enemy of political corruption. In the performance of his duty as a journalist and citizen Gonzales vigorously attacked the lieutenant governor and succeeded in defeating his political ambitions. * * * Tillman's counsel read Gonzales' editorials, written many months before the homicide, to prejudice the jury, and appealed with the old "fire-eating" eloquence to their political passions, and the jury after something like 20 hours' consideration acquitted the prisoner.

It was John Seldon, the great English law writer, who said that "equity is according to the conscience of him that is chancellor, and as that is larger or narrower so is equity." The final standard by which every community must be measured is the attitude of its juries toward the laws and toward human life. Judged by that simple rule, the acquittal of Tillman is the conviction of South Carolina as a barbarous commonwealth, a disgrace to American civilization.—New York World.

\+ \+ \+ \+

The jury in the Tillman case has found Editor Gonzales guilty of the mistake of having gone about unarmed and having failed to shoot first. It has declared, in effect, that shooting on sight isn't homicide, even when the shooter is in no imminent bodily peril from the shootee. The verdict is practically an invitation to the clan Gonzales to institute a feud with the clan Tillman. It is a notification to the world that the state of civilization in South Carolina is on a par with that of the island of Sardinia or of Afghanistan, where the vendetta still flourishes and private war is still regarded as the proper means of settling differences or avenging real or imaginary grievances. In this category South Carolina will remain as long as the "code" shall be put above the law.—Philadelphia Record.

\+ \+ \+ \+

South Carolina has now fully established her claim to being a part of the United States where murder goes unpunished and where murderers are looked upon as respected citizens. Anybody who wishes to indulge in a little private carnival of assassination should move to the old south state; no jury will convict him there, if he has money or is a "gentleman"—God save the mark! Jim Tillman has been found not guilty.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

\+ \+ \+ \+

The plea of self-defense on which he relied for escape was shown to be groundless by the overwhelming weight of evidence on the trial. The verdict of acquittal is as indefensible as the plea was hollow, and is well calculated to bring reproach upon the community where it was rendered as well as upon the jury. Not the least discreditable aspect of the trial is that the result confirms the boast of Tillman and his friends that he would be acquitted.—New York Herald.

\+ \+ \+ \+

The acquittal of Tillman is the conviction of South Carolina. In popular estimation she has long been bracketed with Kentucky as the home of political murder, but the latter state has recently taken pains to show the country that politics and homicide do not necessarily go hand in hand. It was hoped that South Carolina would follow the example set by Kentucky in the White-Jett trial, but the Palmetto state is still wedded to its belief that all's fair in political war, even assassination.—Cleveland Leader.

\+ \+ \+ \+

We do not believe that even South Carolina will accept responsibility for Tillman's crime by continuing to honor Gonzales' assassin. Since last January Tillman has not been in public office. South Carolina will be ashamed before the country if it does not condemn the slayer of N. G. Gonzales to as complete obscurity as it is possible to envelop him. If murder goes unpunished in South Carolina, at least it need not be honored.—Philadelphia Press.

\+ \+ \+ \+

A South Carolina jury has put a brand of infamy and shame upon the state in acquitting James H. Tillman of the charge of murdering N. G. Gonzales, editor of the State. By what course of reasoning they arrived at a verdict so utterly at variance with the facts we have not yet learned and are not over-confident of ever being able to comprehend. If there ever was a cold-blooded, cowardly, premeditated murder committed it was the shooting of Editor Gonzales by Lieut.-Gov. Tillman—and this observation is based on the story of the assassination as related during the trial by eye witnesses of the tragedy.—Utica Observer.

\+ \+ \+ \+

The victim of the murder now justified by a South Carolina court was one of the chief influences for good in the public life of the state; in a peculiar degree were the people bound to punish his slayer. Good citizens throughout the land, in their concern for the vindication of the rights of a free press and in their indignation at an enormous miscarriage of justice, execrate, abhor, abominate the verdict that set James H. Tillman free.—Philadelphia Ledger.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Life will be more unsafe, property will be more insecure, local public opinion will be more degraded, in South Carolina, and the shame of sister states will be intensified, by the acquittal of "Jim" Tillman.—New York Mail and Express.

The President's Safety.

While no precautions for guarding the president at the White House should be omitted, and new ones should be added from time to time, those already in force work almost automatically in holding up cranks. Judging from what appears in some papers and from expressions overheard in conversation, says the Boston Transcript, there is a popular impression that anyone who so desires can walk right up to the president without undergoing any examination. This is an error. It is quite an ordeal to reach the president, the visitor having to hand in his card or give his name, after which he is required to pass the silent inspection of a number of attaches. These attaches include some of the quickest of crank detectors. It has been suggested that there should be a detail of soldiers on duty at the White House at all times, a kind of emergency guard. If there is any need of such a force we see no reason why the president, as commander-in-chief, has no power to employ it without additional legislation from congress. There was a proposal before congress for the establishment of such a guard, but it came to nothing. It was antagonized mainly by the opinion that its real end was the creation of a guards regiment, in imitation of the costly corps that look so impressive in European palaces and are of very little real military value.

LAMBIE ISSUES CALL TO SELECT

Tax Ordinance Not Mentioned and Any Business May Be Taken Up.

SESSION SET FOR MONDAY

Advocates of Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Have Opportunity to Call Up Their Ordinances First—Citizens May Stay Away from Meeting.

President John S. Lambie last evening called a special session of select council for Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The call is of a general nature, no specific ordinance being mentioned. It simply states that the object of the meeting is to "consider business pending in select council." This will permit a motion to withdraw the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances from the corporations committee and to pass them before the linear tax ordinance is acted upon, if the upper branch sees fit.

President Lambie's call means that if there is a quorum next Monday afternoon the meeting of select council will be thrown open to a battle for and against the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances. John A. Murphy is determined to present a motion to withdraw the ordinances from the committee, and if President Lambie recognizes him first Mr. Murphy will be able to force the Citizens to either vote for the withdrawal or to go on record against the measures. The Citizens leaders are known to be opposed to the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances for personal reasons, but, in view of the fact that they are acceptable to the public, do not want to openly oppose them.

The general opinion, therefore, is that the Citizens will stay away from the meeting Monday to prevent a quorum, unless they receive assurances from President Lambie that he will not permit the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance to be taken up first.

Call Disappoints Both Sides.

The general character of Lambie's call made it a disappointment to both the advocates of the linear tax ordinance and the advocates of the Baltimore & Ohio measures. The linear tax men naturally wanted the meeting called specifically to consider their pet bill, while the Baltimore & Ohio advocates claimed to have good reason to believe that Lambie would call the meeting to consider their bills and the tax measure, but would mention the railroad ordinances first in the call.

If President Lambie would rule that the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances were not "pending in select council," or if he would fail to recognize first an advocate of the railroad bills, the way would be paved for the passage of the tax ordinance and the immediate adjournment of the council afterward.

Hays Refused to Issue Call.

Mayor Hays yesterday announced that he would not call a special session of select council, giving as his reason that there was no public necessity for doing so. The "orphans" were very much displeased by this. W. H. Stevenson, C. S. Crawford and others at first not crediting that he had refused.

It was learned yesterday that the Citizens managers had asked the Baltimore & Ohio officials to postpone action on their ordinances until after the election, promising the passage after that time, but there was no indication that the gold brick was accepted by the railroaders.

It was also stated that the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company had been asked to make a contribution of $25,000 to the Citizens campaign fund, but had refused, and that for this additional reason the Citizens bosses were more than ever determined to prevent the passage of the ordinances.

"It is queer," said President Lambie yesterday, "that the 'orphans' would come to me, as they did, redhot for a meeting of select council so that they might vote the Citizens ticket, although I am a Republican and have always voted the Republican ticket."

W. H. Stevenson repeated the assertion yesterday that the "orphans" not only demanded the passage of the linear tax ordinance, but also the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance and the amendment and passage of the Pennsylvania ordinance. He said the "orphans" still insisted that the Pennsylvania ordinance be amended to provide joint use of the proposed Duquesne way line and to pay the city compensation for the franchise.

Thieves, Not Samaritans.

John Ruman awoke yesterday morning with a bad pain in his head and to find himself in a police station. The pain came from a blow from a handbilly in the hands of a man whom Ruman supposed to be his good Samaritan, but who turned into a thief. Ruman came from Uniontown Thursday night. At South Twenty-third and Railroad streets three men accosted him and told him to beware of bad negroes who infested the neighborhood. While he was thanking them for the caution one of them hit him on the head with a blackjack. He learned that a policeman found him there with his pockets turned inside out and his money, $60, gone.

Corporations Granted Charters.

The state department at Harrisburg yesterday granted charters to the following neighboring corporations: The McIlvaine Furniture and Hardware Company, Munhall, capital $20,000; the Auto Traffic Company, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; the Paulton Coal Mining Company, Leechburg, capital $10,000; the Industrial Savings and Trust Company, Pittsburgh, capital $25,000; the Munhall Borough Water Company of Homestead, capital $5,000; the Interurban Water Company, Homestead, capital $5,000; the Homestead Borough Water Company, Homestead, capital $5,000; the West Homestead Water Company, Homestead, capital $5,000.

A HAPPY EVENT.

Employes of K. Solomon & Co. Present a Floral Loving Cup to Their Firm—James Francis Burke Makes the Presentation.

To Celebrate the Early Closing Movement.

One of those happy events which happen none too often in the intensely severe and practical round of modern business life occurred last evening in the big store of K. Solomon & Co., Smithfield and Diamond streets.

Just after 5:30 o'clock, when the doors close on the day's business, all the employes of the firm gathered on the first floor o fthe building and formed an attentive and interested assembly, while James Francis Burke, in their name, presented a magnificent floral loving cup to the members of the firm.

This occasion was to memorize and testify to the firm's liberality in voluntarily shortening the hours of the store on Saturdays. Heretofore this store, like many others, has remained open until 10 o'clock on Saturday nights. Commencing tonight the closing hours will be 6:30 on Saturdays; on other days, 5:30, as usual.

All of the employes in the store joined in this demonstration, and about 500 of them filled the available space on the first floor last night, while many more had to satisfy themselves with positions of vantage on the stairways, etc. James Francis Burke spoke in his best humor and paid a glowing tribute to the firm of Solomon's and a neat compliment to the faithful employes who had made themselves worthy of such liberal treatment. Mr. Jacob Bibro, junior member of the firm, accepted the token in a few well-chosen words which showed how deeply he felt the kindliness expressed through the event.

The loving cup is a beautiful floral design, unique in conception and stands about six feet high. The employes of the house have asked permission to place this thing of beauty in one of the Smithfield street windows of the store, where all those in Smithfield street today may see it. The loving cup is accompanied by a handsomely executed memorial, patterned after a resolution, setting forth the facts of the event, and this is an important document in the history of Pittsburgh's business progress.

ABSURD REPORTS ABOUT WORK OF INSPECTION

Visit of Steel Corporation Officials Said to Mean Big Reduction in Carnegie Wages.

The absurd reports which have been started by the inspection trip of the United States Steel Corporation officials reached the climax yesterday when a special telegram to the New York Evening Post stated that the officials decided to make a cut of from 15 to 25 per cent in the wages paid at the Braddock and Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel company.

The fact that the Steel Corporation officials do not have any connection whatever with the operation of the plants of the company and that many of the visitors do not know the difference between the wages of a roller and the poorest paid man in the plants, did not make any difference to the writer.

It is considered practically certain that there will be wage reductions at the Carnegie plants effective January 1. The required notice of three months was given October 1. Just what these reductions will be will not even be settled until the officers of the Carnegie Steel company take them up in December. It is not considered likely that lower wages will be paid at the Carnegie plants than elsewhere in the corporation, but the old agreement required the posting of the Carnegie notice.

It was stated yesterday that 60 employes in the general offices of the Carnegie Steel company, mostly clerks and stenographers, were dismissed indefinitely. This is the result of the general slackness of the work of the company and follows naturally the decreased production. The men who have been let out for the present will be favored when the demands of the company again require employes to fill the same places.

ROGERS-BROWN ESTIMATE OF PIG IRON SITUATION

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—In their weekly review of conditions in the pig iron and coke market, Rogers, Brown & Co., say: "Following the announcement of the dissolution of the Southern association, pig iron sellers and buyers are alike waiting for the outcome. With the freedom to make prices as may seem best, the members have not yet announced any cuts nor have large transactions at reduced figures been brought to light. The actual change seems to be that now a situation is recognized which has heretofore existed. The trade is waiting for developments. At the same time we must recognize that the accumulated southern stocks, of which so much is made, would disappear promptly if buying should be resumed at a rate to meet the normal requirements of the foundrymen."

CANTON CAR PLANT IS APPRAISED AT $109,571

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The appraisement of the plant of the Structural Steel Car Company at Canton, O., has been filed. The total value is placed at $109,571. The buildings and real estate are valued at $30,000. There are unpaid stock subscriptions that are considered collectable to the amount of $25,000. The total indebtedness of the company as reported is about $80,000.

CREDITORS GAVE TIME ON PECULIAR BASIS

Probing of the Dresser Bankruptcy Develops Condition That Was Unexpected.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The hearing of Dresser & Co., the bankrupts before Referee Dexter today attracted considerable attention through D. LeRoy Dresser's connection with the financing of the United States Shipyards corporation. The firm failed in March, 1903, and in April Dresser offered to pay his creditors if allowed to continue business, offering as security a deposit of guaranteed securities of the value of $50,000.

It now comes to light that the receivers when they accepted Dresser's offer did not examine the securities, and a subsequent investigation proved them to be unlisted mining stocks of trifling face value. However, from the testimony given today it appears Dresser & Co. did not know the nature of the deposit made, it being tendered by members of the Staten Island Realty Co., who agreed to re-establish the Dresser credit in return for the flotation of the realty company's bonds. Dresser & Co. were also to receive a large block of stock for their work. Milton C. Quimby, one of the realty company's promoters, gave extensive testimony concerning the securing of men to deposit the stock and C. W. Youngman, president of the Corporation Finance Company identified the bundle of certificates deposited. The hearing was continued to a later date.

NINE CLERKS DISCHARGED.

Were No Longer Needed in Allegheny Treasurer's Office.

City Treasurer Andrew L. Robinson of Allegheny discharged nine clerks in his office yesterday. They were Charles F. Beckfield, H. J. Folmer, Charles Gerst, George Gerst, M. E. Diebold, T. D. Leckey, J. M. Lowry, Charles Bepler and H. E. Speidel. Mr. Robinson stated that as the September installment of taxes has been paid, and the delinquent tax collector's books have been balanced and turned over to Delinquent Tax Collector Harry M. Davidson, there is no work in the office for the clerks discharged.

Charles Gerst, T. D. Leckey, J. M. Lowry, Charles Bepler and H. E. Speidel will go to work on Monday as clerks in the city assessor's office.

Strikers Willing to Confer.

Puddlers of the Moorhead mill, Sharpsburg, met yesterday afternoon in the Mt. Olive Baptist church. The men struck yesterday against a reduction in wages from $6.25 to $5 a ton. A committee was appointed to confer with John Moorhead.

...VING INTO NEW ANNEX

Patients Can Now Receive More and Better Attention in the Municipal Hospital—Making Good Use of an Extra Appropriation.

The Allegheny health authorities are a little worried over their failure to stamp out smallpox in the city. Although there has been no unusual spread of the disease, the fact that it has abated but little in the past two months is a matter of some concern and steps are being taken this week to effectively wipe out the scourge.

There are 22 cases in the municipal hospital and less than this number in various parts of town. For two days past the work of removing the patients in the pest house to the annex, just completed, has been going on, and by today the old building will be empty. Supt. James McLaughlin said yesterday that the old house will be thoroughly renovated and put into first-class condition. The new building has accommodations for 75 patients and is modern in every respect.

It has been made a rule that the clothes worn by a person on first being taken in must be given to no other patient, but must be kept for the use of the one first wearing them after they have been washed each day. After the patient has been released or has died his clothes and bed clothes will be burned. The fact that cleanliness discourages smallpox is considered in enforcing this rule, and Supt. McLaughlin expects good results from its introduction.

Since councils granted the health bureau $25,000 to be spent in putting down smallpox, the authorities have been enabled to accomplish much. The city physicians are vaccinating in all parts of the city, and Supt. McLaughlin said yesterday that no expense would be considered in the fight against the disease.

"We realize that now is the time to get control of the situation, as it will not be so easy in colder weather," said Mr. McLaughlin yesterday. "Stray cases are found in all parts of the city and these are giving us some worry. There are no places where any large number of cases have broken out, as in the Charles street district some months ago, but great care has to be taken that this does not occur again. We have the situation pretty well in hand now, and I think before the cold weather comes there will be practically no smallpox in Allegheny."

William O'Brien of No. 508 Madison avenue and W. J. Rambo of No. 284 Alpine avenue died early yesterday morning at the Allegheny municipal hospital.

Six cases of smallpox were reported in Pittsburgh yesterday, as follows: Jerry Lee, No. 709 Canton street; James Smith, No. 240 Forty-fifth street; William McCanary, No. 4600 Penn avenue; Mitchell Meagolins, No. 2329 Wylie avenue; Frank Raffel, No. 2800 Penn avenue; Nannie Briggs, No. 2838 Smallman street.

CONFERENCE RAISES $2,950

African Methodists Will Use This Fund for Educational Purposes.

At yesterday morning's session of the African Methodist Episcopal conference in the Euclid Avenue church a fund of $2,950 15 was raised for educational work. The Rev. J. W. Jones, president of Wilberforce university, delivered an address touching on the work of the school, and the Rev. J. H. Hawkins of Kittrell, N. C., made an address along educational lines.

The afternoon session was given over to the interest of education and to the Women's Missionary society of the Pittsburgh annual conference. The educational meeting was addressed by the Rev. J. W. Jones and Prof. H. T. Keating of Philadelphia, editor of the African Methodist Episcopal Review. The Women's Missionary society was addressed by Mrs. A. H. Smith of Bradford, Pa., Mrs. Annie Simpson and Mrs. Rebecca Aldridge of Pittsburgh.

THE DEATH ROLL

Miss Mary J. McCombs.

Miss Mary J. McCombs, after an illness of two weeks, died at her home, No. 5080 Ellsworth street, East End, yesterday morning. Miss McCombs was born in Ohio and lived for many years at the old McCombs homestead on Squirrel Hill. Her father, Joseph McCombs, was for many years a well-known business man of Pittsburgh. She was a member of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, and is survived by two sisters, Miss Elizabeth McCombs of No. 5080 Ellsworth street and Mrs. Johnstone of Germantown, Philadelphia. The funeral will take place from her late home on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Thomas C. Douglass.

Thomas C. Douglass, one of the oldest residents of Boston, near McKeesport, died early yesterday morning at his home from an attack of grip. He was a brother of Justice of the Peace Joseph Douglass of Boston and was about 65 years old. He is survived by his widow and a large family of adult children. Mr. Douglass was formerly a farmer, but had retired. He was a member of Youghiogheny lodge No. 580, F. & A. M.; Mystic Chain, Royal Arcanum and the Grand Army of the Republic. His funeral will be held under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity tomorrow afternoon.

Albert E. Walker.

Albert E. Walker, 22 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker of Hopkins street, Sewickley, died at his parents' home yesterday morning after two weeks' illness of malarial typhoid fever. He was a clerk in the offices of the Pennsylvania railroad at Union station and was a member of the Baptist church, Sewickley, of the Sewickley Young Men's Christian association and of several musical organizations. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

Henry Long.

Henry Long of Coulters station, near McKeesport, died at his home yesterday, aged 84 years. He is survived by his widow and three sons and daughters—Adam and William J. of Coulters, Mrs. James Neel and Mrs. Joseph Schneider of McKeesport, Mrs. H. Mahan of Guffey station and Mrs. Caroline Painter of Coulters. The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. M. Lashburn of the Coulters Methodist Episcopal church, and the remains will be taken to McKeesport for interment.

John Krause.

John Krause, one of the best known residents of Canton, O., died last evening after an illness of one month. He went to Canton in 1858 from Sharpsburg and until last spring was employed in the factories of the C. Aultman Company. He was elected to the board of public service last spring, and was president of that body at the time of his death. He was one of the original members of the famous Grand Army band and was prominent in Masonic circles.

Obituary Notes.

Colonel Sir William Colville, the King's master of the ceremonies, died yesterday of lung trouble in London. He was born in 1827.

Dr. Jonathan Tatt, one of the best known dentists in the country and founder and for many years dean of the dental department at the University of Michigan, is dead at his home at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Municipal Judge Ira H. Shisler of Mankato, Minn., died suddenly yesterday of congestion of the lungs. He was 56 years old and was prominent in Republican politics. He had served as mayor, corporation attorney and county attorney at Void Wert, O., before going to Mankato 20 years ago.

City Solicitor Henry M. Snyder, Jr., of Camden, N. J., died yesterday of congestion of the lungs after an illness of two days. Mr. Snyder was 40 years of age. He was active in Republican politics and served two terms in the city councils.

CONSOLIDATED GETS MORE TIME

Speyer & Co., Grant the Soo Corporation Extension of Sixty Days.

COMPROMISE IS EFFECTED

Directors of Subsiding Company Are Forced to Resign and Financing Company Will Place Its Own Men on the Board—More Injunctions in Canada.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 16.

Speyer & Co., through their legal representatives, today granted the extension of 60 days, asked for by the reorganization interests of the sale of the securities held by them for their loan of $5,050,000 to the Consolidated Lake Superior Company last December. The date of the sale, as now fixed, is Tuesday, December 15.

The acquiescence of the money lending syndicate was the result of a compromise, in which the Speyers obtained two of the conditions they imposed, and the lawyers for the Mosley committee were granted two conditions which they would not relinquish. All the officers and directors of both the underlying companies and the holding corporation are to retire, their places to be filled by representatives of the Speyers, and the reorganization interests. In addition actual possession of all the plants and other property of the Superior Company, both in Canada and the United States, is to be given to the Speyers immediately.

The reorganization interests are not required to waive the stipulation that they may present legal obstacles at any future time towards the annullment of the sale of the pledged securities; and they are not compelled to submit to the retirement of John G. Carruth from the receivership of the holding corporation. The resignations of the directors of the subsidiary companies and their officers have been accepted.

At the close of the meeting of the Mosley committee, it was admitted that their reorganization plan is ready to be put in the hands of the printer, preparatory for distribution. This plan will be slightly different from that published during the past week. It provides for a capital of $40,000,000 and an authorized mortgage bond issue of $10,000,000, of which a little more than $7,000,000 will be put out to take up the $5,050,000 loan. These bonds will be issued at 70 per cent, with a bonus of 3 per cent in stock. Nearly $3,000,000 mortgage bonds will remain the treasury for future use. There is also provision for the issuance of income bonds to the extent of $3,000,000 which are to be given at par to all who pay their assessment up to the amount paid in.

Councilmen of Ben Avon Not Content With Pennsy's Vague Promises.

The unwillingness of officials of the Pennsylvania Company to tell the councilmen of Ben Avon borough by what means they propose to bring passengers to Allegheny and Pittsburgh over the new street car lines they wish to build, seems likely to result in the councilmen voting in favor of the franchises desired by the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Representatives of the Pennsylvania and the traction companies have made applications for charters in Ben Avon and other Ohio river boroughs. Charges are made that the Pennsylvania is not giving evidence of good faith.

PERSONALS

Ex-President Grover Cleveland passed through Pittsburg yesterday morning on his way from Chicago to his home in Princeton. When Mr. Cleveland stepped out on the platform he said he could well believe that he was in Pittsburgh, because everything looked gloomy, but when somebody pointed to the sunlight streaming on the tracks outside the dark trainshed he expressed surprise and pleasure, remarking that those who said Pittsburgh was a city in which the sun never shone into were calumniators. The former president occupied a drawing room and took breakfast in the dining car.

Lee S. Smith and wife, John Eaton and wife, Mrs. Louis and Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Amy Duncan and Mrs. John J. Fisher started last night for a trip around the world, intending to sail from San Francisco on the steamship Siberia. Mr. Smith was entertained yesterday at the Duquesne club at luncheon by his fellow-sitters at his regular table—Harry Bull, W. S. Brown, Daniel C. Ripley, James S. Arnold, A. J. Logan, H. D. W. English, Harry Williams, W. C. King and George Blair.

Ex-Congressman William H. Graham and R. M. Latimer left the city last night for Detroit, where they will attend a convention of the Christian churches of the United States as delegates from this district. Mr. Graham is president of the district association and Mr. Latimer is an elder in the First church of Allegheny.

Secretary George B. Anderson of the chamber of commerce returned home last night from Evansville, Ind., where he attended the convention of the Ohio River Improvement association. He said the convention was successful in every particular.

IT WORKS

The Laborer Eats Food That Would Wreck an Office Man.

Men who are actively engaged at hard work can sometimes eat food that would wreck a man who is more closely confined.

This is illustrated in the following story: "I was for 12 years clerk in a store working actively and drank coffee all the time without much trouble until after I entered the telegraph service.

"There I got very little exercise and drinking strong coffee my nerves grew unsteady and my stomach got weak and I was soon a very sick man. I quit meat and tobacco and in fact I stopped eating everything which I thought might affect me except coffee, but still my condition grew worse and I was all but a wreck.

"I finally quit coffee and commenced use Postum a few years ago, and I am speaking the truth when I say my condition commenced to improve immediately, and today I am well and can eat anything I want without any bad effects, all due to shifting from coffee to Postum Cereal Coffee.

"I told my wife today I believed I could digest a brick if I had a cup of Postum to go with it. We make it according to directions, boiling it full 20 minutes, and use good rich cream, and it is certainly delicious." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

DIPHTHERIA HAS HILL IN GRASP

Thirty-Second Ward Experiences Severe Epidemic of Contagious Disease.

BAD STREETS AND SEWERS

Seventy-Five Persons Are Stricken in This Ward Alone—Physicians Complain of Over Work—Councilmen Will Be Asked to See Officials.

Diphtheria has taken a firm hold on the residents of the hill top wards, the Thirty-second alone having over 75 cases out of 125 in the city. Every doctor on Mt. Washington is working day and night, but every day new cases are being reported to the bureau of health. Signs appear on the doors of houses in almost every block. The people are complaining bitterly that the condition of the streets and sewers in this ward has caused the trouble, and the councilmen are the special objects of attack. Many of those in whose families children are stricken say the department of public works has done little in this ward for months past and that the condition has never before been so bad.

On the Mt. Washington and Castle Shannon inclines men traveling to and from their homes talk of nothing else, and a general petition will be circulated from house to house, appealing to Director E. M. Bigelow to do something to clean up the thoroughfares from Grandview avenue to the rear end of the Thirty-second ward. If the present increase in the disease keeps up, an indignation meeting will be called to compel the councilmen to make a strong demand at City hall that some of the people's money be spent in an endeavor to get the ward in fit condition to reside in.

Nearly every room in the public school has been almost deserted by the pupils, whose parents refuse to obey the compulsory education law and are keeping their children at home. The school board will have to take some action.

Drug stores are busy supplying asafetida and other alleged preventives, but the chief danger of infection comes from the inclines upon which most of the male population mingle every day. Other contagious diseases are being reported daily from this ward.

Charged With Embezzlement.

R. H. Hedden, a collector for the White Sewing Machine Co., was sent to jail yesterday on a charge of embezzlement from the company. Hedden is accused of failing to turn in money collected.

NEW YORK TRIP CAUSES A KICK

Democrats Object to Leaders Offering Tammany Aid Owing to Outlook Here.

PATTISON PLEADS IGNORANCE

Former Governor Says He Knows of No Arrangement to Deliver Speeches in Tiger's Aid—Desertions from New Independence Movement Numerous.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 16.

Insurance Commissioner Durham, accompanied by his brother, Thomas Durham, Jr., left tonight for Hot Springs, Va. He will not return before the latter part of next week, when he expects to meet Senator Quay in this city. Senator Quay is in Maine, but will be here next Friday. It is Mr. Durham's intention to take short trips every week or so for several months. He explained today that his reason for so doing is to retain the benefit gained by his journey abroad.

Former Gov. Robert E. Pattison today said that he had no knowledge whatever of any arrangement whereby he is to deliver campaign addresses in New York in the interest of the Tammany ticket. There were many local Democrats who today criticised their party leaders, for going to the aid of Tammany in New York, when the Democratic state ticket in Pennsylvania needs all the help it can possibly get.

Wholesale resignations from the new Democratic Independence club, the organization behind the Independent Democratic movement, were today announced. Dissatisfaction over the project of the Independence club in having a third county ticket in the field at this time is given as the reason for the withdrawal of fully a dozen of the more prominent members. Among those who have severed their relations with the new club are some of its organizers, and who, until today served as officers. Managers of the Independence club, when the matter of the resignations was referred to them, expressed the opinion that the desertions will, in the end, serve to strengthen the new Democratic faction.

Among other callers at Republican state headquarters today were Representative J. F. Frank Graff of Armstrong; George M. Hosack of Pittsburgh; Rodney A. Mercur of Bradford and B. B. Brown of Erie.

RODGERS GIVES WRITTEN OPINION

Decision of City Solicitor Greatly Increases Printing Bill of City.

PRODUCES A RADICAL CHANGE

Costs $36 to Print Resolution for Payment of Only Half That Amount—Addition to City's Expense Estimated at $40,000—Finance Committee Meets.

A written opinion of Solicitor William B. Rodgers that all municipal measures, whether ordinances or resolutions, which provide for the payment of money, shall be printed for the use of councils was received yesterday and read to the joint finance committee of councils. The effect of this opinion is an addition annually of about $40,000 to the printing bill of the city, as the custom for years has been to pass resolutions for the payment of money without being printed. Under the city solicitor's opinion every resolution for the payment of money, for $1 or for $100, must be printed.

In many cases the cost of the printing will exceed the amount of money to be paid. The finance committee had an example of this yesterday. A resolution for the payment of $15 for the refunding of $15 of overpaid taxes was approved and ordered printed. Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow stated that it would cost about $30 to print the resolution. The communication from the solicitor was addressed to Mr. Morrow and read as follows:

City Solicitor's Opinion.

"I acknowledge receipt of your communication of 26 October, 1903. At the last meeting of council certain resolutions were referred to me, and this reference raises the same questions as in your communication. At the next meeting of councils I will be prepared to give an opinion on these resolutions.

"In the meantime in answer to your communication, I would say that in my judgment the resolution for the employment of experts should have been printed for the use of the members. It is a resolution for the payment of money, and I think should pass with the same formalities as an ordinance.

"In answer to your general question as to whether a resolution for the payment of a bill, or refunding of money, or the payment of a claim must necessarily take the same course in councils as an ordinance, my answer is that in my judgment any resolution which in and of itself appropriates money in the city treasury is a legislative act, and all legislative acts should be by ordinance.

"It is immaterial whether the act be called a resolution or an ordinance. The point is that whether it be a resolution or an ordinance it should be passed with the formalities of an ordinance, as prescribed by law."

Number of Resolutions Approved.

Mr. Morrow, who is clerk of the committee, read the communication, but there were no remarks or discussion on it. The first measure acted on afterward was the resolution authorizing the committee to employ three experts to go over the estimates sent to councils by Director Bigelow as to the cost of a sand filtration plant. It was approved without comment.

The committee also approved ordinances for the sale by public auction of the lot in Second avenue, Fourteenth ward, on which several members of the common council bid on the floor of council chambers, and also for the sale in the same manner of a lot in Carson street, near South Thirty-first; ordinances fixing the number of employes in the department of charities and regulating their salaries; for the appointment of a watchman in the department of safety building, and resolutions exonerating certain tax assessments.

MANY POINTS DISCUSSED BY CAPITAL AND LABOR

Civic Federation Congress, However, Has So Far Adopted No Measure of Relief.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Although questions of dispute and of great interest to the wage earner and the employer, such as the "open" shop, methods of paying wages, piece work and bonus, came up before the conference of the National Civic Federation today, no action has been decided upon that will improve the relations of the principals in the controversy. However, it is not considered improbable that before the session is brought to a close some action that will aid in bringing labor and capital closer together may be taken.

A number of the speakers at the session today favored this, saying the occasion was opportune. Among those in attendance were Henry C. Hunter, commissioner of the Metal Trades association of New York; Marcus M. Marks, president of the National Clothing Manufacturers' association of New York; J. N. Gunn of New York, James McConnell, president of the International Association of Machinists; W. H. Pfahler of Philadelphia, Frank Buchanan, head of the structural iron workers; John Phillips of Brooklyn, James P. Archibald of New York, former Lieutenant Governor Coates of Colorado, and Dr. Josiah Strong of New York.

Laboring men predominated in the proceedings and at one time, when the discussion was becoming general, several in the audience arose and talked on questions, which at times tended toward socialism. Samuel Gampers, the presiding officer, however, checked the debate and compelled the speakers to limit the discussion to the topics at issue.

INSPECTED BOYS' HOME.

Managers Look Over the Institution at Oakdale and Re-Elect the Officers.

The third annual meeting of the board of managers and advisory board of the Boys' Industrial Home of Oakdale, was held yesterday afternoon. The first part of the afternoon was spent in inspecting the new farm of 170 acres, which has been recently purchased and added to the farm already owned by the home.

The election of officers for the ensuing year followed, and addresses were made by the Rev. Thomas Parry, D. D., president, and the Rev. J. T. McCrory, D. D., vice president. The new workshop, dairy and laundry were then inspected. The most interesting thing seen in the workshop was the number of sleds the boys had in course of construction.

All the officers were re-elected, and are as follows:

President, the Rev. Thomas Parry, D. D.; vice president, the Rev. J. T. McCrory, D. D.; secretary, Maj. R. W. A. Simmons; counselor, Maj. R. E. Stewart; treasurer, Charles F. Dean, Union National bank; superintendent, John W. Cleland, A. M.; financial secretary, David M. Cleland, A. M.

Board of managers—Thomas Parry, D. D., J. T. McCrory, D. D., Maj. R. W. A. Simmons, T. M. Porter, Samuel Young, Harvey Henderson, Mrs. J. A. Evans, L. T. Yoder, William H. Jamison, James Wallace, Maj. J. W. Nesbit, Joseph A. Laughlin, Mrs. Samuel Laird, Mrs. Richard R. Quay, Miss Elizabeth Vishart.

Advisory board—James A. Grier, D. D., the Hon. Thomas W. Phillips, S. S. Graham, John M. Findlay, John A. Wood, David McAllister, D. D., LL. D., Mrs. R. M. Russell, D. D., Mrs. H. Lee Mason, Mrs. Judge Stowe, Mrs. R. C. Wylie, D. D., Mrs. James H. Moore, Mrs. Prof. A. S. Hunter, Miss Sara Ormsby Mellon.

STRIKE COMMISSION'S ACTION TO GO TO COURT

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special)—The question of whether the decision of the strike commission, which granted concessions to the anthracite miners, has a legal value is to be tested in the courts. Proceedings are to be commenced in a few days in the Sullivan county court against the Glinton Coal Company at Bernice, which has refused to pay the miners the back wages or the advances ordered by the commission. The United Mine Workers have sent Board Member Thomas Llewellyn to the scene to collect information, and the suit will then be instituted.

WIDENING CASE GOES TO COURT

Council Votes Against Taking Action in Virgin Alley Improvement.

OWNERS MAY TAKE APPEALS

Henry W. Oliver Explained the Change Was Not Essential to His Property and He Favored Repeal if Their Was to Be Litigation.

The city councils will not interfere with the widening of Virgin alley. The public works committee of select council yesterday decided that no action should be taken by the city legislative bodies and that the matter should take the usual legal course, thus permitting property owners who object to the assessments of the board of viewers to appeal to the courts. This action of the committee means that a repealing ordinance will probably not be introduced and that the city will assume any additional expense that may be taken off the assessments against private property owners, in addition to the $10,000 that has already been assessed against the city.

A number of Virgin alley propety owners attended the meeting of the committee yesterday afternoon in the select council chamber and an opportunity was given them to make a statement. Only two took advantage of the opportunity, one of whom was Henry W. Oliver, the largest individual holder of property in the thoroughfare. Mr. Oliver's statement was as follows:

Last Owner to Sign.

The widening of Virgin alley is not necessary for the full use of my property, but I am convinced that a new thoroughfare is necessary to take care of the great increase in business that will come in future years.

When the first petition for widening Virgin alley was presented to me, I refused to sign. Observing, however, the intense and increasing congestion of travel on our streets, I concluded that as a matter of public interest it was my duty to help create a new thoroughfare. The property I own had ample frontage in Wood and Smithfield streets, and Sixth and Liberty avenues, and, therefore, the widening of Virgin alley is not necessary for the fullest utilization of my property.

Last year when I was again approached to join in the widening, I agreed to sign provided all the other owners of property abutting (except the two church societies) would sign a petition for the widening. This course was taken and every owner of property on the alley with the above exceptions (and one party who was absent, but wrote that he was not opposed to the widening) including the city of Pittsburgh by resolution of councils, signed the petition for the widening.

In regard to damages and benefits. At the first meeting of the board of viewers I asked for damages only the exact price a square foot that I had paid for the property taken for the new street, and that I be assessed on both sides of the street fully in proportion to my neighbors.

Thinking I was thoroughly protected, I made the plans for my Wood street building to conform to the width of the new street. It now appears that there is opposition to the report of the board of viewers, and that legal measures have been taken to tie the matter up in the courts.

Wants Matter Settled.

I thought the careful course that had been taken would certainly avoid the unfortunate experience of Diamond street, where, for 11 or more years, improvements were delayed and the widening of the street tied up by litigation.

With what I have at stake, to my mind my course is plain. The widening of the new street is not essential to my property, and as I desire the matter settled at once and forever so that I can proceed with buildings now in progress of erection, I state that, if the widening of the street is not desired and agreed to with substantial unanimity by the owners of the property abutting thereon, and thus avoid tying up the matter in the courts, a recommendation by your committee to councils to repeal the ordinance for the widening of the street will have my hearty approval.

I am informed that the original movement for widening came from the owners of property on the south side of the street (the property benefited), and that the owners of all the south side property with one exception, have signed two different petitions in the past five years praying for the widening.

As I understand that the matter of the repeal of the ordinance will have to be decided within 30 days, I will be compelled unless the matter is promptly settled, to suspend all work in the meantime on my new buildings, the steel erection of the new store building having reached to only the fifth of the twelve stories of the building; and I have instructed my architects to change the plans so that after the repeal of the ordinance that building can be erected to extend to the present line of Virgin alley. Mr. Graham of D. H. Burnham & Co., my architects, will explain what he has already told me.

Architect Makes Statement.

Mr. Graham spoke as follows:

When we were first given orders by Henry W. Oliver to prepare plans and specifications for the proposed new building on his lot fronting in Sixth avenue, Wood street and Virgin alley, we designed the building to occupy the entire property, but just as we were about to close contracts Mr. Oliver informed us that it had been decided to widen Virgin alley by correspondingly reducing the individual holdings on the north side of said alley. We therefore prepared new drawings, complying with the conditions which obtained by reason of this widening of Virgin alley.

The frontage in Wood street, which is left after widening Virgin alley 24 feet, is 216 feet, which we have divided into nine spans, which makes each span 24 feet; so that if there is any contention of not widening Virgin alley it would be well to suspend operations on this section of the building beyond the steel, in order that we may understand the length of the building on Wood street these 24 feet by simply adding the one bent which we have cut off.

The steel work of the present structure can advance, but the terra cotta ornamental iron fire proofing, elevators and other branches of work should be held in abeyance at this point until the question is definitely settled.

Inasmuch as Mr. Oliver has perpetual light on all sides of his property, the 24 feet additional frontage in Wood street by 110 feet deep equals 2,400 square feet on each floor; multiplied by 12 stories, equals 28,800 additional square feet to rent, and the extra cost of operation by reason of this added area of rental space would be light. It is therefore apparent that, so far as Mr. Oliver is individually concerned, he would largely profit by not widening Virgin alley. The same would also apply to his Smithfield street property, under corresponding conditions as to light and air, all around.

The great value and benefit, therefore, to be derived from transforming an alley into a wide street is to the city itself, and property owners fronting on this alley, whose conditions and advantages from light and air are not unique like those of Mr. Oliver.

Accepts Viewers' Report.

John S. Lambie asked Mr. Oliver if he would abide by the report of the board of viewers and Mr. Oliver replied that he would. Mr. Lambie said that he hoped the property owners would get together and agree to accept the report of the viewers, as was done in the Diamond alley case; that if the property owners would do so the city would likewise raise no objections.

He said if a considerable number of the property owners appealed to court and had their assessments reduced, the city would have to pay the difference, whatever it might be. He suggested that if the property owners were unable to reach an agreement and withdraw their objections to the report of the viewers, that councils ought to pass a repealing ordinance.

William Macrum, attorney for Mrs. Sophia Meyran, who owns Virgin alley property fronting on Fifth avenue, stated that the schedule of the viewers was not a fair one to his client; that the benefits of $64,000 assessed against her were excessive. He said the improvement, however, was a great benefit, but the city ought to pay more than $10,000, stating that he did not think $250,000 too large an amount for the city to pay.

Took Issue With Lambie.

Robert H. Douglas took issue with Mr. Lambie and stated that the threat of a repealing ordinance should not be used to persuade property owners to accept the awards of the viewers. He moved that the matter take the usual course and that no action be taken on the communication from the mayor and the city solicitor except that it be received and filed. Mr. Lambie stated that the city was taking too great a chance by allowing the matter to go into court.

"Oh, I'm willing to take chances lots of times. You know as well as I do that in street cases the city generally gets the best of it," said Mr. Douglas in reply to Mr. Lambie.

Mr. Douglas' motion was passed, Mr. Lambie alone voting in the negative. The members who voted in the affirmative were R. H. Douglas, John H. Voskamp, Samuel J. Wainwright, W. J. Zahniser and Chairman Charles Stewart. This ended the matter and the committee adjourned after passing upon a number of measures of minor importance.

Among the property owners present were H. W. Oliver, W. B. Brown, E. H. Myers, Frank McCann, D. P. Reighard, the Rev. A. W. Arundel, Frank Blair, representing the Trinity Episcopal church, and several other attorneys representing owners.

The viewers will probably file their report in court today and all appeals must be filed in court within 30 days following.

SUPPOSED SPOOKS SCARED HOMEVILLE

White-robed figures running about in the old graveyard at the Oliphant homestead, near Homeville have caused many residents of that district to give the old burying ground a wide berth after nightfall since the cool weather set in. Almost nightly residents reported seeing specters running about, and the report that the graveyard was haunted soon spread. Thursday night several young men of Homeville resolved to solve the mystery. While watching the place white-clad figures suddenly appeared from behind the homestead and the youths fled in fright. Before the young men got a safe distance from the place their flight was stopped by the figures calling after them, and on going back the supposed spooks were discovered to be members of a football team which has been practicing in their new uniforms in the old graveyard.

COMPLAINT IS ENTERED AGAINST BOUNTY PAID STEEL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Complaint has been made to the treasury department that the Dominion Iron and Steel Company of Canada has been exporting bounty-paid steel into this country. It is claimed that Australia pays a bounty of $2 a ton on pig iron and $2 more on steel produced from this iron, a total of $4, and that this steel is brought to Canada and then to the United States. It is asserted by those making the complaint that the countervailing duty against bounty-paid products should be applied to this steel.

TWO BODIES ARE FOUND TWO WEEKS AFTER DEATH

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The police report that the bodies of John D. O'Brien, 60 years old, and his wife, Mary, 55 years, were found dead in bed at their home, No. 2110 Second avenue, today. Dr. Krauskopf of the Harlem hospital said the couple had been dead about two weeks. The bodies were so badly decomposed that the ambulance surgeon was unable to determine the cause of death.

A Pleasing Hall Settee

This is an exclusive design and one of uncommon elegance. The gracefully curving lines are a welcome departure from the formal rigidity usually characteristic of this article of furniture.

While losing nothing of the substantial effect that is generally desired, it possesses a simple beauty which will add wonderfully to the hall decoration.

The specifications are: Length, 55 inches; depth, 18½ inches; height, 35½ inches; claw feet.

These charming settees are made either of mahogany or golden oak. This particular design is one of the happiest possible combinations of the utilitarian and the artistic.

In this, as in every other article of furniture, you will find that price is always an inducement at

THE MARVELOUS EXCELLENCY OF OUR MEN'S CLOTHING

Is attracting much favorable comment. No matter how meager your clothes-knowledge, the superior workmanship, fine style and perfect FIT of OUR garments cannot help but impress you. Our salesmen (plenty of them) are only too glad to show you our immense stock—elegant, reliable suits that in no wise suggest low prices and those ready-to-wear features so commonly seen in garments sold elsewhere. Prices range from $8.50 to $35. Today we mention our

Men's $10 Business Suits:

If you're a judge of correct styles, good workmanship and fine tailoring then these handsome $10 suits will please you at once. Yes, it does take a whole lot of grit and experience to sell a suit like this for $10. Other stores wouldn't think of doing it. Plenty of patterns and shades to choose from, in thibets, cheviots, etc.; grey, black and popular effects; single or double breasted styles; cut, sewn and finished "just as you would have them"; unexcelled in appearance and wearing qualities; would be considered cheap at $15—yours to choose from here at..... $10

Men's $15 Dress Suits:

Good quality, intrinsic worth, absolute correctness in every detail—perfect fit and A1 wearing qualities well describe these handsome garments, now being sold at $15. Can be had in worsteds, thibets, tweeds, cassimeres and cheviots in fancy stripes and checks, new plaids and overplaids, as well as in blues and blacks; coats either single or double-breasted; three and four button—full of elegance, refinement and exclusiveness; positively unsurpassed for style and fit—and withal amazingly low priced (ask your tailor what he'd duplicate it for), at least double our price. $15

Men's Top Coats:

There'll be something missing if you surround your form with one of these natty, comfortable Fall O'coats. It'll be that semi-chilliness—that unpleasantness which always goes with wet, biting Fall weather. Choice of box or three-quarter length styles, in popular materials—now marked at $25 and down to..... $7.50

Men's Rain Coats:

Most versatile garments indeed are these new Rain Coats. Good for wet, cold, rain or sunshine. Not until you've worn one will you appreciate their worth; come in wanted fabrics, newest styles and effects, priced at $25 and down to..... $10

Men's $15 O'coats:

When you "snuggle" into one of these warm, well-made, comfort-giving coats (none too heavy for present wear) you've got the best possible protection—no matter how inclement or blustery the weather. These $15 O'coats are especially good values; can be had in black cheviots, grey oxfords and meltons; mostly three-quarter lengths; NOT one garment in the whole lot—and it's a big one—but what was personally chosen by our experts—warranted for FIT and service, OUR price now..... $15

Men's Finest O'coats:

Whatever your taste, whatever your needs, you're positive to find just THE coat for you in this most comprehensive collection of chic, up-to-date garments. Every sort and pattern—but probably that elegant coat in fine imported Scotch cheviot, with herring-bone effects, will please you most. If not, countless others to choose from—in newest, most fetching styles; long or three-quarter lengths; lined with mercerized silk or satin; nicely made—and marked at $42 and down to..... $20

LOOKS LIKE A POLITICAL TRICK OF ONE CITIZENS FACTION

Stevenson Revives the Old Charge Against Contractor McQuaide.

HE HAS BEEN WITH BRECK

Councilman is Charged With Trying to Force McQuaide to Support W. J. Moore in the Fourteenth Ward Chairmanship Election.

Councilman W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward was playing a little game of politics yesterday in the interest of his faction of the Citizens ward committee. Some time ago he offered a resolution to have the contest for filling the Bedford avenue basin annulled and to force the contractor, James H. McQuaide, to pay about $8,000 in penalties for failure to comply with the terms of the contract. The proposition was referred to a sub-committee of the finance committee. Yesterday Stevenson ordered this body to act upon the resolution. Tonight McQuaide will have a vote in the reorganized Citizens ward committee that has been called together to elect a chairman. He has been with the Breck faction.

The Breck people charge that Stevenson is trying to club McQuaide into line for W. J. Moore, who is Stevenson's man for chairman. They say that the contractor will not scare and will continue to support Breck. The digging out of the resolution at this time, has all the earmarks of a political scheme to make McQuaide be good.

Says Moore Will Win.

M. J. Ehrenfeld, who has been commissioned by County Chairman M. A. Verner, to preside over the Fourteenth ward committee tonight, says that both Capt. E. G. Breck and W. J. Moore will be candidates for chairman. In his opinion the contest will be very close, and that Moore will probably win by a couple of votes. The Bigelow machines managers apparently reconsidered their plan to throw down the Stevenson men, as the sentiment at headquarters yesterday was favorable to Moore. By this action they hope to hold "Orphan" Stevenson for the fall election and then try to whip him for a re-election to councils.

The Breck faction held a secret session last night. At the close of the meeting W. G. Negley said that the committeemen had all agreed to support Breck in the election tonight. The Soho members of the committee say that both Stevenson and Moore have referred to them as "Rowdies."

Moore says that his men have decided to attend the meeting tonight. The fact that he is going into the election is pretty good evidence that headquarters has issued orders that he shall be elected. The bosses had it in their power to defeat him.

New Registration Scheme.

The county commissioners will make a change in the registry lists of the entire county to show a recapitulation of the residents of every section on the covers of the registry books, and thus show at a glance how many moved from certain districts and who moved in.

The new scheme, which will go into effect with the next assessment, was suggested by the thorough work of a register assessor of the Fifth election district of the Twenty-eighth ward, who after completing his assessment of his district, was the only assessor in the county to make this complete recapitulation on the front cover of the registry book:

"Number of names on the 25th of May, 170; moved in since, 16; total, 186; moved out, 19; total number of names for September 3, 167."

An enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of the Second precinct of the North Versailles township was held last night in the Fort Perry school house. There were about 250 present. William A. Gardner presided and J. J. Costello acted as secretary. Addresses were made by them and also by J. Proudfoot, William Jones and William McGuigean.

Bigelow machine managers in the Thirty-second ward are badly rattled. The Republicans put up about 150 placards containing pictures of the candidates. Under the cover of night machine agents tore them down.

Congressman H. K. Porter, who is in Washington, has written Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee, that he is in favor of holding the next Republican national convention in Pittsburgh.

LOCAL MEN INTERESTED.

Pittsburghers Are Among the Incorporators of Three New Enterprises.

Pittsburgh capital is interested in three new enterprises that were incorporated yesterday. Thomas A. Watkins and George R. Wallace of this city, together with Robert Miller of Paden City, W. Va.; George E. Work of Sistersville and E. L. Robinson of New Martinsville, have secured a charter for the Paden City, Webster & Salem Railroad Company, and will build a road through those places in the near future.

The Lake Ports Atlantic Coal & Coke Company of Pittsburgh is the title of a new enterprise which has been organized with a capital of $25,000, for the development of coal properties in West Virginia. Henry Cooper of Bellevue, with J. H. Hemming, C. E. Pool, J. C. Ewing and W. A. Menster of Wilkinsburg, are the incorporators.

Francis Ferguson of Pittsburgh, George A. Ferguson of Shimuston, W. Va., and Fred W. Edmonds of Fairmont, W. Va., have incorporated the Ferguson & Edmonds Contracting Company at Fairmont with $50,000 capital.

Found His Long-Lost Sister.

After a separation of 30 years Policeman Andrew Terry, colored, aged 50, of No. 2 police station, learned of a missing sister living at Findlay, O., yesterday. The officer went to that city and when he arrived at the house his sister was standing at the gate and recognized him immediately. Officer Terry lives at No. 33 Boone alley and has been on the force for 20 years. He lost track of his sister 30 years ago and was never able to learn of her whereabouts. Terry has always been stationed in the hill district and learned of his sister through a resident along his beat.

Sues to Recover Pay for Praying.

Samuel Pearlstine, a Homestead Hebrew, yesterday entered suit before Justice George W. Giles of Homestead against Solomon Frish, a Hebrew of East Pittsburgh, to collect a bill of $20. Pearlstine said he was engaged by Frish to pray for the Hebrews of East Pittsburgh during the recent New Year's services, for which he was to receive $40. After the services he alleges Frish paid him but $20, and he entered suit to recover the balance. Frish alleges Pearlstine was unable to blow a trumpet at a certain part of the exercises.

POOR HEALTH CAUSED SUICIDE

Well-to-Do Allegheny German Hanged Himself in His Kitchen.

UNKNOWN BODY IN THE RIVER

Two Victims of Railroads—Gunshot Wounds Were Fatal to Italian—Aged Hotel Servant Expired—Busy Day for Coroner.

Despondent because of poor health, George Leibold, 51 years old, of No. 7 Downing street, Troy Hill, Allegheny, committed suicide by hanging himself in his home early yesterday morning. Leibold took a clothesline and fastened one end to a bracket on the wall in the kitchen, and put the other end about his neck. He drew his knees from under him and slowly strangled to death. Leibold was well known on Troy Hill. He had the exclusive right to sell the German newspapers in that district and was also in the insurance business. Leibold owned considerable property in Allegheny.

M. H. Samson, aged 33, a structural iron worker, fell from the seventh story of the new Bessemer power building at Cecil alley and Duquesne way yesterday morning and was instantly killed. His home was in Washington, D. C.

Frank Dumont, aged 21, a brakeman of Midway, Pa., died at the West Penn hospital yesterday of injuries received Thursday night by being caught between cars at McDonald, on the Panhandle railroad.

Giulio D. Nardi, 26 years old, of Turtle Creek, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday of gunshot wounds inflicted in a fight on October 3, near his home. Nardi and a number of Italians had been drinking and quarreled. Nardi was shot three times in the stomach. He was removed to the hospital five days later. The body was identified by Antonio Paccifico.

Mrs. Martha Dalzell, aged 73, died in the Central hotel, Hamilton avenue and Enterprise street, yesterday afternoon, of infirmities of age. She had been a servant at the hotel. Her relatives are unknown.

Thomas Rodgers, 40 years old, a laborer, died in the Mercy hospital yesterday afternoon of injuries received from falling in a pit at the Edgar Thomson steel works, Braddock. Rodgers lived in Rankin and leaves a widow and three children.

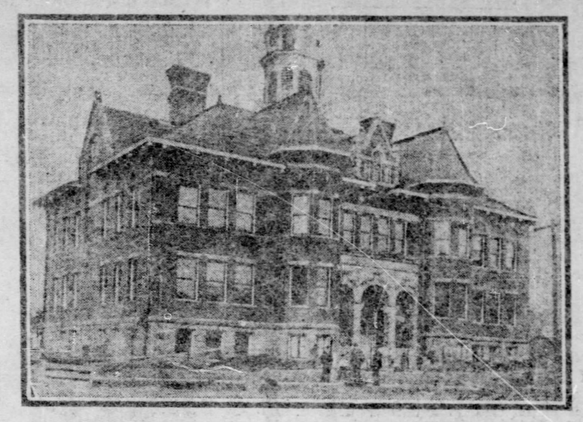
The body of an unknown man was found floating in the Ohio river yesterday near the Pittsburgh Forge and Iron Company. Where the body might be that of the man who committed suicide by jumping from the Sixth street bridge several days ago, who was thought to have been Martin Meyer. There were several letters addressed to that person found in his pocket, also a card of withdrawal from Brewers union No. 5 of Philadelphia, National Union of the United Brewery Workmen of America.

George Bradshaw, a bridge carpenter of Esplen, was killed at McKees Rocks yesterday afternoon while unloading iron girders from a car on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The hoisting chain slipped and the heavy girder fell on him.

James Galloway of No. 228 Ella street, died at the West Penn hospital last night of a fractured skull, received while coupling cars on the Pennsylvania railroad on October 13.

Peter Caulfield, 30 years old, of Fifty-fifth and Butler streets, died last night of injuries received yesterday morning while at work at the Frank Kneeland Machine Company's plant, at Fifty-third street and Allegheny Valley railroad, by a pile of lumber falling on him.

New School Building at Natrona Dedicated



The new school building shown above, erected by the Harrison township school board, was dedicated at Natrona yesterday afternoon. County Superintendent of Schools Samuel Hamilton and Superintendent John Morrow of Allegheny were the principal speakers. A handsome American flag was presented by Natrona branch No. 244, Jr. O. U. A. M. The flag was the gift of Past Supreme Councilor W. T. Kerr.

AETNA REFUSES TO PAY PENNELL'S INSURANCE

Say They Are Able to Prove That He Committed Murder and Suicide.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BUFFALO, Oct. 16.—The news that the Etna Life Insurance Company of Hartford will refuse to pay the face of a $10,000 policy taken out by Arthur P. Pennell, on the grounds that he murdered Edwin L. Burdick and committed suicide and a second murder by plunging his automobile over a stone quarry, created a sensation here. Those who had to do with the defense of the Pennell estate following the sensational death of this man and his wife affected to scoff at the story. Adolph Rebadow, counsel for the Fidelity company, refused to go into details regarding the evidence, but he did say:

"We have been considering this for months and are prepared to show that Pennell murdered his wife and deliberately killed himself and his wife by driving his automobile over the stone quarry. We do not intend to pay claims for suicides, and think we will bring out some startling things when the case comes up."

The belief here is that there is some new evidence of importance, and, also, it is believed that the lawyers of the insurance companies will not handle witnesses with kid gloves. Pennell's counsel, Thomas Purvey, says that the statement made by the Etna is not printed in advance to influence public opinion.

B. & O. Collision Near Washington, Pa.

A collision of a gravel and a freight train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near Washington, Pa., yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, resulted in the passenger trains being brought to Pittsburgh over the Pennsylvania railroad. It was midnight before the tracks were cleared.

Two Furnaces Banked.

Furnaces No. 1 and No. 2 of the Carrie group of the Carnegie Steel Company at Rankin were banked yesterday afternoon for an indefinite period. Six hundred men are idle. The action is attributed to the suspension of the Homestead converting mills, which shut down last week.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE TO OPPOSE CHAMBERLAIN

Agrees to Lead Campaign Against Former Secretary's Fiscal Policy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The duke of Devonshire, late lord president of council, has conditionally accepted the presidency of the Free Food league, which is organizing a campaign against the fiscal policy of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour.

This important move in the fiscal contest developed tonight at the meeting of the parliamentary committee of the league, with a letter from the duke of Devonshire to Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Mr. Ritchie's predecessor as chancellor of the exchequer, accepting the proffered presidency of the league upon certain conditions, was read.

The committee passed a resolution unanimously accepting the conditions, and this action was communicated immediately to the duke of Devonshire. The duke of Devonshire in his letter says he cannot reject the invitation of the Free Food league to become its president, although he must accept that office conditionally. He adds:

"I understand the body I am asked to join, although bearing the name of the league, is substantially a parliamentary committee. I anticipate that you will seek to broaden its constitution with the object of extending its operations. If this is done and I am invited to accept the presidency, I must ask to be consulted as to the nature of such extension so I may have the opportunity of determining how far I feel myself in unison with the new constitution."

Pennypacker to Address Conference.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—The United Brethren conference today authorized the officers to borrow $10,000 to pay its obligations to Memorial church, Washington. The Rev. J. O. Clippinger was re-elected conference treasurer. Tomorrow Gov. Pennypacker and Judge John S. Stewart will make addresses at the dedication of the conference Orphanage at Quincy, this county. The members of the conference will attend.

FOUR MEN OVERCOME IN A FURNACE CUPOLA

One Victim Dies and Another Is Thought to Be Fatally Injured.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 16.—Four men were overcome by gas at the Mahoning Foundry and Machine Company's works this afternoon. One is dead and it is expected that at least one more will die.

THE DEAD:

ROCCO PAOLA, Italian helper at the cupola.

THE INJURED

LEE M'KEE, boss coremaker; may not recover.

C. R. DARROW, superintendent of the plant.

DAVID JONES, cupola tender.

When the cupola was being prepared for filling it was found that a large piece of iron had become wedged in the bottom. Although there was a fire under the cupola which was generating gas, Jones and Paola went into the cupola to remove the wedge. They were stricken, and Darrow and McKee went into the cupola to rescue them.

The men were tied to ropes and taken out, but after Darrow got to the top he found that McKee had been overcome. Darrow and Charles Callahan descended a second time, and this time Darrow was overcome. Callahan escaped, but McKee and Darrow had to be taken out with ropes. Paola died when he reached the hospital and McKee's death is expected. Darrow and Jones have a chance for recovery.

SYNOD SESSIONS END.

Adjourns at Leechburg to Meet Next Year at Indiana, Pa.

LEECHBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Lutheran synod closed today to meet next October in the Zion Lutheran church, Indiana, Pa. The speakers for next convention are: The Rev. J. E. Bittle, Turtle Creek, synodical sermons; the Rev. H. M. Leech, home missions; the Rev. W. J. Burcher, ordination; the Rev. Holmes Dysinger, D. D., education.

This morning the Rev. C. F. Niles of Pittsburgh addressed the synod on "Giving and Living." This convention was marked by the glowing reports from the work done throughout the entire synod and especially because of the splendid showing made by the advisory board of home missions through the missionary president, the Rev. S. L. Nicholas of Bellevue.

W. C. T. U. COMMITTEES NAMED AT ALTOONA

State Convention Opens With Large Number of Delegates and Visitors.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 16.—Through the direction of President Rebecca B. Chambers of West Grove the annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union got fairly started today. There are present 300 delegates and visitors in addition to 60 officers and superintendents.

Mrs. Pond-Amies read the summarized reports of the meetings of the state central committee. She referred to the action of the committee of doctors, at their convention in York recently, in reporting as full of inaccuracies Mrs. Mary Hunt's textbooks on physiology, 10,000 of which had been distributed over Pennsylvania. She claimed that no little credit was due for the convention's rejection of the committee's report to the central committee, who sent a telegram to the convention protesting against the report of the committee and asking that the committee be discharged. The vote was 30 to 5 against the report.

These committees were reported: Credentials, H. Frances Jones, Grace Collins, Mrs. L. E. Sanford; courtesies, Mrs. M. M. Stress, Mrs. N. J. Walker, Mrs. S. E. Bains; telegrams, Mrs. Prescilla Irwin, Arabella Fleming; grouping of counties, Mrs. Lizzie Reebner, Mrs. Alice Samuel, Elizabeth P. Greis; resolutions, Mrs. A. E. McCleary, Anna Furay, Anna T. Treamer, Jane K. Atkins, Mrs. Renolds, Elizabeth Ramsey, Josephine Jackson; appropriations, Emma B. Foster, Emma Bruce, Mrs. E. C. Collins, Margaret A. Watson, Mary Brigham; place of next meeting, Mrs. Eva G. Hill, Chloe Williams, Alice McWilliams; timekeeper, Mrs. Edith Bushong.

Announcement was made that the Union Signal has been purchased by the National Women's Christian Temperance union for $4,000, and the Crusader Monthly for $1,000, and both will be issued regularly.

Dr. Sarah J. Elliott of New York spoke on "The Anti-Polygamy Amendment," she lived a while among the Mormons and declared polygamy was raising a degraded abnormal womanhood.

Tonight the convention was welcomed to Altoona by Mayor E. M. Hoyer on behalf of the city, by the Rev. A. C. Hutchison on behalf of the clergy and by Mrs. Sarah B. Bains on behalf of the Women's Christian Temperance union. The vice president, Mrs. H. H. Forrest of Allegheny, spoke on "The Children of the Street."

DREW A ROYAL FLUSH AND FELL OVER DEAD

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—While playing poker at his home in Hazleton last evening Joseph Muralto drew a royal flush, and in his excitement was seen to waver and fall to the floor dead. A physician stated that the cause of death was heart failure, due to the exciting incident.

Killed by Electric Wire.

CANAL DOVER, O., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Joseph Carney, aged 65, a laborer, met death in a horrible manner shortly this morning. He was working on the roof on a new block and grasped an electric light wire. He yelled, but before help reached him life was extinct. His home was in Scottdale, where his widow resides.

It's time to settle the question of your new fall suit or overcoat

Where have you been in the habit of buying it? By the way, speaking of habit, calls to mind a little conversation between two men overheard by the writer the other day. It was something on this wise: "I've bought my clothing at Kaufmann's for years," says the one man. "Why?" asks the other. "Don't know exactly; guess it's from habit," responds the first man. And "habit" has reason back of it—and experience. Kaufmann clothing sets the standard at each price. To do this, it must possess exceptional merit. IT DOES. If you haven't this habit of coming to "The Big Store" for your clothing, better cultivate it. You'll be dollars ahead and always satisfied with your purchase.

(Remember—this store will not be open this evening after 6:30. Arrange to make your purchases before then as we'll close promptly at 6:30 p. m.)

Extra special offer for this morning only:
Our men's $12.50 suits, overcoats and raincoats 10.00

Be sure to read the above offer right. You must make your purchase before noon today, if you wish to secure one of these $12.50 overcoats or suits for 10.00. When you take into consideration the difference between our regular prices and those in force elsewhere for corresponding qualities, this offer really means: $15 garments for 10.00. The suits come in black thibets, heavy weight blue serges and fancy mixed cheviots—correctly fashioned in the new single and double-breasted styles. The overcoats include oxfords, black friezes, black and blue kerseys, tan covert cloths, etc., some with satin yokes and satin sleeve lining. The raincoats are equally stylish, coming in waterproof oxford and tan worsteds and cassimeres.

Our 8.50 line: You could choose blindfolded from this line and you'd be pleased with the style and tailoring, even though the pattern and color might not just meet with your approval. The snug fitting collars, the graceful hang of the lapels and a dozen other points stamp these garments as much better than the average. It pays us to put this extra work into even as low priced suits and overcoats as 8.50—it brings old customers back and makes permanent customers of new ones—it's one of the reasons of our constant growth.

Our 15.00 line: There's a certain distinctiveness about the styles and the general "get-up" of these $15 suits and overcoats that never fails to commend itself to the prospective purchaser. The cutting and tailoring were done by most skilled craftsmen. It doesn't take much talent to throw a suit together—but it does take an expert tailor to turn out clothes that fit perfectly and which will retain their shape with wear. You can't examine these garments too critically to please us.

The pride of the store: our finest attire: 20.00 to 33.00

These garments were designed by artists, trimmed in faultless taste and brought to the pinnacle of perfection by the best tailoring talent in the country. In every essential they're the equal of the high-class tailoring in the best made to order apparel. This accounts for the big inroads we're constantly making on the trade of the high-priced tailors.

Princeton Freshmen Will Be Strong Against Shadyside This Afternoon

SHADYSIDE READY FOR HARD BATTLE

Coaches Have Boys in Good Shape for Princeton Freshmen Today, Who Come Strong.

OTHER FOOTBALL GAMES

The Princeton Freshman team, which meets the Shadyside Academy eleven today, will arrive in Pittsburgh this morning at 8:20. The team will be immediately taken to its hotel in the East End and will remain there until it is time to go to Friendship park, where this important battle will be decided. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock and about the largest crowd that ever witnessed a school game in Pittsburgh is expected to be present when the kick-off takes place.

Both teams are in the best of condition. A telegram from Princeton last night to Coach Young assured him that the freshman team is ready to battle for its life was received. That Princeton will send out a strong lineup there is no doubt in the minds of the local preps. Another telegram was received by a prominent Princeton alumnus last night which stated that the varsity freshman eleven would be sent on.

Coaches Young and Shelter yesterday afternoon put their pupils through light signal work, and last night they were well satisfied with their condition. The team, they assert, is much stronger than this time last week and a victory this afternoon is looked for. The coaches late last night decided upon the lineup, with but a few changes from that which showed that fact, and may be put back at tackle next week. Andrews, who will play for Kinney tomorrow, and Scott, who faced Morton as guard, showed up strongly today.

On the offense the rush line players were instructed today to hold on to each other so as to bend back the scrub line simultaneously at all points. Yale will start the game tomorrow with the following lineup: Hafferty, left end; Andrews, left tackle; Morton, left guard; Rorback, center; Batchelder, right guard; Horgan, right tackle; Sheviln, right end; Rockwell, quarterback; Mitchell, left halfback; Metcalf, right halfback; Bowman, fullback.

A special from Washington, Pa., last night said:

The Washington and Jefferson team left for California tonight to play the Normal team tomorrow. California made a good showing against the locals here in the opening game and is now very confident that it can defeat W. & J. McLeary is the only regular varsity man who will not be in the game. W. & J. will play as follows: Left end, Hupp; left tackle, Booth; left guard, Russell; center, Sutter; right guard, Gibson; right tackle, Hays; right end, McDivett; quarter, Brooks; left half, Tebbes; fullback, Prowitt.

DISPUTE AT WAYNESBURG.

Fight Over Time in Football Game With Bethany College.

WAYNESBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—Waynesburg and Bethany met on the gridiron today and played a tie game, the score being 6 to 6. By the hardest kind of football Waynesburg managed to cross the West Virginia collegiates' goal line, Charlie Aiken went in during the second half and by fierce line bucking carried the ball within six inches of Waynesburg's goal line. Here the Greene county lads held and threw Bethany back for a loss, but they fumbled, and, fortunately, one of his team mates secured the ball and crossed the goal. Since 1902 the boys of Garrett county have prohibited the shooting of game, this prohibition to last for three years. The game on the mountains has greatly increased since then, and at the expiration of that time shooting will be at its best here.

Mount Union Gets Coach.

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Prof. P. C. Somerville of the American university at Harriman, Tenn., has been secured as coach for the Mount Union football team and will report within a few days. He is an experienced athlete and a graduate of De Pauw university, where he was prominent in football. He also had charge of athletics and elocution at Buchanan university in Missouri.

Sports at Irwin and Manor.

IRWIN, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Penn Athletic club and football team of Pittsburgh will play the Irwin Y. M. C. A. eleven here tomorrow afternoon. This game is dividing interest with the game of baseball between Irwin and Arona on the Manor grounds for $100 a side and the entire gate receipts to go to the winner. Each team is loading up for the contest.

Faculty Prohibits Meet.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Westminster college athletic meet, which was to have taken place today at New Wilmington has been indefinitely postponed by order of the faculty. This results from the freshmen-sophomore class rush yesterday, in which a number of students were injured.

LEW MOREN BECOMES FULL FLEDGED PIRATE

Manager Clarke's Final Act for This Season Was to Secure Promising Young Twirler.

The last official act of Manager Fred Clarke of the Pirates before starting for his home in Kansas was to secure the signature to a Pittsburgh contract of Lew Moren, the young local pitcher who showed such remarkable box work during the season just closed.

At the request of Manager Clarke, Moren accompanied by his father, visited baseball headquarters yesterday afternoon, where they met both President Dreyfuss and Manager Clarke, and after a short conference during which terms were talked over and agreed on, the young man, with the consent of his father, affixed his signature to the contract, and he is now a full fledged Pirate. The reason for the father's presence was due to the fact that the boy is not yet of age, and the club officials did not care to sign him without the full and free consent of his father.

Manager Clarke stated after the youngster had signed the contract that he regarded Moren as one of the most promising pitchers in the country. He watched his work in the trial given him against the Brooklyn team and is satisfied that the boy has in him the making of a star twirler. It was also given out yesterday that the Pittsburgh club has drafted Infielder Joe Bean of the Jersey City club of the Eastern league, who is to be held and used as a utility infielder. This move is made in order to have a substitute player in case Kruger does not fully recover from his recent injury. Bean was with the New York team last year.

Manager Clarke, accompanied by his wife and little daughter, left last night for their home in Winfield, Kansas. They will stop off in Chicago and spend a few days with Brother-in-law Chic Fraser, after which the week will be spent with Manager Clarke's parents in Des Moines, and from there to their home in Winfield. President Dreyfuss also took a hasty departure last night, having as his destination Cincinnati and Louisville, going on private business.

EAST LIBERTY BEATEN.

The Pittsburgh College Reserves Show Up Stronger and Win, 16 to 5.

The East Liberty academy eleven was beaten by the strong Pittsburgh College Reserve team at D. C. and A. C. park, Wilkinsburg, yesterday afternoon, 16 to 5. East Liberty made its gains by line plunges, finding little trouble in getting through. The Reserves, on the other hand, gained little by hitting the line, but got around the ends for 90 yards. Capt. Gaynor gained the ball over in three successive trials. Goal was missed. The Reserves kicked, and East Liberty was forced to kick. Duffy caught the ball, and, after a neat run, placed it between the goal posts. Relihan kicked goal. Seibert made East Liberty's touchdown though a series of line bucks, bringing the ball from the Reserves' 30-yard line. Lineup:

East Liberty—5.		P.—C. R.—16.
Taylor	L. E.	Duffy
Hamnen	L. T.	Campbell
Straub, McCandless	L. G.	McLaughlin
Edwards, Leak	C.	Steib
Frey	R. G.	Whalen
Edwards, Winn	R. T.	Rankin
Dunn	R. E.	Arens
Hutton	L. H.	Gaynor
Carr	R. H.	Keating
Siebert, Bryan	F. B.	Dowling, Nellan
Bulger	F. B.	Gaynor

Touchdowns—Gaynor (2), Duffy and Seibert. Goals—Relihan. Referees—Spangler and McCheaney. Umpire—Lovejoy. Time of halves—20 and 15 minutes. Head line keeper—Alex. McCracken.

WILL DEPOSE SEXTON.

Dumped by Three I's, Western League Now Seeks His Scalp.

OMAHA, NEB., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Michael H. Sexton of Rock Island, for two years president of two baseball leagues, the Three I's, and the Western, is likely to be completely shorn of his baseball vestments in the St. Louis meeting of the Western league next Wednesday. He was deposed Tuesday from the presidency of the Three I's by the election of Edward Holland of Bloomington, Ill.

Now Manager Rourke of Omaha has delivered the baseball pronunciamento that Sexton cannot be president of a league where he has a team, and he avers he has the support of Packard of Denver, the Van Brunts of St. Joe, and the stock company in Des Moines. Sexton, it is contended, has been too arbitrary in his conducting of the league affairs and too autocratic in his rules.

BOUND FOR COAST.

Fitz Departs from New York to Get in Shape for George Gardner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Bob Fitzsimmons left the city this afternoon bound for San Francisco, where he will go into training at once for his battle with George Gardner, which takes place next month before the Yosemite Athletic club of San Francisco.

The ex-heavyweight champion was accompanied by his wife and little daughter Hazel. He will stop over in Chicago for a few hours only. Immediately upon his arrival on the coast he will start training. When he left Fitzsimmons had not decided just where he would pitch his training camp. He will probably select Croll's gardens, in Alameda, where Jim Corbett trained for Jeffries.

MRS. REATH CHAMPION OF PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Theodore W. Reath of the Riverton (N. J.) Golf club today won the golf championship of Philadelphia on the links of the Huntington Valley Country club. She defeated Mrs. C. F. Fox, who held the championship, 2 up and 1 to play.

Turtle Creek Scores on Homestead.

The Homestead High school team beat the Turtle Creek High school at Turtle Creek yesterday 23 to 6 in a well played game. Turtle Creek is the first team to score on Homestead this season. Lineup:

Turtle Creek H. S.—6.		Homestead H. S.—23.
Teets	L. E.	Ross, Routh (Capt.)
Mason	L. T.	McWhinney
Jones	L. G.	McCorkle

Smith	R. E.	Mehaffey
Kuntz	Q. B.	Posey
W. Kuntz	L. H.	Bryans, Brislin
Nierman	R. H.	Wickerham
Louis	F. B.	Michaels

Touchdowns—Kuntz, Wickerman, Bryans, McWhitney. Umpire—Dr. Long. Referee—John Coppe. Time—25 and 20-minute halves.

Hunting Season in Maryland.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Yesterday the open season in this county for the following game began: Pheasant, partridge, wild turkey, woodcock, rabbit, squirrel and deer. Since 1902 the laws of Garrett county have prohibited the shooting of game, this prohibition to last for three years. The game on the mountains has greatly increased since then, and at the expiration of that time shooting will be at its best here.

CORBETT AND JORDAN TO BATTLE IN 'FRISCO

Contest Will Be at Twenty Rounds and to Take Place in December.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—An international match for the world's featherweight championship has been clinched between "Young Corbett," the king pin of the feathers this side of the Atlantic, and Ben Jordan, who holds the title in King Edward's domain. The contest will take place before the Hayes Valley Athletic club, of San Francisco, during the month of December, probably a week before Christmas. The conditions as made by Jordan in order to weigh not more than 126 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the date set for the battle. The bout is scheduled for 20 rounds, straight Marquis of Queensberry rules, with five ounce gloves. Although the question of a referee will be left open until Jordan's arrival, it is very probable that Eddie Graney will be selected. He has officiated in a similar capacity for important bouts which have taken place in 'Frisco recently. Harry Corbett, a brother of Jim Corbett, who is the leading light of the Pacific coast sporting fraternity, has agreed to hold the forfeits for the principals and club.

Charles Horan, who is looking after the interests of the Englishman, has instructed him to sail for New York on next Wednesday's boat. He will stop over a couple of weeks in the east and will then go to San Francisco to train for the contest.

Corbett will go to 'Frisco about the first of November, accompanied by his trainer, Mike Tuthill. He has two contests on in the east before leaving for the coast. The first, with Tim Callahan, is billed to take place in Philadelphia next Wednesday night, the second is to be decided in Boston on October 27, and Hughey Murphy will be the champion's opponent. They will meet at the Criterion A. C. for a five-round journey.

A match with Tommy Sullivan, to take place during the first week in November, in either St. Louis or Kansas City, may be arranged for Corbett, and in that event he will step over on his way west.

Wilkinsburg Beats Braddock.

The Wilkinsburg High school team won from the Braddock High school eleven yesterday at Wilkinsburg 11 to 0. Moore made both touchdowns for Wilkinsburg. His first was the result of a 90-yard run. Lineup:

Wilkinsburg—11.		Braddock—0.
Morrison	L. E.	Stiepp
Deider	L. T.	Speiker
George	L. G.	Weil
Hinton	C.	Hinman

MORRIS TO RETIRE FROM THE TURF

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Another prominent horseman is to retire from the turf. This time it is Green B. Morris, who for a number of years enjoyed the confidence of J. B. Haggin and was allowed to race the best product of the Rancho Del Paso and Elemendorf studs. Morris is going to sell out all his horses, including the yearlings he expected to race next season. This will come as a surprise to many, for it was thought that Morris would remain on the turf for many years to come.

Dubois Eleven Wins at Punxsy.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Oct. 16.—The Cyclone football eleven of this place was defeated by DuBois this afternoon 5 to 0 in two 15 minute halves. DuBois scored just before the last of the first half on a touchdown made possible by a 50-yard run by Doeling of Reynoldsville, who played for the visiting team. On the last play before the close of the first half he turned his right knee out and had to be carried from the field. In the second half Sid Smith, returned a kick for a gain of 40 yards, but the locals were unable to take the ball down the line before the close of the game.

FAIR CROWD SEES ORDINARY CARD RUN AT BRIGHTON

But One First Choice Makes Good—Stolen Moment Runs Good Race.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The card at Brighton Beach today was featureless and the racing very ordinary. A fair crowd was in attendance and the public had a very bad day as only one favorite won, the other events going to second choices and long shots.

Stolen Moments, second choice in the handicap, one mile and a furlong, was practically left at the post, although she ran a good race and finished a good third. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Wotan, 122, Hicks, 8 to 1 and 5 to 2, won; Outcome, 112, Gannon, 6 to 1 and 5 to 2, second; Robadi, 112, O'Neil, 9 to 5 and 9 to 10, third. Time, 1:14.

Second race, handicap, 1 1-16 miles—Oarsman, 111, Redfern, 3 to 2 and 1 to 2, won; Eugenia Burch, 115, Gannon, 11 to 5 and 1 to 5, second; Tribes Hill, 95, Callahan, 14 to 5 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:47 2-5.

Third race, selling, 6 furlongs—Tol San, 99, Higgins, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Golden Drop, 105, Fuller, 16 to 5 and 6 to 5, second; Judge, 97, W. Daly, 50 to 1 and 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 4-5.

Fourth race, handicap, mile and a furlong—River Pirate, 116, Coburn, 5 to 1 and 4 to 5, won; Injunction, 121, Bullman, 13 to 10 and 1 to 2, second; Stolen Moments, 109, Gannon, 14 to 5 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:52 2-5.

STEUBENVILLE H. S. IS VERY EASY FOE

Unable to Make First Down on Pittsburgh High School—Final Count 39 to 0.

OTHER LOCAL SCHOOL GAMES

Pittsburgh H. S....	39	Steubenville H. S....	0
Pittsburgh Col. H..	16	East Liberty.....	5
Allegheny Preps....	6	Allegheny H. S.....	0
Wilkinsburg H. S..	11	Braddock H. S.....	0
Homestead H. S...	23	Turtle Creek H. S...	0

The Steubenville High school representatives were torn to pieces by the Pittsburgh High school eleven yesterday afternoon at Friendship park. The final score was 39 to 0, in favor of the local students, and it might have been still larger had not the scrub team been sent on the field before the game came to a close.

The Ohioans made a very sorry showing. They did not gain one first down during the seance and their gains did not aggregate 20 yards. The regular high school team played well together, and in fact the Reserves also showed the benefit of Coach James' instructions, they also demonstrating their superiority over the visitors. The regulars made but one fumble, which may be considered an excusable one, Bauer getting mixed up in a pass. It did not result in harm, as Bauer quickly recovered and lost no ground.

Pittsburgh scored just one minute after the kick-off. Steubenville booted the oval to "Midget" Spuhler. "Dunc" Worrell chased around the man and Hilas got in an end skirt and Worrell again was given the ball. He smashed through tackle and end for 45 yards and a touchdown. In the next minute of play Worrell again scored another touchdown, going through from Steubenville's 20-yard line.

The Pittsburgh rooters anticipated a large score, and they were not disappointed. Thereafter it was a succession of line smashes and short end runs, which invariably netted the necessary gains. Pittsburgh ran up 22 points in the first half, and in the second period, when things were coming rather easy, the scrubs were substituted. The lineup:

Pittsburgh—39.		Steubenville—0.
Morrow, Torrence	L. E.	Morrow
O'Neil, Dowling	L. T.	Hayden
Schmidt	L. G.	Loup
Campbell	C.	Moody
Lefft	R. G.	Edwards
W. Johns, McGuire	R. T.	Mock
Carpenter, P. Johns	R. E.	Teucum
Bauer, Leidy	Q. B.	Allison
Bialas, Smith	L. H.	Coleman
Worrell	R. H.	McKinley
W. Orr, Brunwin	F. B.	Dunlevy

Touchdowns—W. Orr, Spuhler, G. Orr 2, Worrell 2, Bialas. Goals—Bauer 4. Referee—Nip. Umpire—McKeever. Timer—Myler. Time—20 and 15-minute halves.

PREPS WIN GAME.

Beat Allegheny High School in Good Game, 6 to 0.

The Allegheny Preps defeated the Allegheny High school yesterday 6 to 0. High school weighed 20 pounds per man more than A. P. S. and made many gains through the Preps' light line. However, at critical stages the Preps held them for downs, once on the two-yard line.

High school kicked to Evans, who returned the ball 10 yards. A. P. S. then by line bucking, the ball to High school's 25-yard line, and there lost on downs. High school took three downs and failed to gain. The Preps then took the ball down and Evans went over for a touchdown. Fundis then kicked goal. A. P. S. kicked to High school, which advanced the ball to the Preps' 30-yard line and lost it on a fumble. The Preps kicked and the half ended.

The second half began with Preps kicking to High school. After High school tried to punt A. P. S. got the ball on downs and took it to the two-yard line, where High school held for downs. High school then punted the ball to A. P. S.' 2-yard line, where the Preps held for downs. A. P. S. kicked and High school got the ball on the 25-yard line and worked it to the 12-yard line, where Thompson tried for a field goal and missed. Both teams played well. McKown made several short runs for High school, while Miller, Kammarer and Dean bucked the line for good gains. P. S. also played a fine game against their heavy opponents. Fleming managed his team well and Evans, Fife and Reiter all made good gains. Fife, Murphy and Stuckey were the stars for the Preps, the latter making a splendid run around left end.

The lineup:

A. P. S.—6.		A. H. S.—0.
Hendricks	L. E.	McKown
Kirk, Murphy	L. T.	Elliot
Fahnestock	L. G.	Spahr
Mayer	C.	Rudolph
Lyons	R. G.	Lacock
Tustin	R. T.	Frederick
Murphy	R. E.	Sutton
Fleming	Q. B.	Thompson
Evans	L. H.	Kammarer
Reiter	R. H.	Miller
Fife	F. B.	Dean

Touchdown—Evans. Goal—Reiter. Time—20-minute halves. Officials—Boss and Hershberger.

INDIAN FROM OLEAN, N. Y., WAS FULL OF FIREWATER

A full-blooded Indian, whose name is Milton Bemit, was one of a party of three arrested last night at Thirty-third street and Penn avenue as suspicious persons. His companions were Joe Tracey and James Cull, white men. The trio are strangers in the city. Bemit is from a reservation near Olean, N. Y. He had imbibed too much firewater and was very hard to handle.

Charged With False Pretense.

Information was made by Alexander Susman before Alderman E. C. Negley of the East End last night against P. Zinkand of Carver steet. The information alleged that Zinkand had obtained $561 by false pretense. It is further alleged that Zinkand was an agent for a men's furnishing house and that he turned in bogus orders and collected his commission from the same. One quick order for $1,200, it is said, was on a large downtown department store. Zinkand was committed to jail and later released on bail.

Brick Fractured Negro's Skull.

Walter Madden, a negro, of No. 33 Washington street, is in the West Penn hospital in a critical condition with a fractured skull. Madden was in a crowd surrounding a merry-go-round in the old Bedford street, water basin Thursday night when a small boy asked him for a chew of tobacco. On getting the tobacco the boy ran away and Madden pursued. Three men followed and Madden was struck on the back of the head with a brick. An operation was performed yesterday.

Pole Seriously Stabbed in Fight.

John Sursura, a Pole, 30 years old, seriously stabbed, lies in the South Side hospital, and seven others are locked up as a result of a fight in a Polish boarding house at No. 3435 Carson street. An argument between Cosure and Karl Valento resulted in a general fight. Knives were drawn and all the men received wounds. Inspector Kelly and a squad of policemen responded to a riot call sent in by Policeman Richard Behers and arrested the participants in the fight.

DENTAL STUDENTS ENJOY A NICE QUIET TIME

Visit the Exposition and Obey the Policemen Who Are Placed on Guard.

Visitors to the exposition were much amused last night by the seriousness with which the young pupils of the Western Pennsylvania dental school started out to have fun. The boys had been arrested the day before for breaking up their instructor's lecture on wisdom teeth with a chase rush, incidentally spattering themselves and the pedestrians with decayed eggs. Magistrate Thomas D. Stewart discharged the pupils yesterday morning with a warning, and the boys left the court room at the Central police station with three cheers for the magistrate and Superintendent of Police McTighe.

Last night they turned out, carrying canes with close ribbons floating from the handles, wearing bizarre bands on their hats and headed by grotesquely clad fife and drum players. They marched up and down Fifth avenue several times, holding aloft banners with such devices as "We Promised McTighe to Be Good," "We Were Jailbirds Yesterday," "Chancellor Brashear Pays the Freight," "We'll Send for Prof. McCurdy When We Get Pinched," "Meet Us at the Exposition" was the legend on a banner that met the eyes of people who were going to the exposition for an evening's quiet enjoyment.

The boys, however, were kept well in hand by the police under Lieut. Lawrence Bartley. They were permitted to shout their class yell in the open space between the musical hall and the main exposition building, but silence was enjoined on them inside the structures. Once they annoyed Walter Damrosch by trooping through the hall in the rear of the music hall, separated by a muslin decoration from the auditorium.

The police heard one boy say: "Let's break up Parsifal; that would please Mme. Wagner," and so, when the time approached for the rendering of extracts from that masterpiece of the Widow Cosimo's husband, Lieut. Bartley had already massed his policemen in the music hall, for the young tooth specialists were seen to be scattered through the hall, apparently primed for mischief. But Prof. Demuth's lecture preluding the performance and the music itself were rendered, the boys adopting devotional attitudes and seeming to be much impressed.

The police were firm, yet gentle. The boys were allowed to shout all they wanted out in the open air, but they had to be on their good behavior wherever their antics might have annoyed visitors to the exposition.

"They never showed their teeth," said a policeman. "Magistrate Stewart drew them."

JURORS CHOSE 150 OUT OF 450 PICTURES OFFERED

Committee of Artists Finishes Work at Carnegie Galleries and Dined in the Evening.

After a hard day's work yesterday the jurors in charge of the exhibition at the Carnegie Art galleries completed their task of selections. Director John W. Beatty announced last evening that the jurors had chosen 150 out of 450 pictures offered.

"This will not, however, be all the pictures exhibited," he said. "We shall have about 100 from the International Society of Painters, Gravers and Sculptors of London. These are now on exhibit in Philadelphia."

Mr. Beatty said that the quality of the exhibition this year will be good. "The average runs particularly even," he said. "There are of course some striking pictures, but the quality of the whole is notably level."

The jurors were the guests of the Fine Arts committee of the Institute directors last evening at the Hotel Schenley at a dinner lasting till midnight. Those present beside the jurors were W. N. Frew, president of the board; Robert Pitcairn, vice president; Col. S. H. Church, secretary; Dr. W. J. Holland, director of the museum; John W. Beatty, director of fine arts; John Caldwell, chairman of the fine arts committee, and William McConway. Joseph R. Woodwell and A. Bryan Wall of the committee. Librarian A. A. Anderson was unable to attend. He is in Virginia. The dinner afforded an opportunity to the officers of the institute to express their appreciation of the services of the jurors.

CLUB WOMEN VISIT THE FIELD OF GETTYSBURG

Are Photographed at the High Water Mark of the Rebellion. Many Return Home.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CARLISLE, PA., Oct. 16.—Today the clubwomen of Pennsylvania stood upon the scene of the most critical struggle between the north and the south, the battlefield of Gettysburg. The bitterness of the fearful conflict of 40 years ago was forgotten when women from the south whom fortune has brought to this state to make their abode, and the women from the north, whose fathers and brothers were mown down in the dreadful carnage, stood side by side and thought only of the heroism of the soldiers who were fighting for the Union. In a special train several hundred women left Carlisle early this morning to go to Gettysburg, 26 miles distant. Carriages were waiting to take the visitors over the scene of the three days' battle. Two parties were formed to facilitate the arrangements for the day and from one objective point to another they drove.

At the spot known as the "high water mark" of the rebellion the women were photographed. The drive was then resumed. In the late afternoon the women returned to Carlisle. Many left tonight for their homes, others staying for the excursion to the state forest reservation at Mt. Alto today.

ANNA R. STRATTON.

IN MEMORY OF SAMUEL W. HAY.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburgh, held October 14, 1903, the following minute was adopted:

It has been the will of our Divine Master to remove from our number a member of this board of directors, Samuel W. Hay, who died on Tuesday, September 29, 1903.

We place upon record our appreciation of his worth and Christian character as manifested in his connection with our organization since 1867, and in the meetings of this board since 1878.

First, by his deep interest in all the work of our association, as shown by his regular attendance, his cheerful willingness to give thought and attention to the welfare of young men, and his desire, often earnestly expressed, that they be brought under Christian influences.

Second, As chairman of the Lawrenceville branch, from 1882 to 1895, he was instrumental in extending the usefulness of the association, enlisting the interest and service of the residents of that community in the welfare of their young men.

Third, Mr. Hay was faithful in office, devoted in service, and earnest in effort. His influence extended beyond the confines of his church and association; in his daily contact with others he sought, in thoughtful ways, to exemplify the doctrines of the gospel of Christ in which his consecrated life, kindly interest and cheerful disposition were an encouragement to many young men.

We bear testimony to his upright Christian character, his devotion to his Lord and Master, and his consistent life of service to Him.

In Christian faith and affection we extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy in their deep sorrow, and we commend them to "the God of all comfort who comforteth us in all our tribulation."

Pittsburgh, October 14, 1903.

Declined the Auditorship.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Oct. 16.—William Henry Eustis of Minneapolis has been offered the position of auditor for the postoffice department at Washington, recently vacated by Capt. H. A. Castle, and has declined.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

SOCIETY

MRS. JOHN WESLEY DUNN was hostess at a charming tea given at her home in Homewood avenue yesterday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Edmund Barry of Fort Dade, Florida, who is her guest, and of her mother, Mrs. John M. McFarland, who has just returned to the city after a long absence. They were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Frank H. Taylor, Mrs. J. Milton Young, Mrs. Charles C. Tyler, Mrs. Jonas G. A. Schreuder, Mrs. Robert J. Young and Mrs. William H. Switter.

Instead of the usual color scheme in monochrome, there was a variety, the drawing-room effect being in pink, the dining-room in red, and the reception hall in yellow dahlias carrying out the colors. Mrs. Barry spent the winter of 1900-1901 here while her husband, Dr. Barry of the United States army, was stationed in the Philippines, when she made many friends, so that the affair was the renewal of old acquaintances rather than an introduction to new ones. Dr. and Mrs. Barry will return to their station at Fort Dade, near Tampa, Fla., early next month. Throughout Mrs. Dunn's home yesterday were exquisite pieces of Chinese and Japanese embroidery, which Dr. Barry collected while in the Philippines.

A Future Event.

A notable event will be the ball to be held by the Zionist council of Pittsburgh at Kenwood Lawn, Tuesday evening, November 3. The council is a federation of all the local Zionist societies. A large attendance is expected and the council has made very elaborate preparations for a most successful and brilliant affair. The following committees have been appointed:

Arrangement committee—Saul Kusminsky, S. Reinwasser, Miss Nettie Moses, Louis H. Miller and Miss Minnie Schamberger.

Printing committee—J. L. Lichter, William Pearlman, J. Solickson.

Refreshment committee—Mrs. I. Dunn, Mrs. A. M. Ashinsky, Mrs. H. B. Ferguson, H. L. Eber and A. Libson.

Music committee—Miss Frances Wasser, I. B. Braverman, Miss Rose Kusminsky, Miss Libbie Schulman and B. Rosenblatt.

Transportation committee—Morris Nasman, H. M. Raphael, Dr. N. Fruchs, Miss B. Amdursky.

Decoration committee—Mrs. Anna Cohen, Mrs. Mollie Finkelhor, Mrs. Tillie Spero, B. Hurvits and A. Shapira.

Floor committee—M. L. Avner, J. Myers, Philip Hanick, Noah Schaefer and A. Schulman.

Reception committee—Mrs. B. Davis, Miss Anna Kilbansky, Miss Ettie Myers, Miss Rose Huntman and Miss Julia Miller.

Press committee—A. Seder, J. Yorkins and A. Zober.

Ticket committee—Samuel Amdursky, Miss B. Goldstein and Miss Jennie Alpern.

Gaiety at Erskine Park.

LENOX, MASS., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. George Westinghouse are entertaining a brilliant house party for several days. Those who came up to beautiful Erskine park this evening were ex-Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip and Mrs. Vanderlip's sister, Miss Cox; Mrs. D. C. Gillett and daughter, Miss Virginia Gillette, all of New York, and Miss Rachael Aiken of Pittsburgh. In their honor Mr. and Mrs. Westinghouse entertained at a dinner of 18 covers this evening. The tables were handsomely decorated with orchids and roses. Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Westinghouse is to give a musical entertainment, the artists being Mme. Homer, contralto, and David Bispham. Tomorrow evening a dinner of 20 covers will be given, the invited guests including many of the Lenox cottagers.

Flinch at the College.

With blended decorations of the two class colors, the sophomores of the Pennsylvania College for Women yesterday afternoon entertained the members of the senior class at flinch. The sophomores with their president, Miss Willa McNit, were assisted in receiving their guests by Miss Mary W. Brownson of the faculty, an honorary member of the class of 1906. Miss Edna McKee is president of the senior class. The orange and white banners of the sophomores were placed side by side with the gold and brown of the seniors, and dahlias further carried out the color scheme. The affair took place in the sophomore den which was dimly lighted by Japanese lanterns. A tie between Miss Jessie Gray and Miss Edna McKee was decided in favor of Miss Gray. Miss Brownson of the faculty entertained with an informal coffee on Thursday. Her guests were the members of her class in Bible study.

Pittsburghers Returning Home.

Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., and her daughter, Miss Virginia Johnston, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning from New York. Mrs. Childs and her daughter have been spending a few days shopping in the east, having stopped en route from their summer home in Manchester, Mass.

H. J. Heinz, his son, Howard Heinz, his sister, Miss Hetty Heinz, and his niece, Miss Edith Frager, are expected home from New York this morning. Howard Heinz has been in the east for some time, but the other members of the party only arrived there Thursday morning, having landed on the Oceanic. Miss Myra Boyd is planning to go to Europe next month, her sailing being set for November 21. Miss Boyd will spend the winter and spring in Paris studying ceramics.

Bridal Attendants Chosen.

The Rev. Alfred W. Arundel of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church will read the marriage service at the wedding of Miss Helen Bowman Mason and George Reed on October 28. Invitations for the wedding were issued this week by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee Mason of Ellsworth avenue, Shadyside. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's brother, Henry Lee Mason, Jr., in North Highland avenue, East End, at 8.30 o'clock. Miss Margaret Reed will be Miss Mason's only attendant, and the ushers will include Robert B. King, Preston Schoyer, George Hallman and George McBride. Joseph Reed will be his brother's best man. Mr. Reed is a son of Mrs. George W. Reed of Fifth avenue.

For a Bride-Elect.

Miss Lois Nuttall Robinsteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinsteen of North Highland avenue, whose engagement to William Wirt Rankin was announced a few weeks ago, will be honor guest at several pretty affairs within the next few weeks previous to her wedding on October 28. Miss Maud Crawford of Oakland gives a miscellaneous shower this afternoon for Miss Robinsteen. Miss Helen Kaufmann of Alder street gives a luncheon on Monday, October 26, and Miss Grace Lindermann will be hostess at a spoon and stock shower on Saturday next at her home in Craft avenue, Oakland.

Patterson—Wiley.

Miss Edna A. Patterson of Fourth street, Braddock, and Harry T. Wiley of Shaner station, Westmoreland county, were married yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Baptist church, North Braddock, by the Rev. George T. Street. The bride wore a traveling gown and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds. She was attended by her sister, Miss Sadie B. Patterson. The best man was Dr. J. H. Graham of Braddock. A reception and wedding dinner were given at the bride's home after the ceremony, which 40 guests attended. After an eastern honeymoon they will be at home to friends in Fourth street.

Braddock Club's Initial Dance.

The initial dance for the winter season of the Braddock club was given last evening in Assembly hall, Wilkinsburg. About 250 guests were present from Braddock, Homestead, Wilkinsburg, Turtle Creek, Pittsburgh, Allegheny and McKeesport. The members to whose efforts the success of the dance is due are Edgar S. Wright, J. Edgar Little, Joseph Price, Jr., Samuel R. Alman, William H. Brown, William Henry Evans, Edwin L. Brown, William M. Hogg, John J. Walker and Frederick N. Pilgram.

An Approaching Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. David McClenahan of New Bedford have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Mary McClenahan, to George Finley Wartman, on Wednesday, October 21. The wedding will take place at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Sara McClenahan, a sister, will attend the bride and the best man will be William H. Mitchell of Cleveland. The Rev. W. H. Springer of New Castle will perform the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. M. Gayley of New Bedford.

Owens—Graham.

Miss Margaret Anna Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Owens of Forestville, and Lewis K. Graham of Mercer, were married yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eastbrick. The Rev. J. A. McCarney, assisted by the Rev. Dr. S. W. Gilkey, officiated. About 75 guests were present. After a wedding dinner the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Pittsburgh and vicinity, and will be at home to their friends in Mercer after November 10.

Club Affairs.

The date for the first of a series of winter dances to be held by the Iroquois club has been changed to October 27 from October 17.

The Rogetta Euchre club met for the first time at the home of Miss Nellie Enright, Gross street, last Tuesday. The first prizes were won by J. J. Duffy and Miss Beatrice Moore, and the second prizes by Mr. Frank Miller and Miss Margaretta McCullough.

The White and Lavender cotillion will resume its Tuesday night dances at Brooks' academy, Penn avenue, beginning next Tuesday, and continuing every Tuesday during the season. The following compose the committee: A. J. Walsmith, William Sipple, Walter McCabe, Edward Noonan, M. Joyce, J. Kain, Joseph Tanney, James Carey, William Coyne and Harry Curran.

The social committee of the North Side club, Allegheny, has arranged for its opening reception and dance next Friday evening in Cyclorama parlors, Beech and Irwin avenues. These receptions and dances will be held monthly during the fall and winter. The social committee is composed of Robert P. Louden, Lyman M. Clark, William Louden, H. Dale Clark, Victor K. Watson and Clarence G. Reiter.

Some Future Entertainments.

Miss Eastman, the new dean at the Pennsylvania College for Women, has cards out for an at-home in her parlors at the college on Monday evening.

Mrs. Russell H. Boggs will give a large dance at the Hotel Schenley, December 30, when her daughter, Miss Emma Buhl Boggs, will make her debut.

Invitations were issued yesterday by Judge and Mrs. John M. Kennedy for a reception from 5 until 8 o'clock on October 27, to introduce their daughter, Miss Narcisse Kennedy.

Mrs. Samuel Blair Griffiths of Howe street has issued cards for a reception next Wednesday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock. The Griffiths have but lately removed from Maryland avenue to their new home in Howe street, and the reception next week will be in the nature of a housewarming.

Notes of Society.

Alexander Bates, Harry Hays, Carl Vilsack, all Shadyside boys, left this week for St. Mary's college, Belmont, N. C.

Miss Olive Duff of Washington avenue, Allegheny, gives a hearts party this afternoon for Miss Clara Edith Forger, whose wedding with David Aiken Pitcairn takes place on Wednesday. The hours are from 2 o'clock until 5.

Miss Nell Kirkpatrick gave a flinch party last evening at her home in Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, in honor of Miss Mary Josephine Torrance, whose wedding to Wesley F. Holmes occurs next week in the First Presbyterian church. During the evening Mrs. Kirkpatrick announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Nell Dunbar Kirkpatrick, and Harry Elder Brosius.

A pretty but quiet home wedding took place on Thursday evening at the home of the Bride's father, James H. Graham of Old Franklin road, Allegheny, when Miss Eleanor Graham became the wife of M. Fred Weitzel. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. S. Brown of the Mt. Zion Lutheran church. The bride was given away by her father, and attended by her sister, Miss Katherine Graham. She was gowned in white chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley and roses. Miss Graham carried chrysanthemums and wore white. Mr. and Mrs. Weitzel will make their home in Massachusetts avenue, Allegheny.

CRUCIBLE STEEL WILL PROSPER UNDER MR. PARK

With Well-Known Business Man at Helm Its Prosperity Is Assured.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Sun says: "So much has been heard of the woes of the Crucible Steel Company and so many sinister yarns have been published about the concern that it is a relief to have the whole affair disposed of by the taking over of practical control by Mr. Park.

"The Crucible company is a very valuable one but of course it has experienced many difficulties. One thing is certain and that is that under the direction of the new controlling interest it will prosper. Mr. Park has a reputation for conservatism and he has the confidence of the people of Pittsburgh, where he is well known."

SEWICKLEY HEIGHTS WINS.

Carried the Election and Will Have a New Township.

The residents of Sewickley Heights have won their fight for new township lines, and as the result of the special election held on Thursday one will be formed, composed of portions of Sewickley, Ohio, Aleppo and Leet townships. It will be known as Sewickley Heights township.

In the first precinct there were 92 votes in favor of the new township and 19 votes against it; in the second precinct 6 votes were cast for the new township and 28 votes against, giving those who want the change a majority of 51. The court will be asked to make the order for the new township.

KILLED BY HIGHWAYMEN; BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 16.—While returning to his home at Salem from this city late tonight, Joseph Gray was held up by an unknown highwayman, who shot him in the stomach without saying a word. Gray crawled to his home and died shortly afterward. The assassin disappeared without robbing Gray. Officers and bloodhounds are scouring the country for the man.

RIFLED A SAFE AND ESCAPED ON A HANDCAR

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Burglars last night blew open the safe in the postoffice at St. Regis Falls, securing a few checks and a large quantity of stamps, but very little currency. Then they stole a handcar on the New York & Ottawa railroad and rode a distance of 15 miles. From there it is believed they made for Canada, the line being only about 10 miles away.

Smash-Up Caused by Frightened Horse.

A frightened horse caused a smash-up at the intersection of East street and the Evergreen road, Allegheny, last night in which three women were painfully injured. The horse, driven by Mrs. Mary Rolthouse, scared at a car and ran away. The rig collided with a telegraph pole and Mrs. Rolthouse, her daughter Margaret, aged 10 years, and Mrs. Margaret Longendorfer were thrown out. All were removed to the home of Mrs. Rolthouse at No. 3092 Perryville avenue.

The Law

Of health has no uniformed guardians of its peace. If it had there would be arrests innumerable in every restaurant every day of the year. Both in the quantity and quality of the food they eat and in the manner of its consumption men and women sin each day against the laws of health. Those who will not heed Nature's warnings cannot escape her punishments, and dyspepsia or stomach "trouble" is the invariable penalty of careless eating.

There is no other medicine for diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition which can compare with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures these diseases perfectly and permanently, and enables the building up of the whole body into vigorous health.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carnes, Esq., of Taylorsville, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. There was a gentleman told me about your medicine, how it had cured his wife. I thought I would try a bottle of it. I am glad I did, for I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH

Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Method—Every Breath of Hyomei Brings Relief.

Nearly everyone who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it by drugging the stomach. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomei you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket, and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Schilling Bros. Co., Penn and Franks-town avenues, have sold a great many Hyomei outfits, and the more they sell the more convinced they are that they are perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not cure.

CELEBRATIONS IN MANY CHURCHES

Exercises by Second Presbyterian Congregation at One Hundredth Anniversary.

CORNER STONE IS TO BE LAID

Several Houses of Worship Will Have Special Services in Commemoration of Important Events—New Pastor Is to Be Installed.

The centennial celebration of the organization of the Second Presbyterian church, the Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor, will begin tomorrow morning and continue for three days. All the living former pastors are expected to be present besides many others holding notable positions in the church. The program will begin at 10 o'clock a. m., and something will be going on from then until 9 o'clock p. m.

St. James' parish will celebrate its 50th anniversary by laying the corner stone of its new stone church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The church will be at Kelly and Collier streets, Twenty-first ward.

The First German Baptist church, Nineteenth street, South Side, the Rev. H. C. Gleiss, pastor, will be reopened tomorrow morning and the new organ will be dedicated.

The Church of God, College avenue and Spahr street, the Rev. J. L. Updegraph pastor, tomorrow will celebrate its seventh anniversary and the sixth anniversary of the present pastorate.

The Rev. H. N. Fegley, D. D., of Mechanicsburg, Pa., will install his son, the Rev. Charles E. Fegley, as pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran church, Juniata street, Allegheny, at the services tomorrow morning.

The Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach, pastor of the Church of the Ascension, Reformed, will preach tomorrow morning in the temporary quarters, the Eleventh ward schoolhouse, Allegheny, on "The Message of Christ to the Labor Unions."

The Rev. E. L. Wells, late assistant at Calvary Episcopal church, and in charge of St. Philip's mission, has accepted a call to St. Luke's church, Bridgeport, Conn., and has entered upon his duties there. Mr. Wells practiced law in Bridgeport for many years, and his return there as a minister is welcomed by his many friends.

The opening address to the students of the Allegheny Theological seminary will be given tomorrow evening by the Rev. James A. Grier, D. D., of the Ninth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny.

The Rev. Paul Weyand of Beaver will enter upon his duties as pastor of the Knoxville Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow. Mr. Weyand organized this church in 1896 and was the pastor for many months. He has just completed a three years' course in the Drew Theological seminary, Madison, N. J., and was appointed to the Knoxville pastorate at the recent conference.

St. Walburga Roman Catholic church, in the extension of Lincoln avenue, will be dedicated tomorrow. The Rev. Father F. L. Tobin will officiate and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father Joseph Stohr. The church is an offshoot of Ss. Peter and Paul's congregation and has been organized only about six months. The building is a frame structure and will cost about $7,000. The Rev. Father George Guenther is pastor.

The East Pittsburgh United Brethren congregation, Linden avenue, near Beech street, Turtle Creek, will dedicate its church tomorrow. The Rev. A. L. Frank, the pastor, aided in digging the cellar and laying the stone for the superstructure. Three corner stone layings have taken place in Turtle Creek in the last four weeks, and this is the third church to be dedicated within that time.

WILLISHOUSE PLEADED GUILTY TO A MURDER

Admits Killing Henry Sawerwald and Tells How It Was Committed.

Oscar Willishouse yesterday pleaded guilty to the murder of Henry Sawerwald. Willishouse said both had been drinking. Sawerwald wanted him to drink, and when he first refused poured the liquor down his back. They had quarreled over Peter Ryland, who was not wanted by Sawerwald, and who was driven from the house.

Willishouse said he went to bed and was awakened by his wife's screams. Sawerwald was standing at his bed with a stick. He took the stick from him and struck him over the head four or five times. He placed him in a chair and went for water. In the meantime Sawerwald died. Mrs. Willishouse made the bloody footmarks on the floor in leaving the house.

Judge Rodgers, who had consulted with Attorney J. M. Friedman, discharged the jury and remarked that under the facts and the evidence the law would not permit a first degree verdict, as it was not shown there was premeditation.

Executions Issued.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Matpeva vs. Kate Donahue, $63 35; Springdale Building & Loan Association vs. Harry E. Armstrong, $3,280 97; same vs. same, $3,280 70; Lizzie Marvin et al, assignees, vs. James M. Esler, exrs., $1,894 50; Harry E. Wyand, Jr., vs. William M. Craven, $157 50; The Board of Ministerial Relief of the United Presbyterian church of North America, use, vs. Thomas Brown et al, $2,250; John J. Roche vs. Samuel A. Scaife, $2,189 33; David C. Nesbit vs. William D. Repper, $1,104 15; John F. Cox vs. Evan Jones et ux, $961 50; M. C. Martin vs. John H. McMillan et al, $1,607 05; Matilda Kuhn vs. Demmler vs. Samuel W. Arnold, $836 33; Mary E. Chamberlain, use, vs. Amanda Ida Morrison, $288 50; Hulings & Sons vs. Huling Bros., $491 49; Mrs. H. Erdman vs. Henrich Schisler, $75.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Joseph G. Braden of Allegheny county and Harry Bell of Venango county were discharged from bankruptcy.

Letters testamentary were granted Elizabeth Vogel on the estate of Joseph Vogel. Attorney William Hunter filed the will.

James N. McMillan and Margaret E. Smith took out letters on the estate of John Forbes. Attorney J. McF. Carpenter represents the estate.

Two suits to recover $270 and $611 commission were entered by C. Schoff against Noll, Siebring & Co., dealers in cabinet work and fixtures. Schoff claims he had a verbal contract by which he was to get 10 per cent commission on all orders he secured.

Exceptions have been filed to the decree of the court of quarter sessions placing the costs of the contested election of John Upperman to select councils on the petitioners. It is held there is no authority in law for so placing the costs. A rule was granted on Upperman to show cause why the order should not be set aside.

Judge J. W. Over in orphans' court, after hearing the testimony in the petition of Rose Moriarty to be relieved from the guardianship of her father, John Moriarty of Denny street, remanded the girl to the home of the Good Shepherd until the case can be decided. The girl testified her father beat her without cause, and the father testified he had placed her in the home for the purpose of correction.

A probate of the will of Rebecca Jessat, late of Homestead, has been refused by the register of wills. The will disposes of an estate by leaving everything to Joseph Neuoua. Her signature follows this and then a clause appointing Nemeon executor without bond is written below her signature. The fact that the signature is not at the end of the entire instrument is the cause given for the refusal to probate the will.

A. B. Lyons has sued Thomas & Co. for $10,000 damages for an alleged invasion of his house by the defendant company's agents. He says he leased a bill of house furnishings amounting to $250 50 on November 28, 1902, and on October 2, 1903, had paid in various payments $80 and was in possession of the goods, when the defendant by its agents broke down his door and stripped the house, after pointing a revolver at him and beating him severely.

The Pittsburgh Vein Coal Company has entered suit against John M. Anderson to recover $3,805 alleged to have been paid by the plaintiff for the defendant on a note. The statement avers that since January 1, 1901, the defendant and certain others were jointly and severally indebted to the Union Trust Company on a promissory note which was originally for $200,000. The plaintiff claims that at the special instance of defendant it paid $3,805, his proportionate share.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was issued in the United States district court yesterday. The petition was against the Standard Exchange Company of Butler, and was filed by Bruno Rumano and others. They alleged that they had deposited $844, in various sums, with the company to be sent to Italy; that the money was not forwarded, and that the company had transferred money and property to defraud its creditors. The petition was signed by Schaffner and Clerk W. T. Lindsey returned it to the petitioners. It was said that an effort would be made to settle the matter without bankruptcy proceedings.

HEROES BECAME FRIENDS AT LAST

Mrs. Logan Tells How Breach Between Sherman and Logan Was Closed.

ARMY SOCIETIES BANQUET

Concluding Function of Those Attendant Upon Unveiling of Sherman Statue Held in Washington—Brave Deeds of Four Armies Are Recounted Again.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—With a joint banquet of the societies of the Armies of the Tennessee, the Cumberland, the Ohio and the Potomac, the social functions incident to the unveiling of the Sherman statue were brought to a close tonight. Plates were laid for 500 in the Arlington hotel banquet room, which was elaborately decorated with flags and flowers.

Maj.-Gen. John R. Brooke, who represented the Society of the Army of the Potomac, gave an account of the part played by that army in the civil war. Capt. John J. McCook, on behalf of the Army of the Cumberland, paid an eloquent tribute to Gen. Sherman and to the record of the army of the Cumberland. John McElroy recounted the deeds of the army of Ohio.

Prolonged applause greeted the Rev. Thomas E. Sherman, a son of Gen. Sherman, as he arose to speak on behalf of the army of the Tennessee. Father Sherman's address was a splendid tribute to the record of that army and the memory of the men who made its name famous.

Reference to the quarrel between Gen. John A. Logan and Gen. Sherman was the feature of the speech of Mrs. John A. Logan, the subject of whose address was "Sherman." Of this incident, Mrs. Logan said:

"It may not be inappropriate for me, on this occasion, to say that whatever of misunderstanding and estrangement may have existed between the two great commanders of the army of the Tennessee at one time was wholly obliterated by Gen. Logan's tribute to Gen. Sherman at a notable banquet given by Col. Corkhill to Gen. Sherman on his retirement as general of the army. When Gen. Logan finished Gen. Sherman arose, went around to Gen. Logan, put his arm about his neck and shook his hand cordially, while the tears ran down his cheeks. His emotions were too great for words."

ELEVEN ITALIANS HELD.

Proofs Brought to Show That Naturalization Papers Were Fraudulently Secured.

United States Commissioner H. D. Gamble yesterday held for court 11 Italians alleged to have secured or aided in securing naturalization papers fraudulently. Bail in each case was fixed at $1,000.

The prisoners are: Gregario Scallari, Guiseppi Paravati, Guiseppi Pettinato, Vincenzo Pettinato, Joseph Sorenti, Guiseppi Manna, Gregario Lazoro, Dominico Greco, Guiseppi Furio, Charles Barbero and Filippo Borrelli.

The arrests were made last Monday by Capt. W. P. Walsh of the United States secret service. All of the accused, with the exception of Sorenti and Vincenzo Pettinato, are alleged to have sworn they were residents of the United States for five years or more, but they have been here for considerably less than that time. Sorenti and Vincenzo Pettinato are charged with having aided and abetted these alleged frauds.

W. E. Junker, chief of the division of statistics and records of the United States immigrant bureau, with headquarters at Ellis Island, New York, appeared with the original manifest of several steamships. On these were shown the dates on which each prisoner is alleged to have landed in New York. In each case it was shown that the prescribed time, five years, had not elapsed.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant United States District Attorney Robert Gibson, while the defense was represented by Williams, Brennen, Thomas B. Alcorn, W. S. Blair, assistant city attorney, and G. K. Wright.

P. R. R. TO SELL DIRECT COAL FROM ITS MINES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Pennsylvania railroad has decided upon a radical change in its method of selling anthracite coal. On January 1 it will sell its own coal direct. Notice to that effect has been served upon the four firms which for years have been its sales agents.

WAGES WERE ADVANCED INSTEAD OF REDUCED

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Oct. 16.—In contradiction to the report that the Harriman syndicate's lines would reduce operating expenses, principally in the shops of the Chicago & Alton, officials today announced a radical advance in wages of the shop employes, ranging from 8 to 13 per cent.

M'GEARY ANSWERS HUFF.

Denies That Money He Attached Was Pay of Soldiers.

George H. McGeary has filed an answer to the rule to show why an attachment he secured against Capt. Charles C. Huff on money in the Monongahela Trust Company should not be dissolved. The answer alleges that several of Huff's statements in his petition are untrue.

The answer sets forth in part: "It is not true that defendant had no other or personal interest in same fund except his camp pay of $40."

The answer further avers that the officers and enlisted men of the military company have all been paid the sums due them, and that the amount attached is the individual property of Huff.

Venango Cases Argued.

Two cases from Venango county were argued in the supreme court yesterday, closing the first week of the session. One was the appeal of Mahle vs. Mahle from the decision of the court in granting a non-suit for damages for the death of her husband, who was killed in a railway accident. Mrs. Nettie Norville also appealed from a non-suit in a case involving services as a nurse.

MARKETS WERE STRONG AND MADE GOOD GAINS

Crucible Steel the Local Feature—Pittsburgh Coal and Electrics Higher—Entire New York List Advanced.

There was a continuance yesterday of the strength displayed near the close on Thursday in all markets. This was not shown decisively in the early trading, when the bears made vigorous efforts to hammer prices down. So much resistance was shown to this process, however, that the bears became alarmed, started to cover and found prices slipping up very easily on their bidding. Practically the entire list made substantial gains during the day, though two or three stocks lagged behind the general movement. Norfolk & Western was notably reluctant in the advance, though it had been ready enough to yield to the earlier downward pressure.

Among brokers and dealers there was a decidedly hopeful feeling, the belief being prevalent that leading stocks have gone into strong hands; that whatever of revenge may have figured in recent movements has been eliminated by changes in ownership; that money conditions will become easier and that every basic factor is favorable to rapid recovery of confidence and general business. Where a few days ago traders exhibited uncertainty and fear there is now a general air of relief, which appears more than warranted by the fact that the gale has been weathered without a wreck having occurred.

In the local market Crucible Steel continued in the center of the stage and made up fully one-third of the total transactions of the day. The offering during the early hours was free, but it was promptly demonstrated that every offer would be taken. The range on the common stock was narrow, but the close was at the highest quotation. The preferred, however, opened ¼ higher than the close of the day before and rose steadily from 38¾ to 40, a total of 4,341 shares changing hands during the day. The last sale was at 40, but the closing bid was higher. The strong support was accounted for on the ground that even if the preferred dividend is passed it will be because good earnings are devoted to the payment of indebtedness, thereby leaving the cumulative preferred the first claimant against a good property. The other course would have been to convert indebtedness into bonds, thus creating a claim preceding that of the preferred stock and lessening its chances for continuous dividends. The gossip is that when the annual balance is made public it will show earnings that practically assure early realization of profits by the preferred stockholders, if the dividend is passed at this time.

Next to Crucible the most active spots in the local market were Pittsburgh Coal and Westinghouse Electric. Pittsburgh Coal common sold up to 22 and closed with 21 bid and the talk about the business of the company was all bullish. The impulse for Westinghouse Electric came from New York, but was taken up here on active trading, 1,345 shares changing hands, mostly at the higher figures. The advance was from 66¾ to 68.

In the New York market the early trading showed fractional declines despite cables ranging ⅛ to ¼ above the previous day's close. Norfolk & Western was a conspicuous mark, selling down from 56¼ to 55¾ and there was a bear tip out concerning it and Baltimore & Ohio. Later the upward movement commenced, in which Baltimore & Ohio fully sympathized, while Norfolk dragged. American Smelters and Refiners, the weakest thing on the list Thursday, showed remarkable strength, the common selling up from 88¾ at the opening to 90¾ at the close, the preferred selling up from 83 to 83¾. Amalgamated Copper also gained more than three points during the day.

United States Steel, so quiet on Thursday, became an active feature yesterday afternoon, the common advancing from 12¾ at the opening to 14¼ and closing at 14, while the preferred sold up from 57¾ at the opening to 62 and closed with 61¾ bid. The belief has become quite settled in New York that the Standard Oil party has obtained control at the low prices; that it is taking counsel from H. C. Frick and that this means a financial management on a par with the concededly excellent management of the operating departments. At any rate, Wall street looks more kindly upon the big corporation.

Canadian Pacific shared fully in the advance, which sets at rest the rumors of a few days ago concerning Montreal. The opening on the stocks was at 118 and the close at 120⅝ bid, which put it among the leaders in net gains. Thus St. Paul gained 2⅝ from 153⅜ to 138, while Canadian Pacific gained 2⅝. The Montreal story was yesterday stated a canard in the same class as the earlier reports affecting Pittsburgh, which have also been proven false. If there were no other indication that the liquidation is no longer spontaneous, such desperate tactics by the bears would afford one, it is said.

Pressed Steel Car, which was the subject of another bear report on Thursday—a report promptly refuted—showed considerable strength yesterday. The common advanced from 29¼ at the opening to 31 at the close and the preferred from 68½ to 70¾. American Locomotive continued the subject of bear gossip on account of litigation.

New York is greatly encouraged by the belief that the Standard Oil party has become a general buyer and now favors higher prices. This party is conceded one of the strongest in influence and the recent advances in the price of petroleum adds materially to its available cash, as having been practically the sole owner of surplus stocks and a majority of the production that is now being marketed in finished forms. The Standard interest was known as a heavy seller months ago at the high prices, preferring at that time to lend money to those who were buying stocks, rather than to buy them itself. That put its members in excellent position to buy and retire securities when they became cheap and the belief that they have been investing very heavily during this week and last is a principal basis for the present hopeful tone.

New York reported yesterday an active demand for bonds for investment.

The banks have been gaining in cash this week and the prediction was confidently made from New York yesterday that today's bank statement will be highly favorable.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

Transactions on the Pittsburgh exchange yesterday foot up 9,482 shares, stock and $5,000 bonds. Sales:

Question of Dates.

Anent the general discussion of the beginning of the period of liquidation in Wall street and its causes, the Wall Street Journal has printed an interesting comparison of dates. The Journal says:

In order to get this question of dates and events down in definite shape, the following is presented as a summary of the Wall street indictment against President Roosevelt:

February 19, 1902—Anti-trust—Announcement by attorney-general would file suit against the Northern Securities Company for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

October 8, 1902—Labor—White House conference on the anthracite coal strike. Thirteen days later commission was appointed to settle strike.

February 11, 1903—Publicity—Passage of bill giving department of commerce and bureau of corporations.

It is fair to ask, however, if it is not possible that there were other causes, far more powerful, for the present disorder. Other things have happened in the past three years than the events that have been enumerated. We present a few of them for consideration:

February 26, 1901—Steel—Organization of United States Steel Corporation; total securities, $1,328,000,000; payment of dividends on common stock from the beginning.

May 9, 1901—Northern Pacific corner—Contest for control of Northern Pacific causes a panic.

July, 1901—Wabash in Pittsburgh—Gould syndicate makes its first move to tidewater. Contracts let for entrances into Pittsburgh. Beginning of fight between Gould-Rockefeller and Pennsylvania-Morgan interests.

November 13, 1901—Northern Securities trust—Organization of the Northern Securities Company; capitalization $100,000,000.

March 3, 1902—Steel bond plan—Steel Corporation's conversion plan to raise $50,000,000 additional capital.

April, 1902—Mr. Gates' big coup—Louisville & Nashville speculation resulting in change of control.

June 17, 1902—Shipbuilding trust—Organization of United States Shipbuilding Company; stocks and bonds.

July 31, 1902—Rock Island trust—Formation of Rock Island Company with a holding company having a novel device by which immense system could be controlled by one-half of preferred stock.

October, 1902—Shipping trust—Organization of International Mercantile Marine with $195,000,000 of securities.

May 19, 1903—Telegraph wires cut—Pennsylvania, chief wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Let our readers take these two lists of events and study them in the light of recent developments in the stock market. For ourselves, we are free to say that, in our opinion, the unsoundness in the financial situation which has led to the severe declines in values antedated the beginning of the suit against the Northern Securities Company. The fierce contest for the control of the Northern Pacific railroad which precipitated the panic of May, 1901; the organization of the Northern Securities Company which threatened the formation of the greatest trust ever known; and the establishment of the United States Steel Corporation, with a capitalization that startled the world, and the payment of dividends on the vast aggregate of common stock from the very beginning—these events, it should be observed, preceded the suit against the Northern Securities Company. The plan for the conversion of steel preferred stock into bonds so as to obtain $50,000,000 additional capital for the huge corporation, Mr. Gates' big coup in Louisville and Nashville, and the organization of the shipbuilding company and the great Rock Island holding company preceded the White House conference with Mitchell, while the International Mercantile Marine was formed in the same month that the conference. All of these things preceded the establishment of the department of commerce with its bureau of corporations.

It seems to us as if remedies had been confused with causes, as if certain people were mistaking the medicines for the disease. Mr. Roosevelt did not produce the panic of May, 1901. He did not form the Northern Securities Company. What he did was to apply the remedy. Mr. Roosevelt did not cause the coal strike. He merely applied the remedy. He took steps to stop it. Any other course would have been one of the most serious disasters in the history of this country. Certainly no one would connect Mr. Roosevelt with any of the various stages of promotion, with vast over-capitalizations, nor would it be fair to accuse him of the extraordinary plan to raise $50,000,000 for the Steel Corporation by converting preferred stocks into bonds. The president cannot be blamed for the stringency in the money market, for his secretary of the treasury has taken every measure in his power, both last year and this, to prevent it. The president is not responsible for the Gould-Pennsylvania contest.

What Wall street is suffering from is not the result of the president's efforts to save the country from great evils, but the consequences of the evils themselves which so weakened the financial structure and unsettled confidence as to produce the severe fall in prices.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Evidences of a systematic attack on Baltimore & Ohio securities accumulated rapidly yesterday. Beside the New York telegrams, brokers and financial editors in every important financial center have received a circular letter originating from an unknown source and starting out with "A Prominent Banker says." After several "bears" say "Baltimore & Ohio has had several years' boom in the bituminous coal and the iron trade to swell earnings, beside the enormous increased charged up from carrying its own construction material." The idea of a railroad helping to swell its income account by the traffic department charging the engineering department for the transportation of the road's own material causes a smile wherever the letter was received. It happened that a representative of the general manager's office of the Baltimore & Ohio was in Pittsburgh yesterday, and said that this was the second letter of the kind that had originated from some unknown source inside of three weeks attacking Baltimore & Ohio stocks. The described method of swelling the income was not dignified with a denial. The only railroad mentioned in the letter is the Baltimore & Ohio, and particular attention is directed to its common stock. Its general effect has been to cause wonder as to who is trying so to depress Baltimore & Ohio common as to be able to buy it at bargain prices.

The upward tendency of yesterday's market is shown by the fact that 12 of the 10 stocks dealt in during the day on the Pittsburgh exchange closed higher, while three were unchanged and four were lower. An analysis of the transactions shows that about two-thirds of the sales were made at higher prices than the same stocks sold on the day before.

The telegram from New York yesterday announcing that Harland & Wolff, manufacturers and shipbuilders of Belfast, Ireland, had closed with the United States Steel Corporation for their supply of steel, averaging 150,000 tons yearly, for a decade, is of interest here. The fact that the steel corporation intends to play a more important role in the world's markets and replace with foreign sales to the largest possible percentage of American orders, has been known for a couple of weeks. This is one of the first evidences of the corporation succeeding in obtaining entirely new business of large proportions since it enjoyed actively upon its new rank.

All advices from New York agreed the market on Thursday showed urgent covering of shorts, who suddenly decided the liquidation of long stocks was over for the present. The bear interest is usually composed of professional traders and men of ripe experience, so when they turn panicky there is apt to be good reasons for their change.

S. L. Maxwell, at one time a heavy operator on the Oil City oil exchange, but now a quiet merchant, was a visitor on Exchange yesterday.

Since a week ago the New York banks have gained $2,181,090 from the sub-treasury.

T. J. Taylor and Wormser were among the heavy buyers of Pressed Steel Car preferred in the New York market.

Oil City reported the sale of one certificate, the first for many weeks, at $1.72, an advance of 7c over the credit balance quotation. This created a momentary stir of interest on the part of the 8 or 10 members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange who were active members of its predecessor, the Pittsburgh petroleum exchange. It also set G. C. Kuhn to figuring up how many of those members beside himself are on the board now.

The first dividend on Reading second preferred was well received and gave encouragement to the market, being regarded as good, sound policy. There was, however, no specific declaration that it was to be semi-annual.

The report of the committee examining American ice shows marked improvement of conditions and that the floating indebtedness has been reduced about two-thirds in amount.

Considerable gratification was felt in New York over the fact that the London settlement period has passed without a hitch. There had been rumors involving large London houses, but these have proven without foundation in as far as the settlements indicate.

Missouri Pacific made a very favorable showing for August earnings, the gross being upward of $4,000,000 for the month, an unprecedented figure, while the increase in net earnings over the same month last year is $700,000. A-Z

NINE-MILE RUN IS WANTED FOR YARDS

Jones & Laughlin Steel Company Is Securing Options on Many Plots.

MARKET STREET SALE $38,000

North Highland Residence Sold for $15,000—Two Suburban Realty Companies Consolidate—Big Project in Bethel Township.

The latest real estate project of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company is the purchase of Nine Mile run, in the Twenty-second ward, according to information received from reliable sources. During last week options are said to have been taken on 54 acres of land in the run at prices ranging around $5,000 an acre. The options were secured by one of the property holders in connection with the real estate magnate of the city, and have been presented to the officials of the company for final approval. It is reported that the purchase has been decided on and that the deals will be closed in a short time.

Nine Mile run is a small stream which crosses the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Highland station. The part desired by the steel company has an average width of perhaps one-fourth of a mile and extends along both sides of Biddle street nearly to the borough line of Wilkinsburg. The property near the railroad is in small parcels, but farther up the run the land is in dairy farms of from 20 to 50 acres each. Part of all these farms lies on the adjacent hillsides and would not be available for the steel company's use. Among the prominent owners are James McKelvey, John L. and Robert Phillips, Margaret S. Hay, Thomas McNeil, L. Keyser, J. Shaw and E. and L. Anshutz. Some time ago an effort was made to option the properties for a similar purpose, but nothing was accomplished.

May Be a Wabash Scheme.

Property owners who have given options say that the Jones & Laughlin company wants the run for yards for their metal, coke and ore. The company has secured practically all the property in Second avenue that is available, and this strip would give it a tremendous advantage in handling its products. It would also give the company a dumping ground for years, as the run is liable to be flooded from the Monongahela river in times of flood and would have to be filled up to a considerable depth to make it most serviceable. To get into the run the company would have either to go under the Baltimore & Ohio tracks, which cross it near its mouth, or come in on a trestle. There are nearly 160 acres of land in the run that could be used for yards and it would furnish one of the few choice locations left around the city. Recent developments indicate that the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company is working hand in hand with the Wabash railroad in its projects, and this leads to the supposition that Nine Mile run may also be used by the Wabash for freight yards.

Cash Sale In Market Street.

The former Edmundson property at No. 111 Market street, which was bought several months ago by R. D. McGonigle, has been sold for $38,000. The reputed buyer is Charles Donnelly. The property is on the west side of the street, next to the Diamond, and measures 25x76 feet. It is a five-story brick building used for stores makes the lot of a little more than the average value on that street for renting purposes. The purchase, which was understood to have been on a trade basis, is at the rate of $1,652 a front foot, or $23 60 a square foot. The last sale in this vicinity was that of the Frank McCann holdings at the southeast corner of Market street and Third avenue, the latter lot measures 32x90 feet, the sale was at the rate of $3,906 a front foot, or $68.45 a square foot. This deal, however, is understood to have been on a trade basis, as was also Mr. McGonigle's purchase of the Edmundson lot for a record-breaking figure.

Through the office of W. L. Woods the property at No. 816 North Highland avenue has been sold for $15,000. It belonged to the George Rutter heirs and the present owner is Annie B. Williams. The lot is 50x180 feet, and is improved with a good residence.

Two Suburban Companies Consolidate.

Two of the largest real estate companies in the Monongahela valley have consolidated, with a joint capital of $250,000. They are the Homestead Realty Company of Homestead, and the Duquesne Library Land Company, which was organized one year ago. Each company has a paid-up capital of $125,000, and the new concern will retain the name of the Homestead company, the stockholders of the Duquesne company to be paid dollar for dollar for their holdings. The Homestead company is paying from 9 to 11 per cent on its capital stock. It owns and controls ten allotments in Homestead and vicinity and also the Realty building at Homestead. The Duquesne company, which bought 25 acres surrounding the Carnegie library in Duquesne, is now grading and plotting this property for town sites. The new company, of which F. O. Boyd will be president, will have its offices at Eighth and Auity streets, Homestead.

The Fidelity Realty Company of Homestead, organized two months ago, has just declared a dividend of 12½ per cent on a capital of $100,000. The company owns two allotments in Munhall borough, which have been very successful, and also two apartment houses in Homestead.

Brewing Company Back of It.

The purchase by a number of Pittsburgh men of 2,000 acres of land in Bethel township last spring is gradually taking on considerable significance. The latest development is rumored that the Pittsburgh Brewing Company is back of the deal, as prominent members of that company are among the land owners. Under the name of the Pittsburgh Park Land Company a boulevard is being laid out around the entire plot, and a station has been established on the Pittsburgh & Charleroi street railroad. The Lesnett farm, one of those bought, is being plotted and provided with the usual lot improvements. These improvements, with others under way on adjacent properties, are estimated to cost $15,000. Three charters have been secured, one for a water company, one a gas company and an electric light company. None of the property will be marketed until next spring, when the new tunnel street car line will bring it within 20 minutes' ride of the city and make it one of the most desirable suburbs in the Castle Shannon district.

The Bethel Valley Land Company is preparing to build another reception house, a brick one, in Millvale avenue, near Center avenue, Bradley place, at a cost of $16,000. The company is also building three similar residences in Atlantic avenue, near Millvale avenue. This makes a total of about 20 houses that have been built since Bradley place was opened, a plot of which have been sold as soon as completed.

At the annual meeting of the Colonial Land Company held yesterday in the offices of Black & Baird, the following officers were elected: Col. Andrew M. Kennedy, president; Thomas J. Fry of Rochester, vice president; L. A. Robinson, secretary and treasurer; L. V. Brenneman and Charles D. Armstrong were chosen to succeed B. C. Taylor and G. A. Robinson as directors. It was voted not to develop the company's holdings of 425 acres at Colonia until a later date.

Linden avenue: The Union Realty Company sold for George Steele to Marian R. McNeil a lot 43x120 feet, on the west side of Linden avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $3,870.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a partial decline of 5 points under disappointing European cables, but was rallied later by a renewal of the demand recently noted which in this special instance was encouraged by smaller primary receipts and Brazilian cables predicting that the interior movement would soon fall off. There was also some switching from November to later months. The market closed steady, net 5 to 10 points higher. Sales were 61,250 bags, including November at 4.80@4.90c; December, 5.00@5.10c; January, 5.15c; March, 5.25@5.30c; May, 5.40@5.50c; July, 5.55@5.60c, and September, 5.60@5.70c.

Sugar—Raw firm, fair refining, 3⅞c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3¾c; molasses sugar, 3½c. Refined firm; crushed, 5.35c; powdered, $4.85c; granulated, 4.75c.

WINTER SUPPLY OF POTATOES ASSURED

Hothouse Cucumbers Are in the Market—Grape Quotations Variable—Flour Demand.

It seems to be an assured fact that there will be plenty of potatoes this winter, notwithstanding the fact that crops in some sections have not shown up as well as could be desired. Through Michigan and the northwest rot affected the tubers while in the ground, and the loss is said to have amounted to something more than 30 per cent, but the conditions in New York state are more favorable. While the yield is not so large as it has been in some former years, there is a very good crop in New York, and the quality is up to standard. Receipts in this market keep up well, and prices are just about holding their own, the heavy demand for winter storing not having commenced. Sweet potatoes come in fairly well, but demand is a little stronger than it was last week, and prices are a trifle firmer. Hothouse cucumbers have commenced to make their appearance, and are offering at $1.10 to $1.25 a dozen. All other vegetables are holding their own as to price, although demand is generally quiet and selling slow. Celery continues weak and hard to move.

Grapes are in good supply yesterday, and prices were variable. A wide range of quotations is necessary to cover all ideas as to proper selling figures, a few jobbers claiming to obtain higher prices than those quoted, while some sales were reported at the low notation. Peaches continue to arrive in moderate amount, and there is request for all the offerings, although stock is only of fair quality, and there is no eagerness shown by purchasers. Cantaloupes are about done, only an occasional lot offering. Damson plums are just about closing their season, and huckleberries are not coming in regularly enough to quote, though a stray lot is offered now and then.

No actual change was made yesterday in quotations for hay or feed, nominal prices remaining as they have been for several days. Receipts are sufficient for the demand, and there is less trouble in getting prompt shipment and delivery than for some time. Best timothy hay is but a small proportion of the total receipts, but there is no advance in prices, and top quotation is only realized for the finest stock. Oats are slowly advancing, corn is easy, and millfeed is holding at the decline of Thursday.

Wholesale grocers report an excellent demand for, of which buyers are taking freely. The Northwestern Miller reports a satisfactory state of affairs at Minneapolis, with the output of mills increasing. The most of the business done is in domestic markets, foreign millers' prices in this country too high to accord with their views and purchasing but sparingly. Reports from the winter wheat districts are of steady market, with demand perhaps not so strong as in the northwest.

Local coffee and sugar prices are unchanged, and there is an active demand for the former, with request for the latter gradually lessening. Navy beans are firm at quotations, and are being purchased actively. Canned goods are steady, but without special feature, and dried fruits are moving quietly.

There is nothing new in the butter situation, prices established on Monday being easily maintained, with the market in better condition than it was a week ago. Cheese is unchanged. Eggs are steady and demand is quiet, though there is a continuous outgo of desirable stock without change in prices, demand running close to supply.

WHEAT CLOSED AT GAIN OF ONE CENT IN CHICAGO

Corn and Oats, However, Yielded to an Adverse Market and Closed Lower.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The demand for December wheat was quite sharp, but offerings were limited and as a result the price of that delivery showed a good gain. Shorts were active buyers throughout the entire session and the demand from this source was responsible for much of the advance. Opening prices were steady on a private dispatch from Liverpool stating that Japan was buying wheat in India. Receipts were lower to-day, 160 cars, which, with local receipts of 104 cars, none of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 887 cars, against 715 cars last week and 874 cars a year ago.

Continued dullness in trade discouraged corn holders and there was heavy liquidation of long lines of commission houses also on the selling side. Cables were lower and had a weakening influence. There was also some throwing over of a line of 2,000,000 bushels by an outside holder was a feature of the trading. Receipts were 325 cars, with 42 of contract grade.

A feature in the trading in oats was the selling out through brokers of a big long line of May for a prominent operator and this selling was responsible for the weak tone which developed early in the day. Freer country offerings and a falling off in cash demand were assigned as reasons for the change of front of several prominent local traders. Local receipts were 127 cars.

Lower prices at the yards and increased stocks caused an easy tone in provisions at the opening and with only a small demand the market showed little inclination to advance. Packers were more disposed to support the market than of late. Shorter hogs were realized late in the day and January pork closed 12½c higher at $12 07½; January lard was up 2½c at $6 72½, while ribs were unchanged at $6 37½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 95 cars; corn, 300 cars; oats, 200 cars; hogs, 7,000 head.

MILLER GETS INTO CLOSE QUARTERS

Former Postoffice Attorney Has Difficulty Explaining Contradictory Statements.

ANSWERS NOT CONCLUSIVE

Unable to Satisfactorily Reconcile Statement Taken by Concealed Stenographer With Those Made at Preliminary Hearing.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.—In the trial of D. V. Miller and J. M. Johns for alleged conspiracy to extort a bribe, District Attorney Sherman McPherson today resumed the cross-examination of Johns. The witness was asked to explain copies of letters and telegrams. Miller had telegraphed that witness would receive a letter the next day. McPherson asked why Johns did not mail the decision enclosed in that letter to his client (Ryan) rather than arrange for meeting Ryan in Cincinnati. The witness stated that although he had written contracts with Ryan he wanted to see him to make sure of getting his money. He denied that payment was contingent on getting specific rulings.

Johns was again questioned as to what he had read on postal laws and his special qualifications for practice before the postoffice department where the Ryan case was the only one in which witness participated. Johns denied that Miller was the person who was expected to revise Ryan's literature or that friendship with Miller was witness' special qualification.

Francis Huebner, clerk in the office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, testified to taking part in the consideration of the Ryan case by Christiancy and Miller.

Advised Against Fraud Order.

Huebner testified that Christiancy thought it would be better to have Ryan & Co. revise their literature than to issue a fraud order and so instructed Miller, who prepared the questions to be propounded to Ryan & Co., and the next day brought in the draft of a letter to Christiancy with stipulations to be sent to Ryan & Co. The witness said it was agreed November 5 the Ryan case would be closed if the stipulations then submitted were observed.

D. V. Miller was the next witness. He recited a full story of his life up to the time when over a year ago he became second assistant attorney in the office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department. Witness worked on a farm and taught school previous to practicing law. He explained that he was not related to Mrs. Johns. He first knew Johns as a neighboring farm boy.

Miller testified to ordering Ryan's mail held up at St. Louis for violations of the postal laws after the Christiancy ruling had been mailed to Johns, and produced copies of these orders. He said he had mailed the ruling to Johns because the latter had so requested as Ryan's attorney, and thought it the same as sending those documents to Ryan. He denied receiving anything at any time from Johns that would influence his official action. He also denied any understanding with Ryan, Johns or any one else as to his official action.

Miller Closely Questioned.

Assistant Attorney Darby questioned Miller about previous interviews with Bristow, Robb, Cochran and others in Washington during the investigations. When he sent letters to Johns he addressed the envelope himself. This was the case with the decision in the Ryan case, although it was not customary for the assistant attorneys in the department to address their own envelopes. The stenographic notes taken by Watson when concealed in Bristow's office during the Robb-Cochran interview with the witness were again produced and the witness was closely questioned about his statements that he had sent the decision to Ryan and not to Johns, and many other statements differing from subsequent replies. Miller said the notes of Watson were not complete and did not give his response to Robb and Cochran in full.

When Miller was confronted with the stenographic reports of the interviews in the offices of Generals Bristow and Robb he said he did not know that Watson was concealed in a corner at the first interview. The witness undertook to explain all of the replies at both conferences. He insisted that the report of Watson was not complete, while he admitted all in the report made by Tullis, as he had gone over it after Tullis had written out his notes and signed the same.

"Jim" Telegram Not Cipher.

He never mentioned the Ryan matter or any other special case to Johns. He regarded his telegrams and letters to Johns as personal and not as official. He admitted telling Christiancy that there was nothing new in the supplemental report of the inspectors that was made in the Ryan case last December and fully agreed with Christiancy. He denied that the "Jim" telegram sent after that decision was mailed to Johns was a code telegram meaning a favorable decision and that Johns should go to Ryan promptly. Charles D. Rennick, clerk of the Parks circuit court in Rockville, Ind., testified to Miller being nicknamed "Jim."

In rebuttal the government introduced Daniel J. Foley, a cousin of John J. Ryan by marriage, and an employe of Ryan in Cincinnati. Foley testified to being present at the Gibson house during the settlement last December.

Assistant District Attorney Thomas H. Darby addressed the jury, insisting that conspiracy implied an understanding between Miller and Johns. This was not a matter to be judged by the previous good reputations of Miller and Johns or the bad reputation of Ryan.

Former Records Don't Count.

He insisted that whatever may have been the record of Ryan, he told the truth about the meetings with Johns in Terre Haute and Cincinnati; that Johns secured from Ryan $4,500 for a matter that had already been settled; that Johns would never have solicited postoffice cases or met Ryan but for his understanding with Miller, and that such understanding constituted a conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Leopold J. Stern, the Baltimore contractor recently indicted in connection with a postal contract, appeared in police court today. Judge Scott denied the request of Stern's counsel for an immediate hearing. Bond was fixed at $5,000 and Stern was committed to jail.

WANT MORE MONEY FOR BATTLESHIPS

Administration Will Ask Congress for $100,000,000 for Naval Program.

BIG SHIPS ARE NECESSARY

Division of Armor Plate Contracts Will Result in Establishment of Another Plant—Representative Dayton Returns from Abroad With Plans for the Navy.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.

At the forthcoming session congress will be asked to appropriate more than $100,000,000 for the navy, a sum far in excess of that asked for in any previous year. Last year the department asked for $79,000,000, but it has been agreed that the navy must be built up and in this the president, the secretary of the navy and the house committee on naval affairs are unanimous. In his speech at the unveiling of the Sherman statue on Thursday, President Roosevelt said: "You have no right to be proud of the achievements of the army and navy of the past unless you are ready to back up the army and the navy of the present."

In nearly all his public utterances lately he has made emphatic his views that the navy should be built up. Last congress authorized the building of five new battleships and it is probable that at least that number and possibly one or two more will be authorized by the 58th congress. What the house committee on naval affairs is striving for is the adoption of a program providing for the building of so many ships each year for a stated period.

Secretary Moody is no doubt looking ahead to an active naval shipbuilding since he is working to effect a division of the contract for armor plate which the government is about to award and thus give a portion to the Midvale Steel Company. This would insure the building of another armor plate plant in this country and enable the government to get its armor more quickly, to say nothing of the decrease in price that would naturally follow the competition of bidders.

Representative Dayton of West Virginia, who is the ranking member of the house committee on naval affairs, has just returned from a trip abroad and he comes back enthusiastically in favor of building 16,000-ton battleships. He thinks the 13,000-ton battleship is a mistake. Today he held a long conference with Assistant Secretary Darling concerning appropriations and improvements.

OLD POSTAL EMPLOYE CHARGED WITH THEFT

New York Superintendent of Foreign Branch Caught by Test Letters.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—After 25 years of service in the general postoffice of this city, Alexander Haff, the superintendent of the foreign branch, at Morton and West streets, was arrested today by Postoffice Inspectors Boyle and Meyer upon a charge of taking letters from the mails. When searched, it is said $8 in marked money, placed in test letters by the inspectors, was found on him. Haff waived examination and was sent to jail in default of $3,000 bail.

About seven months ago complaints began to come to the postal authorities from foreign countries that letters originally containing money had been received with the contents intact excepting the money enclosures. One day last week the inspectors noticed that Haff came down to his office before 8 o'clock in the morning, although the official time for reporting was not until 9 o'clock. Accordingly four test letters were placed in the outgoing Swedish mail. One disappeared. This morning a number were prepared and placed in the mail it was known Haff would handle. The inspectors found two of the letters, each containing $4, were missing. Haff, whose salary was $2,200 per year, was appointed to the service in December, 1874, as a clerk.

PRESIDENT ADVANCES AN ALASKA RAILROAD

Upon His Recommendation Official Red Tape is Cut Instead of Unwound.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—John E. Ballaine, chairman of the finance committee of the Alaskan Central railway, who has been before the departments for the last week on work connected with the construction of the road, has been successful in his efforts. The projected railroad will extend from Seward, on the southern coast of Alaska, north to the Tanana river, 420 miles, and will open when completed, all of central Alaska to daily communication throughout the year. It is being built at the rate of 125 miles per year.

President Roosevelt personally recommended to the heads of departments the expediting of the business Mr. Ballaine had with them owing to the public importance of the enterprise in the development of the resources of Alaska. The postoffice department established a postoffice at Seward, the ocean terminus, and appointed Lilie N. Gordon postmaster. The treasury department ordered immediate action taken looking to the designating of Seward as a sub-port of entry. The war department promised to include in its estimate for the extension of the government cable along the southern coast of Alaska an appropriation sufficient to make Seward one of the cable's objective points. The interior department gave final approval to the surveys of the road. The department of commerce and labor has requested the lighthouse board to provide a lighthouse at entrance to the Seward harbor.
